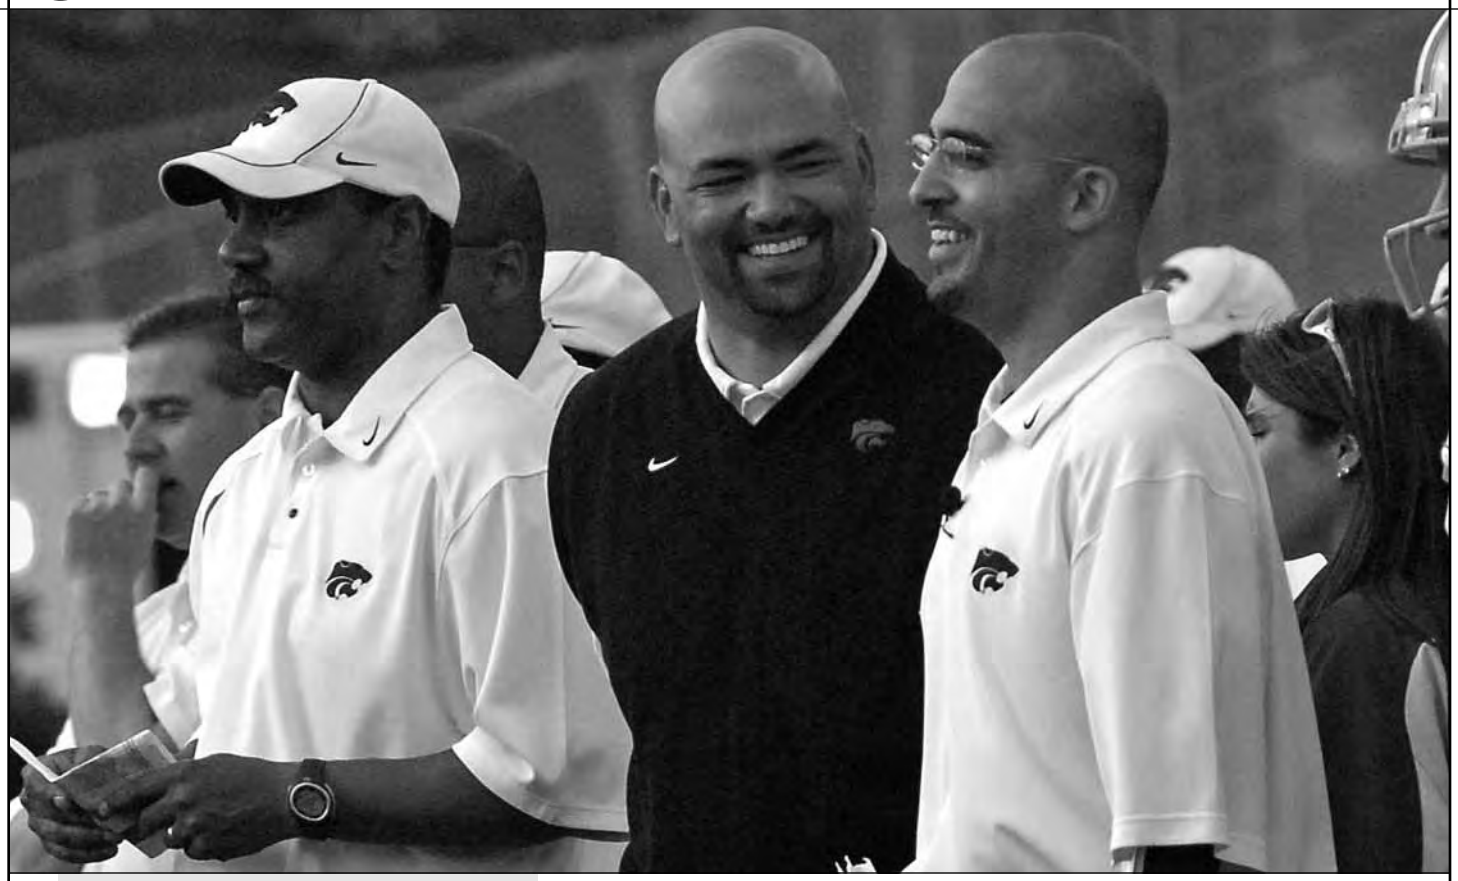
HEAD COACH RON PRINCE



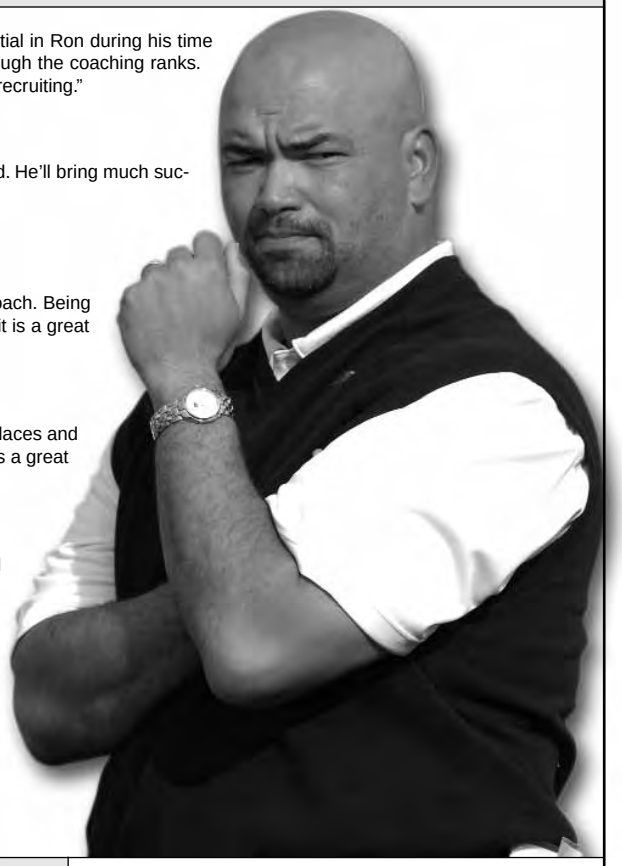
It didn't take first-year head coach Ron Prince long to capture the hearts and minds of the Kansas State faithful. And that in a nutshell is Ron Prince. One need not spend much time with the new leader of the Wildcat Nation to quickly develop a clear sense of who he is as both a man and a football coach.

Deeply driven and committed to excelling at the highest levels possible, Prince is also a devoted and principled family man who is guided by the traditional Midwestern values of hard work and dedication that were instilled in him long ago as a child growing up right here in the state of Kansas.

And as committed as Prince is to success on the gridiron, he is equally concerned about the development of each student-athlete as a total person, with the goal of equipping each individual with the necessary tools for success in athletics and life.

In addition to his contagious enthusiasm and values, Prince's coaching pedigree also makes him a great fit at K-State. He brings over 14 years of experience with him to his new post and has honed his craft at the knee of several coaching legends, including Dan Reeves, Tom Coughlin, Al Groh and Willie Jeffries. Prior to his arrival at K-State, Prince helped resurrect the football program at Virginia as the Cavaliers' offensive coordinator. During his tenure at UVa, Prince helped guide the Cavs to four straight bowl berths, while his offense set a dozen team and individual records in the last three years alone. He also tutored 17 All-ACC performers and coached nine offensive players that would go on to become NFL draft pics.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT RON PRINCE



"Ron is one of the up and coming coaches in college football today. We saw tremendous potential in Ron during his time with us in the NFL. Ron's tireless effort and perseverance has earned him swift promotion through the coaching ranks. His energy, personality, and understanding of people will give him a tremendous advantage in recruiting."

Tom Coughlin
Head Coach, New York Giants

"I think it's a great opportunity for Coach Prince to take this position. He's definitely well-qualified. He'll bring much success to the Kansas State program."

D'Brickashaw Ferguson
All-American Offensive Lineman at Virginia
2006 First Round NFL Draft Pick

"Ron has done an outstanding job at Virginia as its offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Being from nearby Junction City, he is familiar with the area, which will help him recruit locally. I think it is a great opportunity for him and I think he will do a great job."

Mark May
ESPN College Football Analyst

"I think Ron Prince is a great hire. He has been around so many great programs, coaches and places and this is a great natural progression for him. Here's a guy who is familiar with the state. I think he is a great fit for Kansas State University and Manhattan, Kan."

Mike Tirico
ESPN Commentator

"I think the world of Ron as both a football coach and an individual. He is a very creative football coach who works hard and truly cares about his players. The most impressive thing about Ron is the way he treats his players and how well the student-athletes respond to him. Kansas State has made an extremely wise choice for its next football coach."

Ron Franklin
ESPN Commentator

"Coach Prince is a really good man and a great football coach. He did a great job with our offensive line at Virginia and when he received the opportunity to be our coordinator he was an outstanding play caller. I know he will do a great job at Kansas State."

Matt Schaub
QB, Atlanta Falcons (former QB at Virginia)

17	During his tenure at Virginia, Ron Prince produced 17 All-Atlantic Coast Conference selections on the offensive side of the ball, including six offensive lineman
12	Virginia's offense set a total of 12 school records during Ron Prince's three-year stint as the Cavaliers' offensive coordinator during the 2003-05 seasons
9	While serving as the offensive coordinator at Virginia from 2003-05, Ron Prince coached nine offensive players that would go on to be selected in the NFL Draft
4	The Cavaliers qualified for four bowl berths during Ron Prince's five seasons at Virginia
3	Three of Ron Prince's offensive lineman have been selected in the NFL Draft in the last two seasons alone, including D'Brickashaw Ferguson, who was the fourth player selected overall in 2006
2	Virginia's offensive line led the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) in fewest sacks allowed during both the 2003 and 2004 seasons
1	During the 2004 season, Ron Prince's offense at Virginia led the ACC in rushing, total offense, first downs and third-down conversions

K-STATE COACHING STAFF

Head coach Ron Prince has constructed a young and aggressive staff that figures to be a force to be reckoned with for years to come. But despite its collective youth - the average age of K-State's assistants is just 38 - the staff possesses plenty of experience.

The staff includes a former head coach, two former NFL assistants, two former defensive coordinators and a pair of former assistant head coaches and combined possesses for over 146 years of coaching experience at virtually every level of the game.

The group has also seen its fair share of success at the Division I-A level, helping to guide programs to 31 postseason bowl berths.

The unbridled enthusiasm of the staff has also been witnessed on the recruiting trail, where it is quickly gaining a reputation as one of the nation's best in terms of assessing talent and character. Working at a break-neck pace, the staff scoured the country during the most recent signing period and in quick order landed a class of 28 student-athletes from 15 different states that ranked No. 1 in Division I-A among new coaching staffs by Rivals.com.

But it's not just the latest Wildcats that have benefitted from Kansas State's new coaching staff. K-State's fast-paced and high-energy workouts have helped current players quickly pick up new systems while honing fundamental skills that should pay big dividends down the road.

Chemistry and camaraderie have also been fostered by K-State's new coaching staff with the goal of quickly returning the Wildcats to a place among college football's elite programs.

WINNING TRADITION

With a resume that includes 11 postseason bowl games in the last 13 years and a six-year run of 11-win seasons, Kansas State's football program has developed a well deserved reputation as one of the best in all of college football.

Since the start of the 1993 season, few programs can match Kansas State's win total of 118 games - an eye-popping average of over nine victories per season - or its winning percentage of nearly 75 percent. In fact, K-State became just the second program in all of college football to win 11 games six times in a seven-year span from 1997-2003.

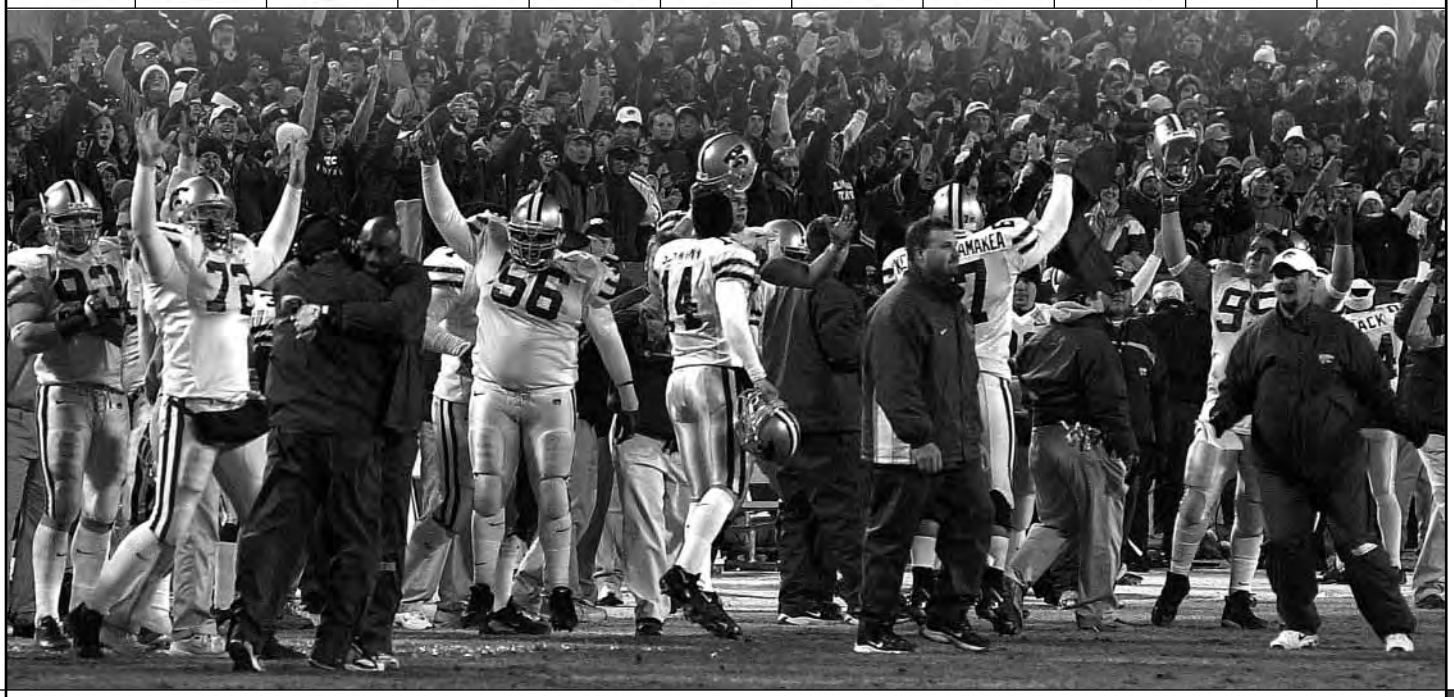
The Wildcats have also been a fixture on the bowl circuit. From 1992-2003, K-State was one of just eight programs in the nation to travel to a postseason bowl in all 11 years.

Kansas State's success in the Big 12 Conference - which formed in 1996 - also possesses few peers. The Wildcats have captured four Big 12 North Division titles and participated in three Big 12 Championship games - a figure that ranks among the top three in the league. K-State also claimed the 2003 Big 12 crown when it defeated No. 1 Oklahoma.

On an individual level, Kansas State has produced 63 all-conference performers (combined Big 8/12) and 43 All-Americans during its rise to prominence since 1993.

Kansas State has also had 39 players selected in the NFL Draft over the past 13 seasons - an average of three per year - and is currently in the midst of a streak that has seen at least one Wildcat drafted in 14 straight years.

11	Kansas State earned 11 straight bowl berths from 1993-2003 and was one of just eight teams in the country to play in a bowl during each of those seasons
6	Kansas State won 11 games every year from 1997-2003 and is one of just two programs in the nation to record six 11-win seasons in a seven-year stretch
4	Kansas State has won or shared four Big 12 Conference North Division titles
3	The Wildcats have appeared in three Big 12 Championship games, which ranks among the top three in the conference for most berths in the league's title game
1	Kansas State captured the 2003 Big 12 Conference Championship with a thrilling 35-7 victory over then No. 1-ranked Oklahoma



BOWL GAMES

Kansas State's recent bowl history is virtually unmatched in the ranks of college football. The Wildcats were one of just eight programs nationally to earn a postseason bowl berth every season from 1993-2003. And K-State just missed extending that run to 12 bowls in 13 years last season as the Wildcats came up just one victory short during a campaign that featured three heartbreaking losses by three points or less.

Since 1993, Kansas State has played in six different bowls in three different states, including Arizona (Copper, Fiesta, Insight), Texas (Cotton, Alamo) and California (Holiday).

Kansas State's fan support at bowl games is also unparalleled. K-State fans have a tradition of traveling far and wide to support their Wildcats.

"I can think of two things that have lived up to their billing," said Fiesta Bowl Executive Director John Junker. "They are Kansas State football fans and Michael Jordan. You can't sell either of them short and they both get it done."

Since 1993, K-State has averaged an announced attendance of more than 25,000 fans at each of its bowl games played in the Continental U.S. The Wildcats had an estimated 45,000 fans travel to Dallas for the 1997 Cotton Bowl - a figure nearly matched for the 2000 Cotton Bowl - while the largest crowd ever to cross state lines to watch a college football game went with the Wildcats to Tempe, Ariz., for the Wildcats' 1997 Fiesta Bowl victory over Syracuse. Wildcat fans were again out in force at the 2003 Fiesta Bowl as an estimated crowd of just under 40,000 K-State faithful travelled to Arizona.

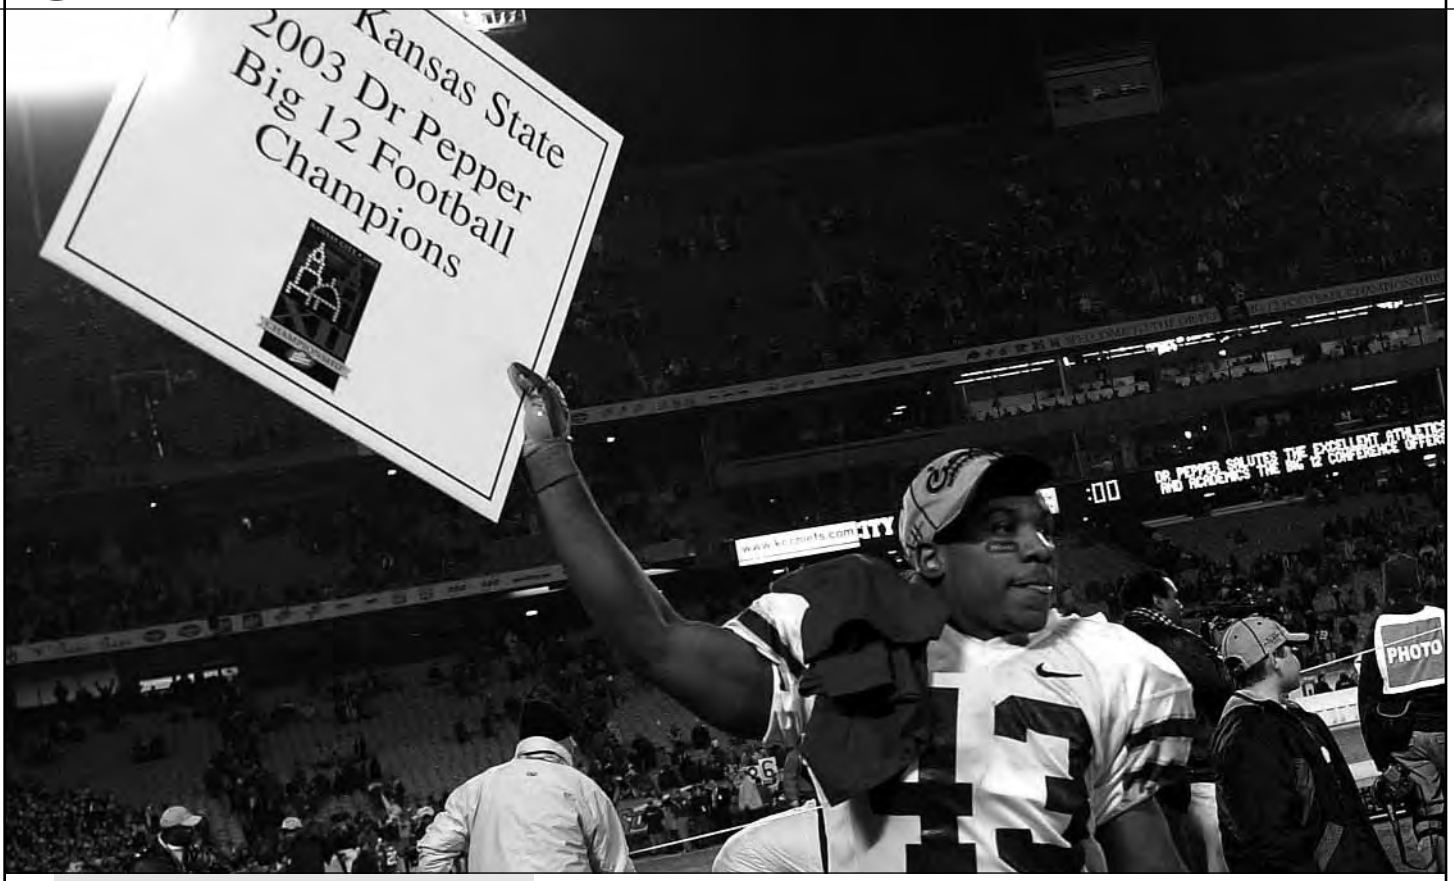
BIG TIME CONFERENCE



As the Big 12 Conference heads into its second decade, Kansas State continues to leave an indelible stamp on the league, which has developed a reputation as one of, if not the premier football conference in the nation. A conference title, multiple bowl games, All-Americans, and national award winners are just a few reasons why K-State is among the elite in the Big 12 Conference and in college football.

Since the league's formation, Kansas State has made three appearances in the league's championship game. That figure ranks third all time in the Big 12.

The Wildcats also rank fourth overall in Big 12 conference victories with 53. In league road games, Kansas State has totaled 23 wins. Only Texas has claimed more victories in enemy stadiums than the Wildcats.

On the postseason bowl circuit, Kansas State's eight bowl appearances since the league's formation also ranks among the Big 12 leaders, with only two programs claiming more bowl berths than the Wildcats.

Individually, Kansas State has been well represented among the conference's postseason award winners. Since 1996, 52 different Wildcats have received first, second or third-team all-conference recognition from either the league's coaches or the Associated Press. K-State has also produced three Defensive Players of the Year, Five Newcomers of the Year (four defense/one offense) and three Defensive Freshmen of the Year.

BIG 12 POINTS OF PRIDE

- Big 12 teams have won or tied for 18 national championships in various wire service and coaches' polls since 1939. The conference led the nation in championships in the 1990s with four and had six from 1990-2005.
- During 2003, three Big 12 teams, including Kansas State, became the first three teams from the same league to be ranked among the top five in the ESPN/USA TODAY Coaches' Poll.
- Current Big 12 members have appeared in 290 bowl games (including post-2005) and had 141 victories from 1922-2005 postseasons. The post-2005 bowls mark the 68th consecutive year in which current Big 12 members have appeared in at least one postseason encounter. A record eight Big 12 teams played in postseason games after the 2001-03 and 2005 seasons. From 1996-05 a total of 76 Big 12 teams have played in bowls and won 37 bowls during that span.
- Conference members qualified 80 teams for postseason play from the 1995-2005 seasons (76 of these played in bowls). Big 12 schools also had a nation-leading total of 31 appearances in the then-Top 15 final BCS standings (expanded to 25 in 2003) from 1998-05.
- Over the last 20 seasons (1986-05) eight different Big 12 teams have won or tied for their respective conference championships. No team repeated as Big 12 football champion over the first seven seasons (1996-02).
- South Division champions have captured the conference crown in every even-numbered year-Texas (1996), Texas A&M (1998), Oklahoma (2000, 2002 and 2004). North Division winners own each odd-numbered year Big 12 title with Nebraska (1997 and 1999), Colorado (2001) and Kansas State (2003), with the exception of Texas (2005).

GAMEDAY EXCITEMENT

On Saturdays in Kansas during the fall, the entire state's attention turns to Manhattan, where the Little Apple becomes the center of the universe for Wildcat fans. Whether they are tailgating in the parking lot or gathering in Aggieville for the march to Bill Snyder Family Stadium, Kansas State fans have just one thing on their minds, and that's helping the Wildcats secure a victory. Which is why there is no better atmosphere in college football than the one that exists inside Bill Snyder Family Stadium on game day.

K-State fans, draped from head to toe in purple, arrive early, stay late and in between make Wagner Field one of the college football's most intimidating environments. Kansas State's student section, over 9,000 strong, stands the entire game, while the 'Pride of Wildcat Land' marching band belts out traditional foot-stompers like "The Wabash Cannonball" and Willie the Wildcat whips the stadium into a fevered pitch with his rousing K-S-U WILDCATS! cheer.

Once the game begins, K-State fans enthusiastically celebrate each first down and score, finishing the public address announcer's catchy "Good for a Wildcat FIRST DOWN" and "TOUCHDOWN" for him and adding the appropriate arm motions.

It's a special environment in a wonderful setting. It's Bill Snyder Family Stadium on game day. And there's nothing on the planet quite like it.

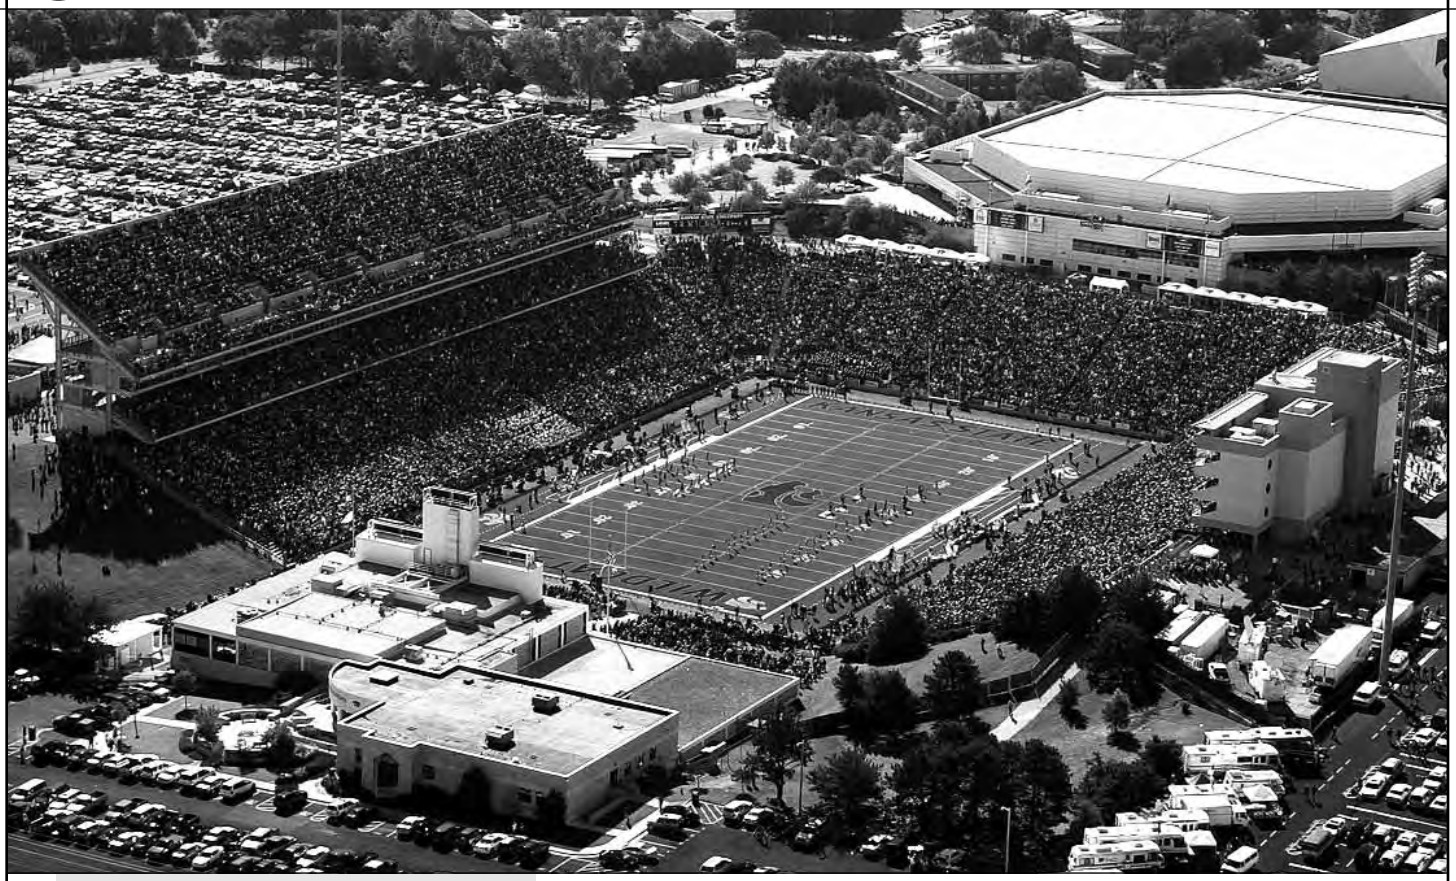
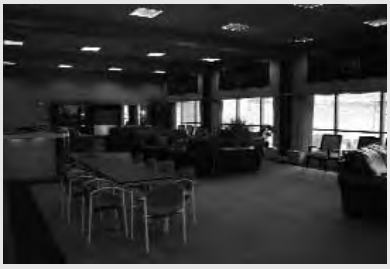
K-STATE FOOTBALL FACILITIES





The commitment to the Kansas State football program starts at the top with President Dr. Jon Wefald. He attends practices frequently and addresses the team following workouts. In addition, Dr. Wefald is on a first-name basis with the entire football team. K-State may be the only school in the nation where recruits meet the president and dine in his or her home.

So its no surprise that Wildcat football is consistently treated to the best the University has to offer when it comes to facilities.

The Vanier Sports Complex, an all-in-one facility that houses the K-State football program, is in the midst of a complete $7.5 million overhaul that is slated to be completed in time for the 2006 season.

These renovations come on the heels of a more than $13 million stadium expansion that included 31 new luxury sky suites on the east side of Bill Snyder Family Stadium in 1999. The expansion raised the number of sky suites at the stadium to 57, included the addition of 2,000 club seats and a new upper deck seating area the pushed the capacity of the facility over 50,000.

In addition to Bill Snyder Family Stadium, Kansas State's practice facilities include a 94,000 square foot indoor practice facility that is believed to be the largest in the national and three regulation-sized grass practice fields.

INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

Kansas State's Indoor Practice Facility is one of the largest in the nation and boasts 94,000 square feet (133.3 yards long and 76.6 yards wide) of practice space that is believed to be the largest in the nation. This spring the facility outfitted with a new $850,000 state-of-the-art FieldTurf system to match the playing surface in Bill Snyder Family Stadium.

VANIER SPORTS COMPLEX

Kansas State's commitment to excellence is never more evident than when one views the current renovations taking place at the Vanier Sports Complex first-hand. Among the impressive improvements: a newly-renovated 13,000 square foot weight room and athletic training facility, a state-of-the-art hydrotherapy center, new and expanded player's locker room, lounge area and game room, an upgraded equipment distribution center, technologically advanced meeting rooms with the latest in video equipment, and new office and meeting space for the coaching staff.

The final piece of the project will be a reconfiguration of the north end zone seating area, resulting in tiered bench seating with a capacity for about 1,900 patrons and a sweeping runway leading from the Wildcats' locker room to the playing field.

K-State is also completing installation of new video boards at the north and south ends of Bill Snyder Family Stadium at a cost of $1.7 million, with the south end of the stadium receiving a fully integrated ProStar VideoPlus display that measures a whopping 23 feet by 61 feet.

When fully completed, the total cost for upgrades to the Vanier Complex and Bill Snyder Family Stadium will total over $7.5 million in just the past three years.

POWERCAT STRENGTH

Kansas State's Powercat strength and conditioning program is designed to "build better athletes," not to develop powerlifters, Olympic weightlifters, or body-builders. Powercat strength and conditioning trains the Wildcats to play the game!

Obviously, when most people think of strength coaches, they think of weightlifting. And Kansas State's newly-renovated strength complex boasts two weight rooms, over 12,000 square feet of floor space, 35,000 lbs. of weights, plus platforms, racks, benches, and machines. So weight training is a big part of the program. But Powercat strength and conditioning does not coach weightlifters, it trains athletes.

In the sport of weightlifting, it's all about how much weight you lift - the person who lifts the most weight wins. In strength and conditioning, it's all about being prepared to win on game day. That's what they do - prepare the Wildcats to win!

Speed development, agility, flexibility, coordination, endurance, and nutrition are some of the areas that fall under the umbrella of strength and conditioning.

Under the guidance of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach Rod Cole and Associate Head Strength and Conditioning Coach Mark Oberkrom, Kansas State strives to develop the total athlete through a total body program. K-State employs nutrition counters in all strength facilities to "fuel the athletes" and equip them to meet the demands of training.

Recent renovations to the Powercat strength facility and sports medicine areas give Kansas State football over 13,000 square feet of strength and conditioning/sports medicine work space in the Vanier Football Complex. Kansas State is blessed to have the type of first-rate facility that allows its student-athletes to develop to their fullest potential and become champions. K-State’s Powercat strength and conditioning program is managed by Master Strength and Conditioning Coach Rod Cole.

WILDCATS IN THE NFL

Kansas State Wildcats have become a regular part of the annual NFL Draft in recent years. In fact, K-State has had at least one player drafted in each of the last 14 seasons.

Since the formation of the Big 12 in 1996, 30 different Wildcats have heard their names called on draft day, ranking Kansas State among the Big 12 leaders in number of players taken in the NFL Draft.

Under the direction of new head coach Ron Prince that number is expected to climb. Prince coached nine offensive players who went on to be selected by NFL teams during the 2004, 2005 and 2006 drafts alone.

The Wildcats, who will feature pro-style schemes on both sides of the ball under Prince, can also lay claim to NFL ties through both of their coordinators - James Franklin coached with the Green Bay Packers, while Raheem Morris coached with the Tampa Bay Buccanneers.

In addition to the intensive instruction Kansas State players receive from the coaching staff and the top-caliber competition the Wildcats face week-in, week-out in the Big 12 Conference, K-State regularly hosts NFL scouts at its games and practices.

Kansas State also hosts a spring NFL scout day, which each year brings a large number of NFL representatives - including scouts, coaches and general managers - to the K-State campus.

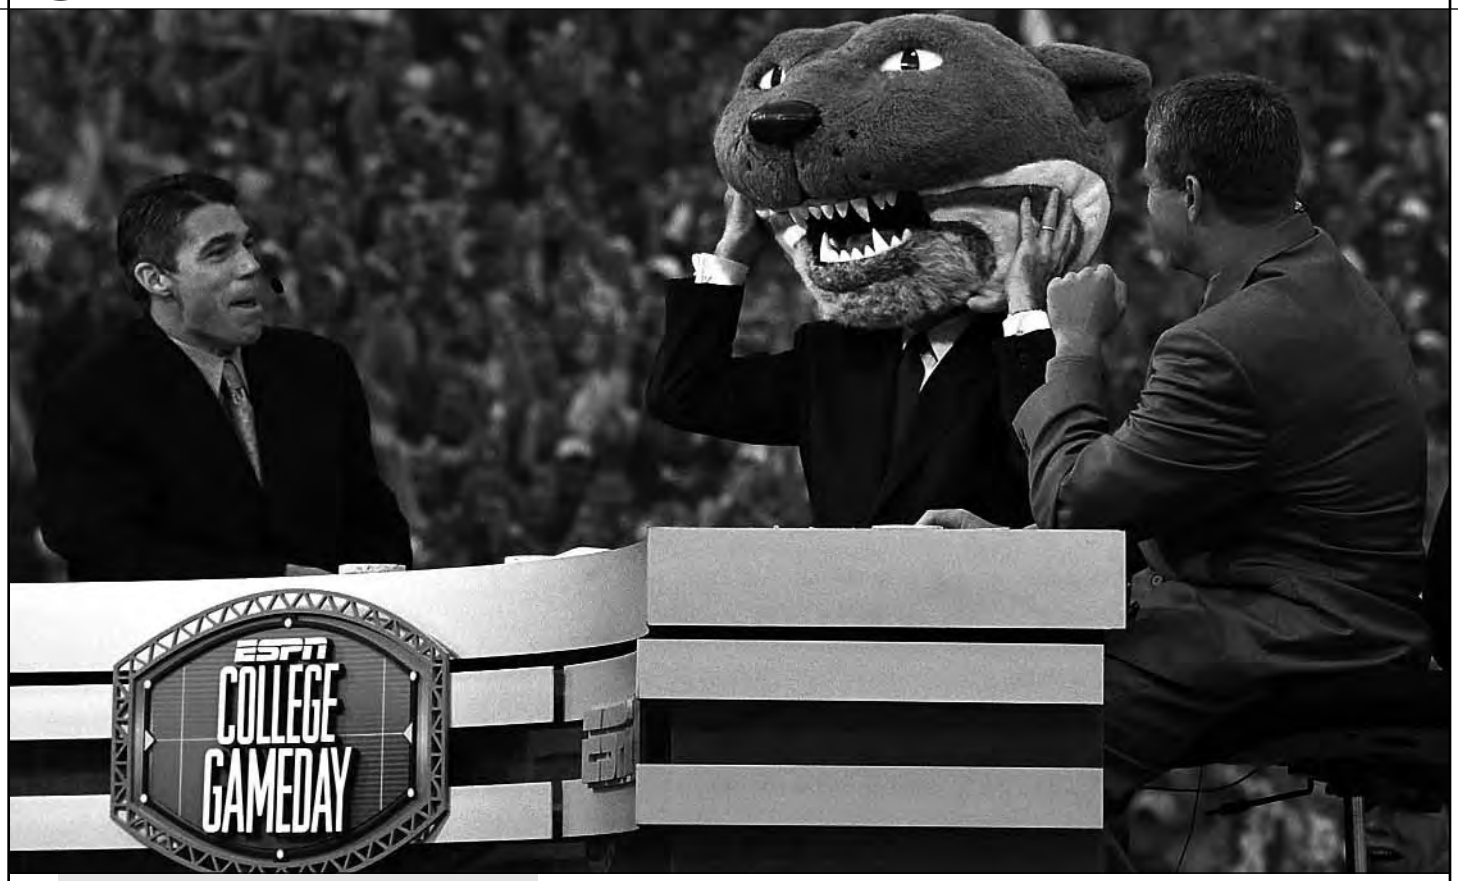
MEDIA EXPOSURE



Kansas State's winning tradition consistently keeps the Wildcats in the national spotlight. The Wildcats are among the most frequently-covered programs in the nation and easily the largest media draw in the state of Kansas. As a result K-State football has become a household name on the college football landscape, with the program's Powercat logo becoming a universally-recognized symbol for excellence in college football.

Each fall, Kansas State hosts writers and broadcasters from across the country as the nation's most recognized media outlets descend on The Little Apple.

K-State also sits at the crossroads of Kansas, nearly an equal distance from the big-city metropolis of Kansas City and the state's largest population center, Wichita. Kansas State is also just an hour drive from the state capitol of Topeka. As a result, the Wildcats regularly have a regional media following that rivals any program in the Big 12.

The Wildcats also maintain a consistent presence on television. Since 1990, Kansas State has made 88 television appearances. And in the last decade that number has continued to grow. During the past 10 seasons, over 70 percent of K-State games have been televised either nationally or regionally, making the Wildcats one of the most visable programs in the entire country.

Sunflower State talent has been a big part of Kansas State's emergence on the college football scene. No fewer than 15 Kansans have received all-conference honors from either the league's coaches or the Associated Press since 1990, with five of those earning All-America recognition.

Included in that group are a pair of Big 12 Defensive Players of the Year in linebacker Mark Simoneau and defensive back Terence Newman, and two Academic All-Americans in defensive back Jon McGraw and offensive lineman Ryan Lilja, a Thorpe Award winner (Newman), a Butkus Award semifinalist (Simoneau) and a Groza Award runner-up (Jamie Rheem).

Several of those players have gone on to promising NFL careers and are currently on NFL rosters, including Monty Beisel (New England Patriots), Lilja (Indianapolis Colts), McGraw (Detroit Lions), Newman (Dallas Cowboys), Simoneau (Philadelphia Eagles), Darren Sproles (San Diego Chargers) and Rashad Washington (New York Jets).

Currently, there are 45 players from the state of Kansas on the Wildcats' roster, including senior defensive lineman Blake Seiler, who has gone from walk-on, to starter, to one of K-State's four team captains for the 2006 season.

Kansas State's new head coach, Ron Prince, is also a Sunflower State product. Prince was raised in nearby Junction City, before attending junior college in Dodge City.

JUNIOR COLLEGE SUCCESS STORIES

DARNELL McDONALD

RYAN LILJA

JAMES McGILL

CEDRICK WILLIAMS

There is perhaps no program in the country that has done a better job of developing junior college talent than Kansas State. And with some of the nation's best junior college football played right in its own backyard, it's easy to see why K-State has been able to identify and cultivate the best of the best.

Since the mid 1990s, Kansas State has seen 17 of its former junior college players earn All-Big 12 accolades, with seven of those going on to be selected All-American.

The Wildcats have also produced five Big 12 Newcomers of the Year from the junior college ranks, while a total of 24 of its former junior college players have gone on to play on some level on the professional level.

Among the conference newcomer-of-the-year selections, four were on the defensive side of the ball as Kansas State produced the league's top newcomer in 4-of-5 seasons from 1997 through 2001.

On offense, quarterback Michael Bishop was named the Big 12's Offensive Newcomer of the Year in 1997, before going on to win the Davey O'Brien Award (nation's most oustanding quarterback) and finish as the Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1998.

Other prominent offensive players have come from the receiving ranks, with four former junior college players posting over 1,000 receiving yards since 1998, including James Terry's single-season school record of 1,232 yards in 2003.

24 IN THE PROS

Since 1993, Kansas State has sent 24 former junior college players on to the pros (NFL, NFL Europe, CFL, Arena League) after their playing days at Kansas State, including 19 who in the NFL

LEGENDARY HEAD COACH BILL SNYDER

Bill Snyder, the man who not only lifted a downtrodden football program from the depths of oblivion to the pinnacle of the college football world but also restored and lifted the pride of an entire university, retired after a magical 17-year run that cemented his place in history along side the all-time coaching greats of the game.

Snyder announced his retirement as Kansas State 32nd head football coach on Nov. 15, 2005. Four days later, he coached the Wildcats to victory one final time as K-State pulled out a dramatic 36-28 come-from-behind win over Missouri in the 2005 season finale.

Some labeled Snyder a "miracle worker" for the job he did in producing "the greatest turnaround in the history of college football". And a quick glance at the numbers are staggering, especially when you consider what he inherited when he arrived in 1988.

1988

Bill Snyder is introduced as Kansas State's 32nd head football coach on Nov. 30, 1988. He inherits a Wildcat program in the midst of a 27-game winless streak but is about to usher in the greatest turnaround in the history of college football.

1991

In just his third year at the helm, Snyder guides K-State to a stunning 7-4 record. It is the Wildcats' first winning season since 1982 and the first time K-State has notched seven wins in a season in 37 years.

1993

Snyder leads K-State to a thrilling 9-2-1 finish and its first bowl victory. The Wildcats also close out the year ranked No. 20, marking the school's first ever top-25 finish. K-State's nine wins are its most since 1910.

1995

Holiday Bowl champion Kansas State finishes the year 10-2 and ties the 1910 team for the most wins in school history. The Wildcats also make their first ever appearance in the Associated Press top 10 and wrap up the year ranked No. 7.

Many had called Kansas State the worst program in college football, with Sports Illustrated referring to K-State as "Futility U." And the Wildcats were doing little to prove them wrong.

K-State won just 24 percent of its games - going 137-455-18 - between Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf's 1934 Big Six championship team and Snyder's inaugural campaign. In fact, the Wildcats had just suffered through their second consecutive winless season when he was introduced as K-State's head coach.

But that was all about to change and change in short order as Snyder quickly went about remaking the culture of the program and with it a University.

What unfolded was an era of gridiron prosperity that many never dreamed they would witness. A total of 136 victories, 11 bowl berths, four Big 12 North Division titles and an unforgettable Big 12 Conference championship ensued over the next 17 years.

When it was all said and done, Snyder stepped down as the seventh-winningest active coach in the country. But it was the speed with which he transformed the program that took the college football world by storm.

In just his third year on the job, Snyder guided the 1991 Wildcats to a 7-4 record to give K-State just its second winning season since 1970. For his efforts, Snyder was named ESPN's National Coach of the Year.

Just two seasons later, Snyder would guide Kansas State to a 9-2-1 record and a berth in the 1993 Copper Bowl, marking just the second bowl appearance ever by the Wildcats. K-State finished the year ranked No. 20 in the nation for the program's first-ever top-25 finish.

The trip to Tucson was the first of 11-straight postseason appearances for Snyder's Wildcats, who quickly became a fixture on the Big 8/12 bowl circuit.

Along the way, Kansas State would become just the second team in the history of college football to win 11 games in six of seven seasons from 1997 and 2003. In fact, K-State never won fewer than nine games from 1993-2000.

The final 11-win campaign in 2003 brought more firsts for Kansas State as Snyder guided the Wildcats to an unforgettable upset of No. 1 Oklahoma in the 2003 Big 12 Championship game. The victory not only gave Snyder his long-awaited Big 12 title but also the program's first BCS bowl berth.

In total, Snyder guided Kansas State to 11 winning seasons as the Wildcats recorded the eighth-most wins in all of Division I-A from 1993-2004.

In addition to the team accomplishments, Snyder's players were also some of the most decorated in the country. During his career, he produced three national award winners, 45 All-America selections and 68 first team all-conference honorees.

Snyder also mentored 43 NFL draft picks during his career, including nine first- and second-round picks.

His players also etched their names in the Kansas State record book, setting 56 of the program's 68 individual single-season records and 60 of the 68 individual career marks during his tenure at K-State.

The rebuilding effort and subsequent success engineered at Kansas State by Snyder clearly stands as one of the most amazing in all of college football. As a result, he was recognized seven times as a conference Coach of the Year and three times as a National Coach of the Year. He was also named a finalist for ESPN's College Coach of the Decade for the 1990s.

But for all the success he enjoyed on the field, Snyder may be best remembered by those who knew him best for his values, sincerity and warmth along with the concern he showed for the people around him. Few will ever doubt his ability to win and win big at a place where previously there had been only distant dreams of success. Fewer still, however, will forget that he engineered that success with the utmost in humility and a generous dose of class.

Kansas State wins 11 games for the first time in school history and finishes the season with a victory over Syracuse in the Fiesta Bowl. K-State's 11 wins mark the beginning of a historic run that would see the Cats win 11 games in 6-of-7 years.

1998

Snyder guides the Wildcats to the first of four Big 12 North Division titles. Kansas State also achieves its first ever No. 1 national ranking and holds on to the top spot in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll for four weeks in November.

2003

Kansas State caps its fourth Big 12 North Division title with a 35-7 victory over No. 1 Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship game. It is the Wildcats' first win over a top-ranked team and earns K-State a berth in its first BCS bowl game.

2005

Snyder announces his retirement as head coach on Nov. 15, 2005. He coaches the Wildcats to one final victory in the season finale. The architect of the the greatest turnaround in the history of college football steps down with 136 victories to his credit.

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

It's a vibrant time at Kansas State University. The most easily recognizable part of this new period of growth and improvement comes in the form of enrollment figures. More than 23,000 students enrolled at Kansas State during the fall 2005. That's a stunning accomplishment for President Jon Wefald and his staff, who have spearheaded a huge enrollment increase since their arrival in 1986.

Since Dr. Wefald's arrival, enrollment has increased from roughly 16,000 to more than 23,000. K-State has also built a healthy endowment program and established a national presence in athletics. With Wefald at the helm, K-State's total research funding increased to record numbers. The university returns nearly $17 for every $1 of state funding it receives.

In addition, K-State has added over 2.0 million square feet of new university buildings, including a new library, a new art museum, and a nationally acclaimed plant science building. Construction is also nearly complete on K-State's $53.4 million Biosecurity Research Institute, which will make the University a national leader in the fight against bio terrorism.

Academic achievement at the institution is drawing national acclaim as well. K-State leads the nation's public universities in the total number of Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Goldwater and Udall scholarship winners. K-State students have won more Truman scholarships, more Goldwater scholarships and more Phi Kappa Phi Fellowships than any other public university in the nation.

"The Kansas State University administration and the Wildcat football program work together as a team to provide the student body, fans and alumni with the highest quality educational and athletics experience possible.

"Just as K-State is the No. 1 public university in producing Rhodes, Marshall, Truman and Goldwater scholarship winners in the past decade, the K-State football team has established itself as one of the nation's pre-eminent programs year in and year out.

"All of us at K-State are proud of the excellence provided both in the classroom and on the playing field by the students and student-athletes at K-State."

Dr. Jon Wefald
Kansas State University President

Founded on February 16, 1863, Kansas State is the oldest public institution of higher education in Kansas and one of the nation's first land-grant universities.

Throughout its history, K-State's mission has been rooted in the principles set forth in the Morrill Act-to provide teaching, research and service to the citizens of Kansas, the nation and the world.

The university's 668-acre wooded campus with historic sandstone buildings is located in Manhattan (pop. 47,916). It's a pleasant community nestled in the scenic Flint Hills, 125 miles west of Kansas City.

The College of Technology and Aviation, housed on the Salina campus, offers bachelor's and associate degrees in avation and engineering technologies.

Commuter air service in and out of Manhattan Regional Airport connects the city with major airports all over the Midwest. Five miles north of campus lies Tuttle Creek Reservoir, a favorite outlet of students for boating, water skiing, swimming and fishing.

K-State has gained a nationwide reputation for producing prestigious scholarship winners. Only Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Stanford, Duke and Brown had more.

With such a reputation for excellence, it's no surprise that K-State's enrollment has surged to an all-time high of more than 23,000 students. Every county in the state, every state in the nation and numerous countries around the world are represented by students attending K-State.

Over 200 course programs are offered in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Business Administration, Agriculture, Education, Architecture and Design, Human Ecology, Technology and Aviation and Veterinary Medicine. Six of the nine colleges at Kansas State University are the most comprehensive in the state, and the College of Business Administration ranks in the top 15 percent nationally.

K-State is 47th on Intel's "Most Unwired College Campuses" survey that ranks the top 100 U.S. schools for wireless computing access. Wireless computing networks allow students to use notebook PCs to access the Internet from residence halls, the student union, the library, and outdoors, all without being tied to a wired-in-the-wall connection.

ACADEMIC RECOGNITION

- K-State is in the top 4 percent of schools in the nation for research activity. According to the latest rankings of America's colleges and universities by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, K-State now ranks in the top tier of the three subcategories for the 278 doctorate-granting institutions evaluated in the Carnegie Foundation's study.
- K-State is listed among the nation's top colleges in Princeton Review's "America's Best Value Colleges. " Based on data The Princeton Review obtained from administrators at 646 colleges and surveys it conducted of students attending them, the new 2007 edition recommends 150 colleges offering excellent academics, generous financial aid packages and relatively low costs.
- K-State is among the top 94 of all public and private colleges and universities in the nation. According to the latest classification of universities and colleges by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, K-State now ranks in the top tier in the category "research universities." The classification means K-State is now among the top 4 percent of institutions of higher education in the United States.
- More than $120 million in student financial assistance is available, including $6 million in scholarships. Seven out of 10 students receive student financial assistance.
- K-State graduates face a promising future. According to the university's Post-Graduation Bachelor Degree Statistics, more than 90 percent of recent graduates surveyed are employed or are continuing their education.
- K-State is committed to individualized education whenever possible. For example, freshman English classes have no more than 22 students, introductory chemistry labs average 18 students, introductory art classes average 23 students and speech classes are limited to 23 students. Eighty percent of classes have 40 students or less, and the average class size for all undergraduate classes is 23 students.
- Seven colleges are the most comprehensive in the state. These include the Colleges of Engineering; Education; Human Ecology; Agriculture; Planning and Design; Veterinary Medicine; and Technology and Aviation. The College of Arts and Sciences, the largest college, serves as the "heart and soul" of the university.

KANSAS STATE CAMPUS

The Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art opened its doors to the public in 1996. The museum features local and well-known art from around the world and hosts both K-State's permanent collection as well as international exhibitions.

Kansas State's beautiful campus is nestled in the Flint Hills of northeast Kansas. Located in the classic college town of Manhattan, K-State is just two hours by car from Kansas City and Wichita and less than an hour from Topeka.

Kansas State's main campus in Manhattan covers 664 acres of picturesque real estate. K-State also boasts more than 23,000 students from all 50 states and more than 90 countries around the world.

Van Zile Hall is typical of the "collegiate Gothic" architecture style of the Kansas State campus. It is one of 10 on-campus residential housing choices. Annually, nearly 4,000 K-State students opt to live on campus.

Kansas State's renown Hale Library, a designated depository for government publications since 1907, was expanded and completely renovated in 1997. K-State football supports the library by donating a portion of its spring game gate receipts.

UNIVERSITY HISTORY

Kansas State University was founded Feb. 16, 1863, under provisions of the Morrill Act which established land grant colleges. It was initially located on the grounds of the old Bluemont Central College, which was chartered in 1858. The university moved to its present site in 1875. Historians disagree over whether K-State or Michigan State was the first land-grant college in the nation.

The 668-acre main campus is in northern Manhattan and is convenient to both business and residential districts. It is located 125 miles west of Kansas City via Interstate 70 in the rolling Flint Hills of northeast Kansas.

Under an enactment of the 1991 Kansas Legislature, the Salina campus was established through a merger of the former Kansas College of Technology with the university.

Additional university sites include 18,000 acres in the four branch locations of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Hays, Garden City, Colby and Parsons, and 8,600 acres in the Konza Prairie Research Natural Area jointly operated by the AES and the Division of Biology.

K-State accomplishments have far-reaching effects. Most NASA space shuttle flights carry K-State experiments aboard. Astronaut space gloves and the water-purifying system used on the NASA space shuttles were developed here. K-State is at the forefront of a national atomic physics research program that could mean nuclear power without nuclear waste. K-State is also home to a national Center for Basic Cancer Research and has been at the forefront in the fight against bio terrorism.

The university hosts the prestigious Landon Lectures on Public Issues, honoring the late Kansas statesman Alfred M. Landon. Since 1966 the series has featured more than 120 nationally prominent speakers. Past speakers include Presidents Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Richard Nixon, Ronald Reagan and, most recently, George W. Bush.

One of six universities governed by the Kansas Board of Regents, Kansas State University continues to fulfill its historic educational mission in teaching, research and public service.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Winning in the classroom is every bit as important as winning on the gridiron at Kansas State. Since 1989, the Wildcat football program has produced eight Academic All-Americans, eight Hitachi/College Football Association First Team National Scholar-Athletes, four National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 87 first team Academic All-Big 8/12 selections. Furthermore, over the last 17 years, Kansas State has had a 70 percent graduation rate among players who finish their eligibility at K-State.

As a university, K-State has gained a nationwide reputation for producing prestigious scholarship winners. Only Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Stanford, Duke and Brown have more. Among public institutions, K-State ranks No. 1 in the nation.

With such a reputation for excellence, it's no surprise that Kansas State's enrollment has surged to an all-time high of over 23,000 students. Every county in the state of Kansas, every state in the nation and over 90 countries from around the world are represented by students attending K-State.

Over 200 majors are offered in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Business Administration, Agriculture, Education, Architecture and Design, Human Ecology, Technology and Aviation and Veterinary Medicine.

K-STATE ON THE SCHOLARSHIP CHARTS

- Kansas State University is the only public university since 1986 to rank among the top 10 of all U.S. schools for all five of these major scholarship programs: Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Goldwater and Udall.
- K-State ranks first nationally among all 500 state universities in Truman and Goldwater and fifth in Udall scholarship competition since each foundation began awarding scholarships. K-State ranks second in Rhodes and third in Marshall since 1986.
- K-State ranks fourth nationally in Goldwater, fifth in Truman and seventh in Udall competition among all of the 2,000 four-year colleges and universities in America - 500 public; 1,500 private.
- The Truman Foundation recognized K-State in 1996 as a Truman Scholarship Honor Institution, the first time the Foundation singled out universities for their achievements in Truman competition. Only 17 schools were chosen from the 454 colleges and universities which have produced Truman scholars.

Offensive tackle Jeromey Clary, a December 2005 graduate and 2006 NFL Draft pick, was a three-time first-team Academic All-Big 12 selection as well as a 2005 CoSIDA Academic All-District pick.

Quarterback Allan Evridge was one of nine Wildcats to earn Academic All-Big 12 distinction during the 2005 season. Since 2000, K-State student-athletes have been named to the Academic All-Big 12 teams 57 times.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

At Kansas State, being a champion is more than winning trophies on the field or on the court. It is about being a champion in the classroom, and most importantly, becoming a champion in life.

K-State's program of Student Services for Intercollegiate Athletics assists, directs, supports and promotes student development, academic achievement, academic athletic eligibility, and progress toward graduation.

This national recognized unit is committed to assisting student athletes achieve those goals, through services and programs designed to facilitate the student's academic commitment, performance, and responsibility.

K-State's student services unit is operated by a professional, dedicated and caring counseling staff that is driven to helping each student-athlete achieve his or her academic goals.

The unit assists student-athletes through its new student orientation program, offers academic counseling and academic skills traing, assists with developing class schedules and graduation timelines, tracks academic progress, and provides tutoring and mentoring services. The unit has also developed a superior academic facility for student-athletes - the Academic Learning Center - that rates as one of the finest in the nation.

SECOND WIND PROGRAM

Kansas State University is committed to helping all of its student-athletes complete there bachelor's degree programs.

Through the unique and groundbreaking Second Wind Program, former K-State student-athletes who have gone on to purse professional football or other career opportunities prior to graduation are provided with a comprehensive plan for completing their K-State bachelor's degrees.

This flexible plan is custom tailored to the needs of each individual student-athlete and allows former players to return to the Kansas State campus to complete their degree tracts or in many instances remain in their home communities to earn their K-State degrees through local accredited institutions or by distance education.

Through the Second Wind Program, athletics academic counselors and academic advisors from each college help guide former student-athlete through the process of degree completion to develop a custom graduation timeline. The program also provides information on re-admission, financial aid and even local housing options for those that choose to return to Manhattan.

Football student-athletes who have successfully completed their K-State degree's through the Second Wind Program include:

- JJ Smith
- Eric Gallon
- Mario Smith
- Justin Swift
- CJ Masters
- Nyle Wiren
- Jeff Kelly
- Dyshod Carter

KANSAS STATE STUDENT-ATHLETE SERVICES

Educational Support Services

- Academic counseling
- Career planning
- Study skills instruction
- Tutoring both on campus and at the Academic Learning Center
- Computer lab and resources

A model academic program for incoming students

- Student-athlete and academic counselors work in conjunction with the Dean's office and academic advisors to provide first-year student-athlete with the best academic course load and academic support services possible.
- Scheduled study times with trained professionals are held during the day throughout the week in addition to the nightly study tables staffed with academic tutors.

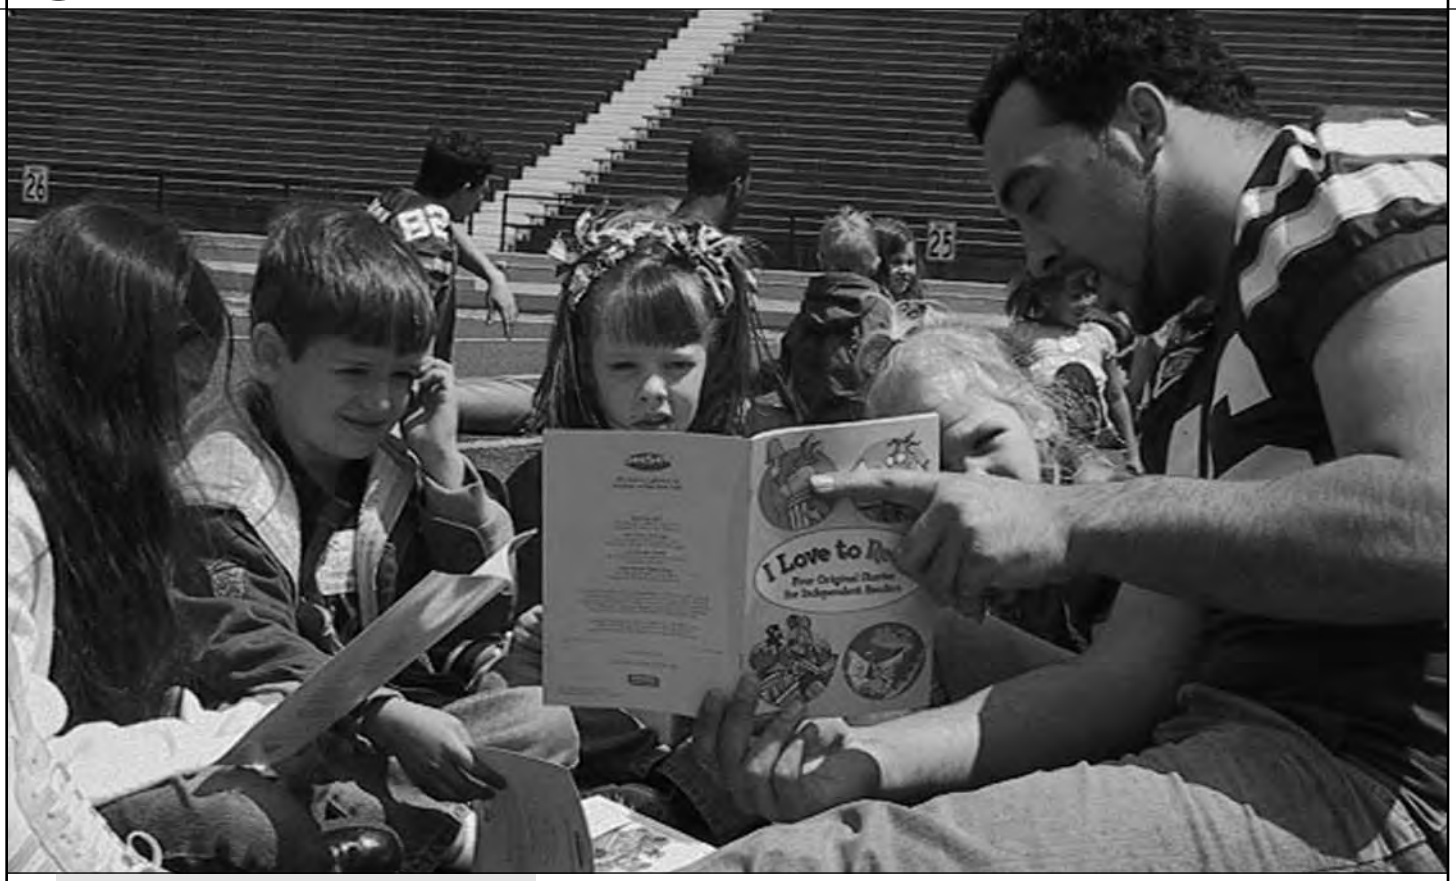
College Transition Success Seminar

- Class offered to incoming K-State football players during the first semester on campus that focuses on skills needed for success in the college classroom as well as social and career development. Areas of emphasis include: Time management; Study skills; Reading/writing communications skills; Goal setting; and Career selection.

Monitoring and Mentoring Programs

- Maintain close supervision and provide assistance to those student-athletes who have struggled at any point in their academic careers.
- Professors and academic support personnel are assigned to student-athletes and assist with class selection, test preparation, note-taking skills and time management.

CATS IN THE COMMUNITY



COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECTS

- Read-2-Achieve: Players visit local elementary schools to promote literacy and read to children
- VIP Program: Mentoring program for at-risk middle and high school students
- Kats for Kids: Appearances at area schools, stressing the "Stay in School" and "Just Say No to Drugs" messages
- Jr. Wildcats: K-State football hosts an afternoon of autographs and fun for young Wildcat fans
- Cats for Cans: Can food drive which collects donations of food and money to benefit the Flint Hills Breadbasket and Mayor's Holiday Tree Food Drive to benefit underprivileged families in the Manhattan area
- Special Olympics Bowl-A-Thon: Raises money for Special Olympics Bowl-A-Thon, which not only raises money for Special Olympics while providing Special Olympians an opportunity to meet and bowl with Wildcat players
- Senior Cats: K-State players visit area retirement homes and senior centers to visit with residents
- Adopt-A-Family: Groups of student-athletes band together to adopt an underprivileged family for Christmas, securing donations of gifts and food for the entire family and making Christmas "happen" for a family that otherwise might not have one

A lot more goes into being a student-athlete at Kansas State than just working out and going to class. K-State players are also encouraged to get involved in their community and annually participate in a number of service projects throughout the region.

The goal of these programs is not only to enhance the student-athlete experience, but also to expand character and provide leadership opportunities. By getting involved, K-State players gain a strong sense of self-worth while experiencing the personal satisfaction that comes from volunteering.

Individually and collectively, the K-State football players serve a number of different programs, many of which focus on the Manhattan region's youth population. From the Read-2-Achieve program to Kats for Kids and Jr. Wildcats, K-State football players are a consistent presence in the lives of the region's youth.

K-State players also take part in the annual Special Olympics Bowl-A-Thon, ban with other K-State student-athletes to fight hunger through Cats for Cans, and make a difference in the lives of the region's older population through Senior Cats, a program that is devoted to visiting the area's retirement homes and senior centers.

And for those student-athletes that take advantage of these service opportunities, they come to find that they get as much or more out of the experience as those they are serving.

Quarterbacks Josh Freeman (below top) and Allan Evridge (below bottom) were two of the many student-athletes from the K-State football program that participated with the Read-2-Achieve program at local elementary schools.

INVOLVED IN OUR COMMUNITY

HIRE-A-WILDCAT PROGRAM

Kansas State and the Athletics Department take great pride in their involvement and the Manhattan community's support of the "Hire-A-Wildcat" program. The program puts K-State student-athletes to work with a variety of local businesses, usually during the summer months. One of the most recent Hire-A-Wildcat participants was place-kicker Jeff Snodgrass (above), who served an internship with Kansas State Bank.

MANHATTAN: THE LITTLE APPLE

An estimated crowd of 15,000 revelers attended Manhattan's most recent Little Apple New Year's Eve ball-drop in Aggieville. The event was even featured nationally on Fox News Channel throughout the network's New Year's Eve coverage.

Manhattan
The Little Apple

A student-athlete's life involves more than academics and athletics. Like most college students, student-athletes need to relax and have a good time, and Manhattan is the place to do just that.

Manhattan is a progressive community of 47,916 people located in a region which includes a total population of nearly 80,000.

A two-hour drive or half-hour commuter flight from Kansas City, Manhattan reflects the joys and opportunities of big-city living while retaining a friendly, open atmosphere.

Manhattan has many appealing places to shop, eat and socialize. An award-winning shopping mall is located in the heart of the downtown region, and Aggieville - a district of shops and restaurants just beyond the southern border of campus - continues to be particularly popular with students.

There are several beautiful parks and walkways throughout the city, while picturesque Tuttle Creek Reservoir sits just five miles from campus for seasonal swimming, water skiing and boating. Additionally, the 13,500-seat Bramlage Coliseum, which recently received a $2 million renovation, has become a favorite stop for major concerts throughout the year.

Around the holidays, Manhattan bustles with activity and last year approximately 15,000 revelers took to the streets of Aggieville to celebrate the Little Apple at the annual New Year's Eve ball drop that transforms the town into a mini Times Square celebration.

K-State's prestigious Landon Lecture series has featured such notable speakers as President George W. Bush, former President of Poland Lech Walesa and Mikhail Gorbachev, the former General Secretary of the Soviet Union, in the last year alone. Media personalities Brian Williams, Ted Turner and Jim Lehrer have also participated in the last 18 months.

PLENTY TO DO AND SEE

- SHOP 'TIL YOU DROP: Traditional to innovative, endless shopping opportunities exist in The Little Apple, including historic Aggieville, the award-winning Manhattan Town Center or beautiful downtown
- PLAY A ROUND: The Manhattan area boasts four golf courses, including K-State's PGA licensed facility, Colbert Hills
- HIKING AND BIKING: The Flint Hills are home to miles of picturesque hiking and biking trails like those in the 8,600-acre Konza Prairie tallgrass preserve
- HUNTING AND FISHING: Manhattan has over 108,000 acres of public hunting land, while some of the best fishing in the Midwest can be found at nearby Tuttle Creek and Milford Lakes
- GET OFF-ROAD: There are several "Off-Roading" areas specifically for motorcycles and ATVs around Manhattan
- RODEO DRIVE: The Kaw Valley Rodeo and Riley County Fair take place during the last week of July
- GO WILD: A great place to get in touch with the animal in you, Manhattan's Sunset Zoo is a great place to spend the day
- GET AN EAR-FULL: K-State's Landon Lecture Series annually brings world-famous speakers to campus
- SEE IT LIVE: From Country Stampede to the Little Apple Jazz Festival to performances at McCain Auditorium, Manhattan hosts plenty of art and entertainment options

RING OF HONOR

On August, 31, 2002, Kansas State inducted the inaugural class of the Football Ring of Honor into Bill Snyder Family Stadium. The class was formally presented at a banquet and ceremonies in Bramlage Coliseum on Friday, August 30, 2002. At halftime of the game on August 31, the group of six were given plaques and watched as the permanent display of their names were unveiled on the facing of the East side of the stadium.

The Ring of Honor is designed to recognize those in the football program who have distinguished themselves on and off the field. Among the criteria considered is graduation from Kansas State with a student-athlete having been out of school for at least five years, quality of character, whether the person is an excellent representative of K-State and achievement of consensus All-America status.

SEASON PREVIEW

SEASON PREVIEW

KANSAS STATE EMBARKS ON A NEW JOURNEY AS THE

RON PRINCE ERA BEGINS

With a whirlwind spring now fading in the rear-view mirror and preseason training camp fast approaching on the horizon, new Kansas State football coach Ron Prince enters his inaugural campaign with the Wildcats determined to lead K-State back to a place of prominence in the Big 12's North Division.

Named Kansas State's 33rd head football coach on Dec. 5, Prince has been nothing short of masterful in carrying forward the torch passed to him by the program's living legend, Bill Snyder.

A relative unknown local product from nearby Junction City, Kan., when tapped to take the controls of the K-State football program, the intervening six months have seen the 36-year-old Prince achieve almost rock-star status among the Wildcat Nation as he skillfully put his own stamp on the program while simultaneously embracing Snyder's "Miracle in Manhattan" legacy.

And it's not only Kansas State's notoriously rabid fan base that has bought into Prince's vision for Wildcat football. The infectious optimism imparted by Prince and his high-energy staff have breathed new life into K-State's players, who will now appear totally committed to reversing last year's string of close losses that kept them out of the postseason bowl picture for the second straight season.

It all began in early December, when Prince hit the ground running by assembling an aggressive, success-driven staff the quickly blazed the nation's recruiting trails and delivered what most recruiting services consider to be the best recruiting class of any of the nation's new staffs.

A visionary incentive-laden off-season conditioning program that demanded new levels of accountability followed as Prince and his staff began to prepare the organization for its first on-the-field workouts of the spring.

With 42 returning lettermen, including 20 starters, back on campus, K-State's experience paid huge dividends as the Wildcats quickly absorbed Prince's new systems in a competition-filled, 15-practice spring camp that culminated in a hard-fought Purple-White spring game before a school-record crowd of nearly 32,000 fans.

"I was very pleased with what took place during the spring," said Prince. "We did a good job of installing our systems and putting ourselves in a position to be successful. Right now, I don't see any reason to place limitations on what this team can accomplish."

Prince has often stated that the mission of the organization will be to "consistently compete for championships." And according to the Wildcats' new leader, that process began to take shape during spring drills. In addition to installing new systems on both sides of the ball, the Kansas State coaching staff also spent a considerable amount of time sharpening fundamentals and honing game-management skills.

Now, on the eve of training camp, the task at hand will be to blend that returning experience with a collection of talented newcomers - many of whom appear to have immediate impact potential - into a cohesive unit.

"We came out of the spring right on schedule and from an organizational standpoint, I though we got a lot done," Prince said. "The challenge that lies ahead will be to take the general aspects of our systems that we now have in place and narrow the focus down to what we really want to accomplish during training camp and throughout the season. If we can do that then I like our possibilities, because I think we are uniquely positioned to do something special."

Kansas State's quest to accomplish something special in 2006 will be bolstered by a schedule that will have the Wildcats play eight of their 12 games in the friendly confines of Bill Snyder Family Stadium, where K-State has fashioned a stunning 88-16-1 (.843) record since 1990. The Wildcats will also leave the Sunflower state just three times during the season.

This advantageous schedule, coupled with the bevy of experience K-State returns on both sides of the ball and the infectious new energy level that now permeates the program could signal a quick re-emergence by the Wildcats in what should once again be a wide-open Big 12 North Division race.

Whatever the outcome, it should be an interesting journey as Kansas State embarks on the Ron Prince era of Wildcat football.

OFFENSE

With Prince, the former offensive coordinator at Virginia, now at the controls of the program and former Green Bay wide receivers coach James Franklin calling the shot as offensive coordinator, Kansas State's offense figures to be quite different in both form and function in 2006.

After relying heavily on the quarterback run game for the past decade or more, Prince unveiled a vanilla version of his pro-style offensive attack during the spring that seemed to mesh seamlessly with K-State's current personnel.

Adding to the optimism is the fact that the Wildcats return nine starters from a youthful offense that averaged a respectable 26.3 points per game during 2005 to rank virtually smack dab in the middle of the Big 12.

In fact, the Wildcats ranked seventh in the Big 12 in three different offensive categories last season - rushing (134.0), total offense (339.7) and scoring. With plenty of experience back in the fold for 2006, K-State figures to possess as much offensive upside as any team in the league.

K-State returns plenty of talent at the skill positions and the coaching staff will have plenty of options at quarterback, running back and wide receiver. The challenges appear to be on the offensive line - the head coaches' specialty. If Prince can cobble together a five-man offensive line that can hold its own at the line of scrimmage, the potential exists for this unit to be explosive.

QUARTERBACK

With no fewer than four legitimate quarterbacks in the mix for starting duties, including three who have each started at least six games during their careers, Kansas State figures to possess one of the deepest and most experienced units in the country.

Senior Dylan Meier, who passed for nearly 1,500 yards in six starts as a sophomore during an injury-plagued 2004 campaign before missing all of 2005, impressed the Wildcat coaching staff with his poise, guts and anticipation during the spring and figures to be in the hunt to regain his starting job.

In addition to Meier, K-State returns two other quarterbacks with starting experience in sophomore Allan Evridge and senior Allen Webb. Both are expected to be in the middle of the race.

Evridge opened six games at quarterback for the Wildcats during 2005 and ended the year as the most prolific freshman passer in school history (1,365 yards/6 touchdowns). Webb, who has gained nearly 2,000 yards of total offense over the past two seasons, started five games in both 2004 and 2005 and possesses the most experience on the team.

The X-factor is 6-foot-6 true freshman Josh Freeman, who just may possess the most upside in the group. Freeman enrolled at K-State in January on the heels of a record-setting prep career that made him one of the most coveted signal callers in the country and quickly began turning heads. He appears to have made a smooth transition to the collegiate level and could very well end up on the Wildcats' depth chart before it's all said and done.

Any of the four could emerge as the starter, however experience and K-State's new pro-style offense could just give Meier the inside edge. Still, many believe Freeman has the best arm and overall athleticism in the group and, if he matures rapidly enough in the system, possesses a legitimate chance to emerge from training camp as the front-runner.

RUNNING BACK

With each of its top four running backs returning for the 2006 season, competition in the Kansas State offensive backfield should be running at a fever pitch throughout camp.

Thomas Clayton, an eight-game starter during 2005, is back for his senior season after pacing the Wildcats on the ground last season with 637 yards, including three 100-yard rushing games. He finished the year ranked eighth in the Big 12 in rushing, averaging 70.8 yards per game, and scored five touchdowns.

Pushing Clayton will be sophomore Parrish Fisher and sixth-year senior Carlos Alsup. Fisher, K-State's No. 2 rusher a year ago, displayed flashes of brilliance during his freshman campaign, setting the school single-game freshman rushing record with 169 yards on 21 carries vs. North Texas. Alsup, who appeared in all 11 games, proved to be a solid change-of-pace runner and led the Wildcats on the ground vs. Colorado.

Solid senior Donnie Anders, who had a huge spring game, is also back in the fold for 2006 and could challenge for playing time.

The competition level at running back should take another leap forward during preseason camp when junior college All-American James Johnson and a pair of talented freshmen in Leon Patton and Jamal Shulters arrive on campus.

Providing depth at running back will be senior Terry Petrie, who also had a solid spring, defensive back turned running back John McCardle and freshman Courtney Greer.

WIDE RECEIVER

Kansas State's prospects at the wide receiver position are as bright as any on the team. Junior Jordy Nelson, who emerged as one of the Big 12's best after making a smooth transition from the secondary prior to last season, and seniors Jermaine Moreira and Yamon Figurs give the Wildcats a trio of proven starters that just might be as good as any in the league.

Nelson, a second team All-Big 12 pick by the Kansas City Star, led the Wildcats in receptions (45), receiving yards (669) and receiving touchdowns (8), while also pacing K-State in scoring with 54 points (9 TDs). He also ranked tied for third in the Big 12 in touchdown catches (8), while finishing seventh in receiving yards per game (60.8) and 11th in receptions per game (4.1), despite playing in an offense that attempted the league's fewest passes (318).

Moreira, who paced the squad in receptions during 2004 and finished second on the team in catches with 35 for 485 yards last season, should once again be a reliable target as will Figurs, who has been the team leader in yards per catch during each of the last two campaigns and is regarded as one of the Big 12's top deep threats.

Junior Toney Coleman served as a capable reserve during 2005 and could push for more playing time, while freshmen Antonio Brown, Val Taylor and Andrew Richards, and junior Daniel Gonzalez will be out to make their marks and earn a spot on the depth chart after redshirting last season.

Speedy sophomore-transfer Cedric Wilson, who originally signed with K-State in 2004, arrives on campus this summer and could also figure in the mix.

SEASON PREVIEW

TIGHT END

The tight end position, a staple of Prince's new offense, has been an enigma for the past two seasons. But with returning starter Rashaad Norwood, primary back-up Brett Alstatt and emerging freshman Nate Prater back on board things could be looking up at this position.

Norwood, the Wildcats' primary tight end last year as a sophomore, had one of the most productive off-seasons on the team and could be poised for a break-out campaign after hauling in 13 receptions for 160 yards in 2005.

Alstatt, who also proved to be a standout on special teams, saw most of his snaps in two-tight formations and continues to improve as both a blocker and a receiver.

Providing a bit of intrigue to the competition will be Prater, who redshirted a year ago. At 6-foot-4 and 265 pounds, he possesses the biggest frame of the group, but needs to show continued progress in order to be a factor.

Junior college transfer Michael Pooschke and true freshman Jeron Mastrud will finally give the Wildcats some depth at this spot and joined the program over the summer. Both also possess the tools to make an immediate impact, especially Pooschke, who earned second team NJCAA All-America honors in 2005 at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Kansas State's young offensive line went through its fair share of growing pains last season. The unit was also bitten hard by the injury bug, losing four potential starters for multiple games, including two that missed the entire season. As a result, the line suffered through several bouts of inconsistent play as it struggled to define itself.

Those tough times, however, could yield big dividends in 2006 as the Wildcats return a battle tested unit that now appears ready to take some big strides forward.

In all, K-State returns a total of four starters up front, while bringing back two others that started no fewer than three games each.

Headlining the list is versatile senior Greg Wafford, who was named K-State's co-Most Valuable Lineman by the coaching staff last season after starting all 11 games at right tackle. The Wildcats also return an 11-game starter in junior left guard John Hafferty as well as sophomore center Jordan Bedore and sophomore right guard Caleb Handy, who started eight games each.

But despite the large number of returning starters, few, if any, of the spots appear to be certain locks entering fall camp.

Matt Boss is coming off a very productive but injury-shortened redshirt freshman campaign after making three starts. The same can be said for junior Jacob Voegeli, who opened the season as the Cats' starter at center before going down in the third game of the season.

Both should battle for a spot on the depth chart along with sophomore tackles Brad Rooker and Gerard Spexarth, who each saw limited playing time a year ago but possess solid upsides.

Redshirt freshmen Derek Meyer, who had a great spring, could very well end up as the starter at one tackle. Nick Stringer and Brock Unruh will also take a shot at contributing in 2006 as will as highly-touted freshmen Kenneth Mayfield and Patrick Turner.

DEFENSE

Kansas State's defense also appears set to undergo schematic changes in 2006 as defensive coordinator Raheem Morris assumes responsibility for the unit.

He inherits an experienced group of eight returning starters that fought through an up-and-down campaign in 2005 but could be poised to turn the corner with continued improvement.

Overall, Kansas State yielded an average of 27.7 points per game last season, however that number was particularly skewed by a pair of tough road outings during which the Wildcats gave up nearly a third of their 305 points. The unit was also hampered by a number of tough short-field assignments, with roughly 30 percent of its opponents' points resulting from drives of 40 yards or less.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The overall productivity of any defense usually begins and ends up front in the trenches and Kansas State will certainly be looking to develop more consistency from this unit.

The Wildcats return three starters along the defensive line, including both tackles. And with that experience comes plenty of potential.

Senior Quintin Echols and sophomore Alphonso Moran, a pair of stout run-stuffers, are back to man the middle, along with senior Blake Seiler, who transition from end to tackle during the spring.

Echols started all 11 games a year ago and led all defensive linemen with 45 tackles, while Moran is coming off a solid rookie campaign that saw him start eight games and pick up freshman All-America honors from The Sporting News.

Seiler also started all 11 games and will look to continue his development at a new position after a steady junior campaign.

Junior Steven Cline made a strong push for playing time during the later stages of last season and will also be in the mix in the middle. He will be joined by stout sophomore Brandon Balkcom, a transfer from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, sophomore end turned tackle Vlad Faustin and a trio of hard-charging freshmen in Zach Kendall, Gabriel Crews and Trevor Viers, who could also see time at end.

The Wildcats will possess plenty of speed on the edge with sturdy sophomore Ian Campbell and freshman Eric Childs set to compete for more playing time. Both had outstanding springs and appear to be ready to challenge for leading rolls.

Junior college transfer Moses Manu, who enrolled at K-State in January and really come on strong toward the latter stages of spring workouts, possesses a tremendous upside and is expected to challenge for playing time right away as well.

Junior Clayton Cox and former fullback Rimmon McNeese provide the coaching staff with nice depth and may also push for spots on the Wildcats' depth chart.

More help arrived prior to camp with the addition of two-time first team All-Jayhawk selection Rob Jackson from Fort Scott Community College.

LINEBACKER

With both starting outside linebackers back plus a solid reserve in the middle who finished the season fourth on the team in tackles, Kansas State's prospects at linebacker appear to be bright.

Senior Brandon Archer, a two-time second team All-Big 12 pick by the Kansas City Star, has led the Wildcats in tackles during each of the last two seasons from his outside spot and could be destined for even greater things in 2006.

On the other side, the Wildcats bring back fleet-footed playmaker Maurice Mack, who made a seamless transition from the secondary last season as a junior to start all 11 games. He finished the year with 53 tackles, the third most on the squad.

However, Mack will have his hands full holding off a challenge from sophomore Reggie Walker. The only true freshman to earn playing time a year ago, Walker collected 16 tackles, including 4.5 behind the line of scrimmage, and has the Wildcat coaching staff excited about the possibilities he presents.

In the middle, athletic senior Zach Diles appears to be the front-runner to replace the departed Ted Sims. Diles collected 50 stops last season and ranked fourth on the team in tackles, despite not starting a single game.

Juniors Greg Gaskins and Marcus Perry along with redshirt freshmen Ross Diehl and MacKenzie Rosel all possess plenty of potential and will also be looking to challenge for spots on the depth chart during camp.

Three talented newcomers joined the mix just prior to camp, including junior college standout Justin Roland from Northeast Oklahoma A&M and freshmen John Houlik and Dayvon McGee.

SECONDARY

Plenty of experience returns in the Wildcat secondary as well with three starters back from 2005.

Junior free safety Marcus Watts possesses all-league potential and headlines the list after making a solid transition from wide receiver to defensive back a year ago.

He ended the 2005 season as K-State's No. 2 tackler and finished the year as an honorable mention all-league pick by both the coaches and The Associated Press. Watts was also selected as the Wildcats' Most Valuable Player on both defense and special teams by the coaching staff.

Steady cornerbacks Bryan Baldwin and Byron Garvin, both juniors, return to the K-State lineup as well. Baldwin started all 11 games last season and proved to be K-State's top cover corner down the stretch, while Garvin started the first seven games of the season and showed flashes of brilliance against both the pass and the run.

Senior Kyle Williams, a three-game starter at strong safety last season, should also vie for plenty of playing time as will junior cornerback Justin McKinney, who led the Wildcats in interceptions last season and also made three starts.

Sophomore Devin Anderson, a mid-year transfer from Northeast Oklahoma A&M could also get a long look in the secondary and will be a front-runner to earn playing time in K-State's nickel packages.

Redshirt freshmen safeties Kevin Hollis and Courtney Herndon continue to mature and will also look to earn spots on the depth chart.

Seven newcomers added to the competition and depth prior to camp. Ray Cheatham, one of the top junior college corners in the country last season, will present a stiff challenge for the incumbents, while transfers Courtney Edmond and Antwon Moore, are also expected to be serious contenders for immediate playing time at safety.

A quartet of talented freshman, including Joshua Moore, Chris Carney, Otis Johnson and Tony Purvis, will also be out to make their marks.

SPECIALISTS

Kansas State appears to be in good shape on special teams and returns all three of its primary specialists as well as each of its top two kickoff and punt return men.

Strong-legged senior Jeff Snodgrass is the front-runner to once again hold down the Wildcats' place-kicking duties after handling virtually all of K-State's kickoffs and field goal attempts last season. He finished 2005 second on the team in points with 51 and was good on 10 of his 16 attempts, including a pair of 50-yarders.

He will be pushed by junior Tim Schwerdt and sophomore Jared Parker. Schwerdt came on strong at the end of last season and even started the finale vs. Missouri.

In the punt game, junior Tim Reyer will look to shake off an inconsistent sophomore campaign during which he averaged 40.3 yards per punt. As a freshman, Reyer was one of the nation's top performers, averaging nearly 43 yards per boot.

He will be pushed by senior Jesse Martinez, who will concentrate solely on his punting after coming to K-State as a combo receiver/punter.

Senior Jeff Mortimer is also back for 2006 and is expected handle all of K-State's long-snapping duties for the second straight season.

In the return game, Moreira and Figurs gave the Wildcats a potent one-two combination on both punt and kickoff returns last season, with Moreira returning a punt for a touchdown and Figurs taking a kickoff to the house.

The duo will likely compete to serve in those roles once again, however several others could also get in the mix.

SCHEDULE

An exciting and challenging eight-game home slate highlights a 12-game schedule for 2006 that will see the Wildcats leave the state of Kansas just three times during the season.

Home dates with Marshall and Louisville give K-State a good shot at a pair of early-season television appearances and serve as the centerpieces of a four-game non-conference slate that starts on Sept. 2 with Illinois State.

In Big 12 play, the Wildcats finish the home portion of their schedule with defending national champion Texas. Oklahoma State also visits out of the Big 12's South Division, while Nebraska and Iowa State make trips to Manhattan from the North.

The Wildcats' road games include include trips to Baylor, Missouri and Colorado, in addition to the season finale at Kansas.

Head Coach
RON PRINCE

COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH RON PRINCE

Kansas State made a bold, decisive move when it handed the reins of its football program to a rising star who grew up in the shadows of the University.

Ron Prince was introduced as the Wildcats' 33rd head football coach on Dec. 5, 2005, and has eagerly accepted the challenge of leading a program that the legendary Bill Snyder had guided to greatness.

When Ron Prince stepped to the podium after being introduced as Kansas State's 33rd head football coach on Dec. 5, 2005, it didn't take long for the native Kansan to reveal a long-held affinity for both the University and its football program.

"I've been preparing for this opportunity my whole life," were among the very first words uttered by Prince as the Wildcats' new head coach. You see for Prince, serving as K-State's head football coach is truly a dream come true.

Raised in Junction City, Kan., which is located just 20 miles west of Manhattan, Prince literally grew up in the shadow of Kansas State University. And as far back as he can remember, at least to the age of three or four according to his best recollections, he has dreamt of one day leading the Wildcats.

"I was one of those kids you all saw running around KSU Stadium and Ahearn Field House," Prince recalls. "This University has always been a part of me."

With that dream realized, Prince wasted little time in his new role and hit the ground running during his first 60 days on the job, implementing his visionary strategy for Wildcat football like a new-breed CEO.

Working at a break-neck pace, Prince quickly put together a young, aggressive staff that figures to be a force to be reckoned with for years to come, signed one of the nation's best recruiting classes and skillfully reintegrating himself into a community that has for so long been an integral influence on his life.

He also hit the media circuit with grace and aplomb, and embarked on a statewide barnstorming and public speaking tour that brought new energy to the Wildcat fan base.

The next 90 days saw Prince finally get on the field with the Wildcats. Spring practice proved to be a time of teaching, as Prince and his staff deftly went about the task of installing K-State's new offensive and defensive systems during 15 spring workouts that culminated in a record crowd of just under 32,000 in attendance at the annual Purple and White spring game.

Now, on the eve of the 2006 season, Prince looks to carry the momentum generated during his flawlessly-executed offeseason campaign into his inaugural season with the Wildcats.

A voracious reader and a student of history as well as American business, Prince culled much of his leadership gameplan during a 13-year coaching career that saw him rise from a volunteer coaching position in the Kansas community college ranks to a principal role within one of the nation's premiere BCS conferences.

"Ron is a very bright, very articulate guy. He has an upbeat personality and people respond well to him. Tom Coughlin is a 'football guy.' Bill Belichick is a 'football guy.' Ron Prince is a 'football guy.'"

– AL GROH, VIRGINIA HEAD COACH

Prince came to Kansas State from the University of Virginia, where he helped usher in a new era of success over the past three seasons as the Cavaliers' offensive coordinator and a total of five years as the offensive line coach on Al Groh's staff.

In that time, Prince developed a reputation as one of the nation's top young coaching talents, helping guide Virginia to four straight bowl berths from 2002-05. Along the way, his Cavalier offense set a dozen team and individual school records and had 10 offensive players drafted by NFL teams.

Currently the second youngest NCAA Division I-A head coach in the country and one of just five African-American head coaches in all of Division I-A, Prince joined Groh's staff as the Cavaliers' offensive line coach in January of 2001 and quickly went about molding the unit into one of the ACC's best.

In 2002, Virginia's young offensive line provided solid protection for record-setting quarterback Matt Schaub, who was named ACC Player of the Year after throwing for a school-record 2,976 yards and 28 touchdowns. Tackle Mike Mullins – the lone senior starter on the offensive line – and Elton Brown each earned honorable mention All-ACC recognition in 2002. In addition, left tackle D'Brickashaw Ferguson received Freshman All-America distinction and guard Brian Barthelmes earned Freshman All-ACC honors.

By the 2003 season, his third at Virginia and his first as the program's offensive coordinator, the Cavaliers' front wall became a dominating force, allowing the ACC's fewest sacks as it protected Schaub, who passed for 2,952 yards that season – the second most in school history.

Heading into 2004, Virginia's line began to be considered not only among the best in the rugged ACC, but nationally as well. In fact, The Sporting News tapped Prince's unit the No. 3 line in all of college football that season.

And with the offensive line leading the way, Prince's 2004 Virginia offense rolled up over 423

"Our mission was to find an individual who was going to be a good role model, that would continue on with the traditions, values, and the character of Kansas State football and who was committed to the same excellence that Coach Snyder was. Simply put, we want to win championships. I believe we found that person in Ron Prince."

– TIM WEISER, KANSAS STATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

yards of total offense per game, including over 240 on the ground, once again led the ACC in fewest sacks allowed and finished the year atop the conference charts in both total offense and rushing offense.

Virginia's team accomplishments on the field during Prince's stint with the Cavaliers were bolstered by the individual accolades received by UVa's student-athletes. During his five-year tenure at Virginia, 37 Cavaliers earned All-ACC distinction, including 17 on the offensive side of the ball. Of those 17 offensive selections, 11 occurred with Prince at the controls of the Cavs' offense.

In 2003, Prince's offensive unit placed four players on the All-ACC squad, including future All-Americans Heath Miller (TE) and Brown (G), who received the prestigious Jacobs Blocking Trophy, which is annually awarded to the ACC's top offensive lineman.

In 2004, Virginia's offense placed five student-athletes on the All-ACC team, the most of any school in the league, including Brown, who was awarded the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the second straight year, and Miller, who went on to win the John Mackey Award as the nation's top tight end.

The spring of 2005 brought more recognition for Prince's charges at Virginia as a school-record seven Cavaliers were selected in the NFL draft, including four offensive players. Miller was a first-round draft pick by the Pittsburgh Steelers, while Brown was selected in the fourth round by Arizona. Tailback Alvin Pearman was also picked up in the fourth round by Jacksonville and wide receiver Patrick Estes was taken in the seventh by San Francisco.

Prince capped his run at Virginia this past season by producing three more All-ACC selections. Ferguson, who went on to become the No. 4 overall selection in the 2006 NFL Draft, led the way by earning first-team accolades for the second straight season and becoming the first Cavalier tackle named to the first team in back-to-back seasons since the 1990 and 1991 campaigns.

A 1988 graduate of Junction City High School, Prince played two seasons at Dodge City (Kan.) Community College, receiving All-Conference honors as an offensive tackle on the field and Academic All-America and National Dean's List accolades for his performance in the classroom.

In 1990, Prince transferred to Appalachian State in Boone, N.C. He played two seasons for the Mountaineers and helped ASU to a Southern Conference championship and a berth in the NCAA I-AA playoffs as a senior in 1991 before earning a bachelor's degree in history from the institution in 1992.

Prince received his start in coaching shortly after graduation, returning to the state of Kansas in 1992 to serve as a volunteer assistant coach working with offensive tackles and tight ends at Dodge City.

After just one season, Prince received his first offer to coach at a four-year institution and began his full-time coaching career as an offensive line, tight ends and strength and conditioning coach at Alabama A&M in 1993. During his lone season there, he helped produce three All-Conference players, including guard Joe Patton, who went on to become a third-round draft pick of the Washington Redskins.

A stop at South Carolina State followed in 1994. While at SCSU, Prince was instrumental in mentoring an offensive line that helped the Bulldogs lead the conference and rank among the national leaders (Division I-AA) in total offense, rushing offense and scoring offense that season. South Carolina State also captured the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championship that season and went on to defeat Grambling, 31-27, in the postseason Heritage Bowl.

During his tenure at SCSU, Prince coached four All-Conference offensive linemen, including standout tackle Raleigh Roundtree, a 1995 fifth-round draft pick of the San Diego Chargers.

From 1995 to 1997 Prince served as the offensive line coach at James Madison and helped guide the Dukes to an NCAA I-AA playoff berth and two consecutive top-25 rankings before taking the reins of the offensive line at Cornell from 1998-2000.

The following season Prince was tapped to coach the offensive line, and later the entire offense, on Groh's staff at Virginia.

In addition to his duties on the collegiate level, Prince has also served NFL Minority Fellowships with the Jacksonville Jaguars (1996), Washington Redskins (1997), Atlanta Falcons (1999) and New York Giants (2000).

Born in Omaha, Neb., but raised in Junction City by parents Ernest and Georgeanne Prince, he is married to the former Zoé Ahern of Valhalla, N.Y. The couple has four children, Deuce (6), James (4), Grace (3) and John (1).

COACHING STAFF

TIM McCARTY

Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Line | First Season

Veteran head coach Tim McCarty, architect of perhaps the second-greatest college football turnaround in the state of Kansas, is in his first season as Kansas State's assistant head coach and offensive line coach.

The native Kansan was named to his post on Dec. 5, 2005, and was among Head Coach Ron Prince's first hires at Kansas State.

Considered to be a master motivator, McCarty comes to Kansas State after a two-year stint as the head coach at East Central University in Ada, Okla.

While at East Central, McCarty guided the Tigers to a 9-11 record, including a surprising 6-4 finish in his first season at the helm in 2004 on the heels of being picked last in the Lone Star Conference's North Division that year.

McCarty coached one All-American at ECU during the 2004 campaign in defensive end Justin Brown, who was the No. 1 free agent signee of the NFL's Indianapolis Colts. Brown survived preseason camp until the final cut.

Prior to taking the reins at East Central, McCarty built Tabor College (Kan.), into an NAIA power from the ground up.

In his first season at Tabor in 1999, the Bluejays had just 14 players in the program and struggled through a 0-10 campaign. But improvements followed rapidly as McCarty guided Tabor to a 3-7 record in 2000, a 5-5 mark in 2001, a 6-4 ledger in 2002 and ultimately a 9-2 record in 2003 that saw the Bluejays achieve a No. 15 national ranking and the program's first berth in the NAIA playoffs.

Following his successful 2003 campaign, McCarty was selected as the KCAC Coach of the Year as well as NAIA.net's National Coach of the Year.

On an individual level, McCarty produced nine All-Americans, nine Academic All-Americans and over 70 conference-recognized players during his five-year tenure at Tabor.

McCarty received his coaching start as a student assistant at Fort Hays State in 1984. He moved on to Russell High School in 1995 and Hays High School in 1986 before serving a one-year graduate assistantship at Kansas in 1987.

In 1988, McCarty served as the tight ends coach at Middle Tennessee State before retuning to the state of Kansas to coach at Shawnee Mission North High School in 1989. The following season McCarty took over as the offensive coordinator at Dodge City Community College. During his four seasons with the Conquistadors from 1990-93, McCarty coached three All-Americans, 10 all-conference picks and developed two conference offensive linemen of the year.

McCarty moved on to Southwest Baptist for the 1994 season and began a four-year stint as the Bearcats' offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. During his tenure at SBU, McCarty developed seven conference recognized lineman, including a preseason All-American. He also mentored Phil Kinney, who went on to sign a free-agent contract with the Washington Redskins.

McCarty then spent the 1998 season at Greenville (Ill.) College and constructed an offensive line that proved to be one of the best in school history. Behind three all-conference selections, McCarty's unit helped the program set three NCAA offensive records, four conference marks and 14 school records.

McCarty, who prepped at Concordia High School, is a 1985 graduate of Fort Hays State, McCarty was a standout defensive lineman for the Tigers and served as a team captain for FHSU's 1983 squad that went 8-3. He went on to add a master of education degree in administration from Middle Tennessee State to his academic resume in 1994.

McCarty is married to the former Jillian Bailey of Brentwood, Tenn. The couple has two daughters, Bailey, 13, and Kendall, 11.

JAMES FRANKLIN

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks | First Season

Widely considered to be a rising star in the coaching profession, James Franklin is in his first year at Kansas State as the Wildcats' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Named to the position on Jan. 3, 2006, Franklin, 33, joined Head Coach Ron Prince's staff at Kansas State after serving the 2005 season as the wide receivers coach of the National Football League's Green Bay Packers.

One of two former NFL assistants on the K-State staff along with defensive coordinator Raheem Morris, Franklin's resume includes over 11 years of coaching experience, including a pair of NFL minority coaching internships with the Miami Dolphins (1998) and Philadelphia Eagles (1999).

Prior to being hired at Green Bay, Franklin spent five seasons (2000-04) as the wide receivers coach at the University of Maryland. And it was his work during his tenure at with the Terrapins that sent his stock soaring.

After joining Ralph Fridgen's staff in 2000, Franklin quickly established himself as one of the nation's top recruiters. In 2003 he was promoted to recruiting coordinator and delivered back-to-back recruiting classes that were ranked among the nation's top 25 by several prominent recruiting publications before departing for the NFL.

Maryland's receiving corps also flourished under Franklin's guidance. In 2001, Franklin mentored All-ACC wide receiver Guilian Gary, who led a balanced group of Terrapin receivers with 49 receptions for 727 yards and six touchdowns. Gary went on to finish his Maryland career ranked among the school's top 10 receivers in receptions, receiving yardage and receiving touchdowns.

In both 2002 and 2003, Franklin had four different wideouts record at least 300 receiving yards despite returning just one starter each season.

The Terrapins also soared as a program during his stay in College Park. Maryland went a combined 41-19 (.683) in his five years at the ACC school, with three double-digit win seasons and three bowl appearances, including a pair of January bowls.

Prior to his stint at Maryland, Franklin rose quickly through the coaching ranks, making stops at five different schools in five years. He received his start in coaching at Kutztown University in 1995 as the program's receivers coach, before returning to his alma mater as a graduate assistant and secondary coach at East Stroudsburg in 1996.

In 1997, Franklin worked along side Prince at James Madison, serving at the program's receivers coach. The following season, he received his first coaching assignment at a BCS conference school as the graduate assistant in charge of tight ends at Washington State for the 1998 season.

Franklin then moved on to Idaho State for the 1999 season and mentored the Bengals' receivers. While at Idaho State, the Bengals' receiver corps totaled 29 touchdowns, 258 receptions and more than 3,300 receiving yards, contributing to one of the best offensive seasons in school history as ISU finished the year ranked ninth nationally in total offense.

A four-year letterman as a quarterback at East Stroudsburg from 1991-94, Franklin was a two-time Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference selection. As a senior in 1994, he garnered team MVP honors and was a Harlon Hill nominee for Division II Player of the Year after setting seven school records including single-season marks for total offense (3,128), passing yards (2,586) and TD passes (19). He also earned Sports Illustrated national 'Player of the Week' honors in October of that season.

Franklin earned a bachelor of science degree in psychology from East Stroudsburg in 1995 and his master's in educational leadership from Washington State in 1999.

RAHEEM MORRIS

Defensive Coordinator/Secondary | First Season

One of the most dynamic young coaches in America, Raheem Morris brings a wealth of experience from the National Football League to his position as defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach at Kansas State.

Named to Head Coach Ron Prince's staff on Dec. 22, 2005, Morris has played a role in helping coach some of the NFL's top defenses while serving in a variety of coaching positions with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Morris arrived at K-State after finishing up his fourth season with the franchise and his second as the organization's assistant defensive backs coach.

During his tenure in Tampa Bay, the Buccaneers have ranked in the top five of the NFL in total defense every year - including No. 1 in 2005 - and twice finished as the top-ranked pass defense in the league (2002 and 2004).

Morris joined the Tampa Bay organization in 2002 as a defensive quality control coach. That season, his first as a coach in the NFL, Morris studied under defensive coordinator Monte Kiffin and helped guide the Buccaneers top-ranked defense as they captured the franchise's first world title in Super Bowl XXXVII.

A year later he was made a defensive assistant and working closely with Kiffin helped the Buccaneers' defense finish the year ranked fifth in total defense (279.1 ypg).

In 2004, Morris began serving as the Buccaneers' assistant defensive backs coach. Once again Tampa Bay's defense proved to be one of the league's best as the Bucs finished as the fifth-rated unit in the league.

The 2005 season witnessed more success for the NFL's most stingy defense. Tampa Bay finished the regular season ranked No. 1 (277.8 ypg) in the NFL in total defense and No. 6 (184.1 ypg) in pass defense as the organization earned its second playoff berth in four years. It also marked the ninth straight season (1997-2005) that Tampa Bay's defense finished in the top 10, which is the longest such streak in the NFL.

Morris joined the Tampa Bay organization after spending the 2000 and 2001 seasons as the defensive backs coach at Hofstra (N.Y.) University. He also spent time in the fall of 2001 with the New York Jets serving a NFL minority coaching internship.

Morris began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Hofstra in 1998, before landing his first full-time coaching assignment in 1999 at Cornell as the Big Red's defensive backs coach and special teams assistant.

While at Cornell, Morris served on the same staff with Prince.

A 1998 graduate of Hofstra University with a bachelor's in physical education, Morris was a standout safety for the Flying Dutchmen (now called the Pride) during his collegiate career from 1994-97.

TIM HORTON

Running Backs | First Season

Considered by many to be a top-notch recruiter as well as an outstanding offensive coach, Tim Horton was named to the Kansas State coaching staff on Dec. 22, 2005, and is in his first season as the Wildcats' running backs coach.

Horton comes to Kansas State from the Air Force Academy, where he served the past seven seasons as a member of Fisher DeBerry's staff. During his tenure, the Falcons posted five winning seasons and made two bowl appearances.

From 1999 through 2004, Horton coached the Academy's wide receivers and developed a unit that was once viewed as a liability into one of the strengths of the program.

In just his first season at Air Force in 1999, Horton mentored wide out Matt Farmer, who hauled in 34 catches for 484 yards and earned a roster spot in both the Hula Bowl and Blue-Gray All-Star Classic that season.

A year later, Horton helped develop Ryan Fleming into one of the Academy's best ever. Fleming, who is regarded as the best option-era receiver ever produced by the Academy, led the Mountain West Conference in receiving with 52 receptions for 930 yards - the second-most ever by an AFA receiver - and became Air Force's first ever first team all-conference selection at wide receiver.

In 2005, Horton took the coaching reins of the Falcons' running backs, perhaps the Academy's most high-profile unit. The group once again proved to be a key ingredient to one of the nation's most potent ground attacks as Air Force ranked eighth in the country in rushing while averaging 246.6 yards per game.

In addition to his position coaching responsibilities, Horton assists with the Falcons' kick block, kickoff return and hands team.

Horton received his coaching start at Appalachian State in 1990 and helped guide the Mountaineers to a 67-32 record during his eight-year tenure that included Southern Conference titles in 1991 and 1995 and five appearances in the Division I-AA playoffs.

From 1990-92, Horton coached Appalachian State's receivers and tight ends before taking over as the Mountaineers' running backs coach in 1993.

While at Appalachian State, Horton coached five all-conference players and served as the program's recruiting coordinator.

A graduate of the University of Arkansas, Horton earned his bachelor's degree in marketing management in 1990. While at Arkansas, he was a four-year letterman and three-year starter as a split end and punt returner for the Razorbacks under head coach Ken Hatfield.

Horton's four years at Arkansas proved to be the most successful in school history as the Razorbacks compiled a 38-11 record, won back-to-back Southwest Conference titles in 1988 and 1989 and appeared in four straight bowl games. In fact, Horton's graduating class remains the winningest in school history.

A two-time academic all-conference selection, Horton was a second-team all-conference selection in 1989 and served as the Razorbacks' team captain that season.

As a prep, Horton was a two-time all-state running back at Conway (Ark.) High School.

Horton and his spouse, Lauren, have one daughter, Caroline, and one son, Jackson.

JAMES JONES

Tight Ends | First Season

An experienced and dynamic young coach who worked along side Head Coach Ron Prince at Cornell in 1999, James Jones enters his first season as Kansas State's tight ends coach. He was named to the K-State coaching staff on Dec. 22, 2005, and will also assist with the Wildcats' special teams units.

Jones comes to Kansas State from Dartmouth, where he coached the Big Green's defensive line during the 2005 campaign.

Prior to his joining the staff at Dartmouth, Jones served the 2004 season as the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Prairie View A&M. In 2003, Jones was the defensive line coach at Texas Southern, which came after a three-year stint at Wagner College in Staten Island, N.Y., from 2000-02.

While on the staff at Wagner, Jones worked in a variety of roles, including serving as the strength and conditioning coordinator, defensive line coach (2000, 2002), defensive coordinator (2001) and special teams coordinator (2000).

In 1999, Jones was the special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach at Cornell. In 1998, Jones received his first full-time coaching position when he was appointed as the defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Morehouse College.

Jones, who earned a bachelor's degree in biology from Texas Southern in 1997 and a master's in education from Wagner in 2002, received his coaching start at TSU in 1996 as a student assistant coach. He went on to serve as a graduate assistant at Bowling Green in 1997, working with the Falcons' defensive line.

A native of Shaker Heights, Ohio, Jones and his wife, Shondrela, have two children, James and Weslyn.

MO LATIMORE

Defensive Line | 22nd Season

One of the most experienced members of Ron Prince's staff, Mo Latimore begins his 22nd season at Kansas State, where he is in charge of the Wildcats' defensive line.

A former All-American lineman for the Wildcats in the 1970s, Latimore was among Prince's first appointments at K-State on Dec. 8, 2005, and is the lone holdover from Bill Snyder's staff.

A fixture at Kansas State since returning to his alma mater in 1994 following a five-year stint at Missouri, Latimore has now worked with four different Wildcat coaching staffs at K-State.

Latimore has played an integral role in Kansas State's ascent to one of the nation's elite programs, helping the Wildcats to nine seasons of nine or more wins and 10 bowl games. He has also been a big reason for K-State's strong presence on defense, guiding lines that helped the Wildcats rank among the nation's top 10 in total defense, including top 5 rankings in 1995, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001 and 2002.

During the last 12 seasons, Latimore has helped coach three All-Americans, including first-team honorees Tim Colston (1995) and Mario Fatafehi (2000), two conference Defensive Newcomers of the Year (Fatafehi; 1999 and Tank Reese; 2001) and one conference Defensive Player of the Year (Colston; 1995). In 2005, protégé Alphonso Moran received Big 12 all-freshman honors as well as honorable mention freshman All-America accolades from The Sporting News.

In addition, Latimore has also tutored 11 all-conference players during that 12-year span, including six first-team selections.

In his first season, Latimore helped guide the Wildcats to the nation's top ranking in total defense, while also coaching Colston to third team All-America honors from The Associated Press.

In 1995, Latimore helped Colston become the first defensive lineman in school history to earn first team All-America accolades and Big Eight Defensive Player of the Year honors.

Beginning in 1997, Latimore coached at least one all-conference linemen for six consecutive seasons, including three first-team honorees. Fatafehi became the first of two Latimore protégés to earn Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year honors in 1999.

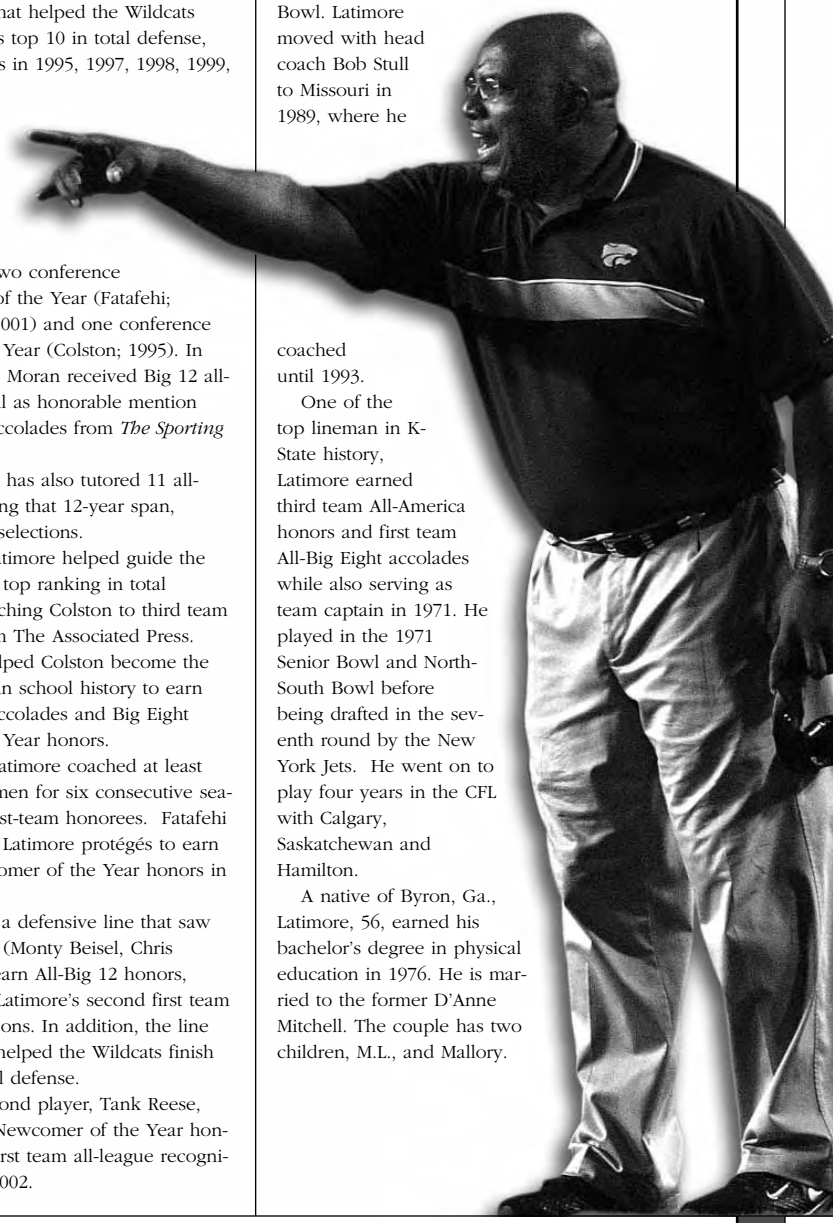
In 2000, he coached a defensive line that saw three of its four starters (Monty Beisel, Chris Johnson and Fatafehi) earn All-Big 12 honors, while Fatafehi became Latimore's second first team All-American in six seasons. In addition, the line recorded 39 sacks and helped the Wildcats finish fourth nationally in total defense.

Latimore saw his second player, Tank Reese, earn Big 12 Defensive Newcomer of the Year honors in 2001 as well as first team all-league recognition in both 2001 and 2002.

In 2002, Latimore's defensive line anchored a unit that set a school record for rushing defense, allowing only 69.5 yards per game, and led the nation in scoring defense. His 2003 unit helped lead the nation in sacks with 51 as the team finished sixth in the nation in total defense and eighth in scoring defense.

Latimore began his coaching career at K-State in 1976 under Ellis Rainsberger as a graduate assistant.

After 10 years on the Kansas State staff, Latimore moved to Texas-El Paso in 1984 under Coach Bill Young, where he coached the defensive line for five seasons. He helped the Miners to the school's first 10-win season in 1988, which cumulated in the school's first bowl game in 21 years - the 1988 Independence Bowl. Latimore moved with head coach Bob Stull to Missouri in 1989, where he coached until 1993.



One of the top lineman in K-State history, Latimore earned third team All-America honors and first team All-Big Eight accolades while also serving as team captain in 1971. He played in the 1971 Senior Bowl and North-South Bowl before being drafted in the seventh round by the New York Jets. He went on to play four years in the CFL with Calgary, Saskatchewan and Hamilton.

A native of Byron, Ga., Latimore, 56, earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1976. He is married to the former D'Anne Mitchell. The couple has two children, M.L., and Mallory.

TIM TIBESAR

Special Teams | First Season

An exciting young coach who was one of the top defensive coordinators in Division II prior to joining Ron Prince's Kansas State staff on Dec. 22, 2005, Tim Tibesar is in his first year as the Wildcats' special teams coach.

Tibesar, who previously coached alongside Ron Prince at Cornell, comes to K-State from the University of North Dakota, where he constructed one of the stingiest defenses in all of Division II as the Fighting Sioux's defensive coordinator.

A 1995 summa cum laude graduate of North Dakota, Tibesar returned to his alma mater in 2001 as the program's inside linebackers coach. During his three years as inside linebackers coach, Tibesar coached two North Central Conference Most Valuable Linebackers - Digger Anderson in 2005 and Travis O'Neel in 2001.

In 2003 he was promoted to defensive coordinator and proceeded to assemble a unit that ranked first in the North Central Conference in total defense, scoring defense, rushing defense, pass efficiency defense and quarterback sacks over the next two seasons.

North Dakota was also consistently ranked among the national leaders defensively during Tibesar's tenure and in 2004 led all of Division II in scoring defense, yielding just 10.8 points per game.

Tibesar joined the staff at North Dakota after spending one season as tight ends coach at Cornell in 2000. Prior to that, he served as a graduate assistant and assistant offensive line coach at the University of California in 1999, a linebacker coach at Grossmont (Calif.) College in 1998 and a student assistant at San Diego State from 1997-98.

A standout linebacker at UND from 1993 to 1996, Tibesar served as a team captain for the Fighting Sioux in 1995 and 1996. A three-time All-NCC performer and the 1996 NCC Most Valuable Linebacker, Tibesar earned multiple first team All-America honors in 1996 and was named a Football Gazette third team All-American in 1995. He was also a three-time GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American (1994, 1995, 1996) and received a 1996 National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholarship Award.

In 1996, Tibesar received the Stan Marshall Award as the NCC Male Athlete of the Year. The following spring he was recognized as the 1996-97 Midwest Sports Channel Division II Male Athlete of the Year as well as the 1996-97 Ramsey County Athlete of the Year.

During his playing career, Tibesar helped North Dakota to NCC titles and NCAA Division II playoff appearances in 1993, 1994 and 1995 as UND posted a 36-11 record during his four-year in the program.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Tibesar graduated from UND with a 4.0 grade point average in business economics. He earned a master's in business administration from San Diego State in 1998.

Tibesar's family includes his wife, Jill.

MATT WALLERSTEDT

Linebackers/Recruiting Coordinator | First Season

Former Kansas State All-American linebacker Matt Wallerstedt returns to his hometown and alma mater for his first year as the Wildcats' linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator.

Named to Ron Prince's staff on Dec. 27, 2005, Wallerstedt comes to K-State following a successful two-year run at Akron, where he served as the Zips associate head coach, linebackers coach and special teams coordinator.

During his stay at Akron, Wallerstedt helped usher forth a stunning turnaround that saw the Zips win their first Mid-American Conference championship and earn their first bowl berth (the 2005 Motor City Bowl) in just his second season with the program.

During 2005, Wallerstedt saw two of his players earn All-MAC honors as linebackers Brion Stokes and Jay Rohr were named to the league's second team and honorable mention squads, respectively. Wallerstedt also helped completely transform the Zips' defense. The unit finished the 2005 regular season ranked first in the MAC in total defense. Akron also made a 75-spot improvement on the NCAA's total defense chart, improving from No. 98 in 2004 to No. 23 in 2005.

A 1984 graduate of Manhattan High School, Wallerstedt lettered at Kansas State from 1984-1987 and led the Wildcats in tackles as a junior and senior. In fact, his 165 tackles in 1987 still ranks fifth on K-State's single-season tackle chart, while his 331 career stops ranks ninth all time in school history. One of K-State's 1987 co-captains and the Wildcats MVP that season, Wallerstedt earned All-Big Eight honors and was also tapped as honorable mention All-American choice by The Associated Press for 1987.

Wallerstedt received his coaching start as a student assistant with the Wildcats in 1988 while finishing his K-State degree in business management. He went on to serve two seasons as a graduate assistant in 1989 and 1990 at Arizona State.

After three years in private business, Wallerstedt received his first full-time coaching opportunity as the defensive line coach at Fort Hays (Kan.) State in 1994. He helped guide Fort Hays State to a share of the 1995 Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference championship with an 8-2-2 record and a No. 18 national ranking before moving on to coach defensive backs at Emporia State in 1996.

In 1997, Wallerstedt began a six-year stint at Wyoming, where he was hired to coach the defensive line by his former K-State teammate and then-Cowboy head coach Dana Dimel. In just his first year in Laramie, Wyo., the Cowboys ranked second in the nation in sacks (54), sixth in pass defense, 17th in scoring defense and 23rd in total defense. The 1998 defensive squad was 28th nationally in scoring defense, as Wyoming became a fixture in both national polls during the 1998 and 1999 seasons.

Wallerstedt also produced four All-Western Athletic Conference defensive linemen before taking over as the Cowboys' defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach in 2000. From 2000 to 2002, Wallerstedt mentored three All-Mountain West selections, including Kwabena Peprah (2000 honorable mention), Leo Caires (2001 second team) and Tyler Gottschalk (2002 honorable mention).

A very successful one-year stay as the defensive coordinator at North Alabama followed in 2003, before Wallerstedt began his two-year stint at Akron. While at UNA, Wallerstedt took a defense that was allowing 33.6 points per game and 391.7 yards per game and turned it into a stingy group that allowed just 14.1 ppg (sixth nationally) and a Gulf South Conference-best 295.6 ypg in 2003. North Alabama finished the season with a 13-1 record, won the Gulf South Conference and ranked No. 5 in the final national poll.

Wallerstedt earned his bachelor's degree in business management from K-State in 1988 and added a master's in athletic administration from Fort Hays State in 1995. He and his wife Josie have a son, Cal (6).

COACHING STAFF

PAT WASHINGTON

Wide Receivers | First Season

One of the most respected receiver coaches in the nation, Pat Washington was named to Ron Prince's staff on Dec. 8, 2005, and is in his first year with the Wildcats.

Washington came to Kansas State after an ultra-successful 11-year stint as the receivers coach at Tennessee, where he was widely credited with helping develop the Volunteers' traditionally strong passing game.

During his tenure with the Vols, Washington mentored a stable of celebrated pass-catchers, including Donte' Stallworth, Cedrick Wilson, Peerless Price, Marcus Nash and Joey Kent that led UT to be known as Wide Receiver U.

In all, Washington produced 11 NFL draft picks, including first team All-Southeastern Conference selections Kent and Nash, who still rank among the top two in the Tennessee record book in just about every career and single-season receiving category.

In fact, Tennessee's top four receivers in both career catches and receiving yards are all Washington protégés - Kent, Nash, Price and Wilson.

He also helped coach the Vols to 10 bowl berths while at Tennessee, including a win over Florida State in the 1999 Fiesta Bowl that capped UT's 1998 national championship season.

No stranger to the Big 12 region and especially the fertile recruiting grounds of Texas, Washington coached TCU's wide receivers and quarterbacks from 1992-93. In 1994, he accepted a position on head coach Chuck Reedy's staff at Baylor as the Bears' running backs coach and helped guide the program to a berth in the Alamo Bowl.

Washington's resume also includes three years at Southwestern Louisiana - now known as Louisiana-Lafayette - where he also coached receivers.

A 1987 graduate of Auburn University, Washington received his coaching start at his alma mater in 1987 as a graduate assistant assigned to work with AU's quarterbacks and was a part of back-to-back Sugar Bowl appearances by the Tigers as a member of Pat Dye's staff.

As a player, Washington was a standout quarterback at Auburn from 1982-85 and was the Tigers' starting signal-caller as both a junior and a senior. Playing in the same backfield with Heisman Trophy winner Bo Jackson, Washington guided Auburn to a 17-8 record as the Tigers' starting QB and led the program to berths in both the 1984 Liberty Bowl and 1986 Cotton Bowl. He also served as one of Auburn's co-captains during the 1985 campaign.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Washington and his wife, Claudette, have two sons, Tyson and Justin.

ABBY BOUSTEAD

Director of Football Administration | First Season

Abby Boustead, who has served in administrative capacities at Nevada-Las Vegas and Virginia during her career, was named to the football staff at Kansas State on Dec. 8, 2005, and is in her first year as the Wildcats' Director of Football Administration.

In her current position, Boustead (prounced BAU-sted) oversees the external administrative functions of the football program serving as the primary liaison to the athletics department and various university offices.

Boustead also helps develop and administer the program's annual budget, is responsible for bowl preparations, oversees community service projects, administers special events and assists with alumni relations.

Prior to arriving at Kansas State, Boustead served in a similar capacity at UNLV as the program's Administrative Coordinator for Football from 2003 to 2005 and worked closely with Rebel head coaches John Robinson and Mike Sanford.

In July of 2001, Boustead began a two-year stint as the Athletic Facility and Event Coordinator at Virginia and managed all game operations for football, men's and women's basketball, and various Olympic sports. During her tenure, Boustead completely restructured UVa's event staff program, which includes over 200 staff members, and played the lead role in the development of a new guest services initiative.

Boustead also administered a $4.3 million budget at Virginia, while overseeing administration and scheduling for athletic camps and assisting with coordination of facility operational and capital projects.

A native of Woodbine, Iowa, Boustead, earned her bachelor's degree in marketing in 1998 from Buena Vista University in Storm Lake, Iowa.

Following graduation, she worked with USA Hockey InLine before serving as the assistant tournament director of the Omaha Classic Golf Tournament on the BUY.COM Tour from April of 1999 to December of 2000. Boustead also worked as an event services coordinator for Intercollegiate Communications Company in Manasquan, N.J, before assuming her role at Virginia in 2001.

SEAN SNYDER

Associate AD/Football Operations | 12th Season

Former All-America punter Sean Snyder is in his 12th year as a member of the Kansas State staff and his sixth as the program's Associate Athletics Director for Football Operations.

Snyder, 37, oversees the daily operational functions of the football program.

Snyder received his start as a part-time assistant coach with the Wildcats in 1994 and served in that capacity until 1996, when he began focusing his efforts on the administrative side of the program as the Director of Football Operations.

In 1999, Snyder was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations. He was named Associate Athletics Director in 2001.

As a senior, Snyder earned first team All-America honors from The Associated Press, Kodak and Athlon's after averaging a school-record 44.7 yards per punt. In 1991 he was tapped as the Big Eight Defensive Newcomer of the Year in 1991 after averaging 40.5 yards in his junior season.

A first team All-Big Eight selection in 1992 after earning honorable-mention in 1991, Snyder was also selected to play in the 1992 Blue-Gray Game in 1992.

K-State Special Teams MVP in 1991 and 1992, Snyder held K-State's records for both punting average in a game (52.8 on 12 punts at Colorado) and in a career (43.0) before having his career punting mark broken by James Garcia in 1998.

Following his collegiate career, Snyder signed a free agent contract with the Phoenix Cardinals in 1993 and the following year with the San Diego Chargers.

The son of legendary K-State head coach Bill Snyder, Sean Snyder earned his bachelor's degree from K-State in money and banking in 1994. Married to the former Wanda Boyett, the couple has three children, daughter Katherine, and sons Tate and Matthew.

SCOTT FROST

Graduate Assistant - Defense | First Season

Former Nebraska quarterback and NFL safety Scott Frost joins head coach Ron Prince's staff as the Wildcats' defensive graduate assistant for the 2006 season.

Frost brings a wealth of experience in defensive coordinator Raheem Morris' system with him to K-State after playing both the 2003 and 2004 seasons in Tampa Bay and assisting with the defense during the 2005 campaign.

A third-round selection of the New York Jets in the 1998 NFL Draft, Frost played a total of seven seasons as a defensive back in the league, including stints wiht the Jets, Green Bay Packers, San Francisco 49ers and Tampa Bay Buccanneers.

A native of Lincoln, Neb., Frost began his college career at Stanford, starting and lettering at quarterback during both the 1993 and 1994 seasons for the Cardinal before transferring to Nebraska in 1995. Over the next two seasons, Frost would quarterback the Huskers to a combined 24-2 record and back-to-back Orange Bowl victories, including a win over Tennessee in the 1997 National Championship game.

In just two seasons at Nebraska, Frost amassed 4,210 yards of total offense, including 2,677 passing yards, and ranked in the Huskers' career top 10 in both categories. In fact, his 2,332 yards of total offense set during the 1997 season still ranks in NU's all-time top five. He also was a two-time Academic All-Big 12 selection at Nebraska and in 1997 earned second team Academic All-America honors.

A budding restaurant entrepreneur who owns a share of Omaha's up-scale Scarlet & Cream Letter Club, Frost received his bachelor's degree in finance from Nebraska in 1997.

RICKY RAHNE

Graduate Assistant - Offense | First Season

A record-setting quarterback while at Cornell University, Ricky Rahne is in his first year as Kansas State's offensive graduate assistant.

Rahne comes to K-State from Cornell, where he served the 2005 season as the Big Red's running backs coach and mentored first team All-Ivy League selection Luke Siwula.

Prior to returning to his alma mater, Rahne spent the 2004 campaign as an assistant defensive line coach at Holy Cross. In his only season with the Crusaders, Rahne worked extensively witht he program's defensive ends. He also was responsible for all video breakdowns of opponents' defense and special teams and assisted the defensive coordinator in developing game plans while coordinating scout teams.

A 2002 Cornell graduate with a degree in industrial and labor relations, Rahne worked as an intern in the National Football League office during the summer before his senior year. Prior to his stint at Holy Cross, Rahne worked at the Cintas Corporation as a part of the company's management trainee program.

On the field, Rahne finished his career as the Big Red's all-time leader in nearly every passing category and earned the team's MVP honors three times.

A three-year starter, he remains the program's career leader in completions (678), yards (7,710), touchdown passes (54) and 200-yard passing games (25). He took over the top spot for total offense with 7,994 yards (7,710 passing, 284 rushing) during his senior season and finished his career ranked as the Ivy League's third all-time career passing leader with his 7,710 yards.

2005 SEASON REVIEW

2005 SEASON REVIEW

WILDCATS BATTLE TO THE END IN A

LEGEND'S FINAL SEASON

The 2005 Kansas State football season certainly ran the gamut of emotions. From the highs of winning three in a row and four of the season's first five games, including a thrilling comeback victory over in-state rival Kansas, to the lows of a five-game slide that eliminated the Wildcats from bowl contention for the second straight season, to the shock and sadness of seeing a legend retire, the 2005 edition of K-State football elicited a panoply of emotions few will soon forget.

In the final analysis, many will recount the 2005 season as the one that got away as Kansas State concluded its 110th campaign on the gridiron with a 5-6 record, falling just one win shy of earning its 12th bowl berth in the last 13 seasons.

However, a closer look inside the numbers reveals just how excruciatingly close the season was for the Wildcats. With three late-season losses by three points or less, Kansas State came within nine total points of posting an 8-3 overall record and a 5-3 mark in Big 12 play that would have likely sent the Cats to their fourth Big 12 title game.

But no matter how you slice it, the 2005 Wildcats displayed a never-say-die attitude that eventually paid dividends in the season finale as Kansas State sent its legendary Head Coach Bill Snyder out with a dramatic 36-28 come-from-behind victory over Missouri.

Just four days earlier, on Nov. 15, 2005, the winningest head coach in Kansas State football history announced his retirement from a program that he had single-handedly lifted from the depths of oblivion to a place among the elite of the college football world.

The announcement sent shockwaves through the entire Wildcat nation and reverberated in media outlets from coast to coast.

It also closed the books on an era of K-State football many never dreamed they would witness. A total of 136 victories, 11 bowl berths, four Big 12 North Division titles and an unforgettable Big 12 Conference championship during Snyder's magical 17-year run had not only restored the pride of a downtrodden following but lifted an entire university to previously unimagined heights.

Still at the onset of the season few could have imagined Wildcat football without Snyder at the helm.

Kansas State rolled through non-conference play with three straight victories and entered Big 12 action with an unblemished record for the first time in three seasons.

The Wildcats opened the year with a workman-like 35-21 win over Florida International for the program's 16th straight season-opening victory, then traveled to Marshall for a nationally-televised battle with the Thundering Herd that went down to the wire.

In the end, K-State escaped Huntington, W.Va., with a hard-fought 21-19 victory in a back-and-forth tug-of-war that wasn't decided until Justin McKinney's game-saving interception deep in Wildcat territory with just three seconds remaining.

Kansas State flexed its muscles in a record-setting 54-7 victory over visiting North Texas in game three. In all, the Wildcats rolled up a school-record 658 yards of total offense, including a freshman-record 169 rushing yards by Parrish Fisher, to register their largest margin of victory (47 points) since notching a 51-point win over Iowa State on Nov. 9, 2002.

However, K-State received a wake-up call in its Big 12 opener at Oklahoma a week later as few things went right in a 43-21 loss to the Sooners.

The Wildcats appeared to get things back on track the following week against Kansas. Kansas State restored order in the annual Sunflower Showdown with a 12-3 victory over the Jayhawks that was the Wildcats' 12th win in the last 13 meetings vs. KU.

The game also witnessed the emergence of redshirt freshman quarterback Allan Evridge, who came off the bench to lead the Wildcats to victory in come-from-behind fashion.

2005 SEASON REVIEW

BRANDON ARCHER

JEROMEY CLARY

ALLAN EVRIDGE

MARCUS WATTS

Evridge, who would conclude the year as the most prolific freshman passer in school history with 1,365 yards and six touchdowns, would go on to start the remaining six games of the season, earning freshman All-America honors from The Sporting News along the way.

The emotion of defeating their in-state rival, however, was not enough to sustain the Cats as Kansas State would suffer through a five-game winless drought in the coming weeks that featured three gut-wrenching setbacks.

Kansas State's run of tough luck started in the Wildcats' 30-28 loss to Texas A&M. Down 23-8 entering the final period, K-State rallied with three fourth quarter touchdowns, including one on a blocked punt that Jordy Nelson recovered in the end zone. But a failed on-side kick attempt in the final minutes stopped the Cats' comeback bid dead in its tracks.

A 23-20 last-second loss to Colorado followed as the Buffaloes converted a 50-yard field goal with six ticks left on the clock, before Nebraska broke the Wildcats' hearts for the third time in four weeks, knocking home a 40-yard field goal with just over a minute to play to down K-State 27-25 in Lincoln.

On an individual level, the 2005 campaign saw the emergence of a number of previously unknown Wildcats who made their presence felt throughout the season.

In addition to Evridge, Nelson and free safety Marcus Watts produced big seasons in new positions. After toiling in the secondary during his first two years at Kansas State, Nelson made the move to wide receiver for 2005 and quickly materialized as the Wildcats' go-to target.

The only Wildcat to have at least one catch in all 11 games, Nelson finished the season with a team-best 45 receptions for 669 yards (14.9 per catch) while averaging 60.8 receiving yards per game. Those figures were good enough to rank among the Big 12's receiving leaders - despite the fact that Kansas State had the third fewest pass attempts in the conference - while his eight touchdown catches ranked tied for third among Big 12 wide outs. He closed out 2005 as K-State's scoring leader with 54 points and received second team All-Big 12 recognition from the Kansas City Star and honorable mention accolades from the league's coaches as well as The Associated Press.

Watts' transition was equally as dramatic. A wide receiver for his first two years in the program, he took so naturally to his new spot in the K-State secondary that the coaching staff honored him as the Wildcats' Defensive MVP.

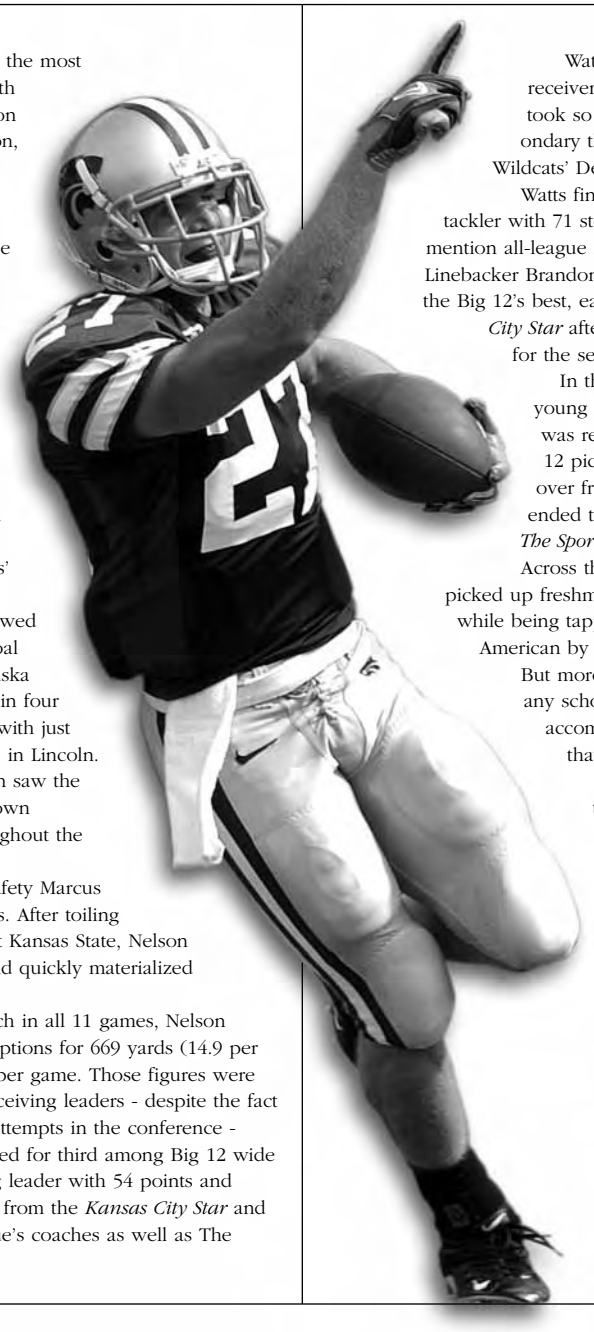
Watts finished the year as the Wildcats' second-leading tackler with 71 stops and like Nelson picked up honorable mention all-league honors from the coaches and the AP. Linebacker Brandon Archer also solidified his position as one of the Big 12's best, earning second-team honors from the Kansas City Star after leading the Wildcats in total tackle with 72 for the second straight season.

In the trenches, senior Jeromey Clary anchored a young offensive line with his consistent play and was rewarded as a consensus second team All-Big 12 pick, while center Jordan Bedore, who moved over from defensive tackle just prior to the season, ended the year as a freshman All-Big 12 selection by The Sporting News.

Across the line, defensive tackle Alphonso Moran also picked up freshman All-Big 12 honors from The Sporting News, while being tapped as an honorable mention freshman All-American by the magazine.

But more than the outcome of any game, more than any school record and more than any individual accomplishment, it was the retirement of a legend that proved to be the story of the season.

The man that meant so much to a university and its football program said good-bye on his own terms, with the class and dignity that were hallmarks of his tenure. And perhaps as importantly, Snyder also went out a winner; carried off the field on the shoulders of his players amidst the shouts of "Thanks, Coach!" from the fans after the Wildcats' season-ending victory over Missouri in a final salute for a job well done.



Jordy Nelson, a second-team All-Big 12 selection by the Kansas City Star and K-State's leading receiver in 2005, set a school record with a touchdown reception in each of the first seven games of the season. He finished the year with nine total touchdowns and ranked tied for third in the Big 12 with eight TD catches.

1982 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Independence Stadium • Shreveport, La.
December 11, 1982 • 49,523

Wisconsin 14, Kansas St. 3

Wisconsin quarterback Randy Wright tossed two touchdown passes as the Badgers overcame an early Kansas State lead for a hard-earned 14-3 victory over the Wildcats in the seventh annual Independence Bowl before an announced crows of 49,523.

The low-scoring game was played in cold and wet conditions as a 23 mile-per-hour wind dropped temperatures to 10 below zero and made things difficult for both offenses.

After a scoreless first quarter, K-State took the game's first lead with 7:10 left in the second period when Steve Willis booted a 29-yard field goal after defensive end Bob Daniels recovered a fumble at the Badger 18-yard line.

The Wildcats' lead was short-lived, however. On Wisconsin's ensuing drive, the Badgers marched 79 yards in eight plays, scoring a touchdown on a 16-yard pass from Wright to Michael Jones for a 7-3 halftime lead.

Wisconsin struck again midway through the third quarter, when game offensive MVP Wright connected with Tim Stracka on an 87-yard pass for a 14-3 Badger advantage.

K-State drove deep into Wisconsin territory on its next two possessions, but was unable to score. One opportunity ended when a Wildcat pass was intercepted in the Badger end zone while the other was stymied at the Wisconsin 26-yard line when K-State could not convert on fourth down.

1993 COPPER BOWL

Arizona Stadium • Tucson, Ariz.
December 29, 1993 • 49,075

Kansas St. 52, Wyoming 17

Kansas State put the finishing touches on one of its finest football seasons in school history with a 52-17 domination of Wyoming before 49,075 in the 1993 Copper Bowl.

Wyoming took a quick 3-0 lead on a 35-yard field goal, but K-State put its high-powered offense into overdrive and scored on its first three possessions. J.J. Smith put K-State on the board with a two-yard TD run and Tate Wright added a 22-yard field goal before K-State drove 76 yards on its third possession to take a 16-3 edge on a Chad May TD plunge.

All-American Andre Coleman closed out the first half with a 68-yard punt return to put K-State ahead 24-10 at the break then blew things open with a 61-yard touchdown catch just 54 seconds into the third quarter.

Freshman All-American Kevin Lockett put K-State ahead 38-10 midway through the third quarter with a 30-yard touchdown reception before reserve running back Leon Edwards added a 13-yard touchdown run and cornerback Kenny McEntyre provided the game's crowning moment with a 37-yard interception return for a score.

1994 ALOHA BOWL

Aloha Stadium • Honolulu, Hawaii
December 25, 1994 • 44,862

Boston College 12, (11) Kansas St. 7

Kansas State played Boston College to a defensive standoff in the 1994 Aloha Bowl, but the Wildcat offense never got on track and fell 12-7 at Aloha Stadium.

The Eagles sacked K-State quarterback Chad May eight times, including a four-hit effort by end Mike Mamula, who was named the game's most valuable player.

BC couldn't distance itself from the Wildcats despite a 51-yard bolt by David Green on the game's second play. That carry led to an early 7-0 cushion for the Eagles but would be their only touchdown of the day.

K-State's lone score came with eight seconds left in the first quarter when Joe Gordon crashed the middle of BC's line and blocked a punt by Jeff Beckley. Chris Sublette recovered the ball on the first hop in the end zone and the game was tied, 7-7.

However, BC would answer with its own end zone patrol later in the half when Mamula applied the biggest of his hits on May for a safety with 2:37 left.

The Wildcats reached the BC 19 on their ensuing drive, but Eric Shorter intercepted a dropped pass in the flat on third-and-15 with 19 seconds left in the half.

Still, a defense that featured punter Eric Hardy, Gordon and a pair of 10-tackle performances from Chuck Marlowe and Mario Smith kept the Wildcats within striking distance until the end.

BC could only tack on a 35-yard field goal by David Gordon with 1:18 remaining in the second half.

1995 HOLIDAY BOWL

Jack Murphy Stadium • San Diego, Calif.
December 29, 1995 • 51,051

(10) Kansas St. 54, (25) Colorado St. 21

For the second time in three years, Kansas State ran roughshod over the Western Athletic Conference's best as the Wildcats outran, outplayed and outscored Colorado State for a 54-21 win in front of 51,051 fans in the 1995 Plymouth Holiday Bowl at Jack Murphy Stadium.

K-State began the scoring on an Eric Hickson 4-yard run with 11:21 left in the first quarter. After CSU responded with a touchdown to knot the score at 7-7, it was all K-State.

The Wildcats outscored the Rams, 19-0, in the second quarter by virtue of an interception return by safety Mario Smith and a blocked punt. Brian Kavanagh, who would earn the game's Offensive MVP award, came in for the injured Matt Miller in the second quarter and immediately put the ball in the end zone.

Kavanagh completed 18-of-24 passes for 242 yards and a Holiday Bowl-record tying four touchdowns. The junior signal-caller tossed scoring strikes to Brian Lojka, Tyson Schwieger, Kevin Lockett and Mitch Running.

1997 COTTON BOWL

Cotton Bowl • Dallas, Texas
January 1, 1997 • 71,928

(5) BYU 19, (14) Kansas St. 14

An estimated 45,000 Kansas State fans descended on Dallas to watch the Wildcats in their first-ever New Year's Day Bowl and were witness to one of the most exciting games of the bowl season.

After taking a 15-5 lead following a 72-yard touchdown pass from Brian Kavanagh to Kevin Lockett, BYU quarterback Steve Sarkisian tossed two fourth-quarter touchdowns to lead No. 5 BYU to a 19-15 Cotton Bowl victory.

Following Sarkisian's 28-yard scoring strike to Kealaluhi with 3:39 remaining in the game, Kavanagh drove the Wildcats to the BYU 12-yard line with about one minute remaining. But Kavanagh's pass to Jimmy Dean was picked off at the 3-yard line by Omarr Morgan to preserve BYU's win.

The game's first score came when Cotton Bowl Defensive MVP Shay Muirbrook tackled Kavanagh in the end zone for a safety in the first quarter. After the free kick, BYU scored again on an Ethan Pochman 39-yard field goal.

K-State had a hard time getting on track until the final play of the first half when Kavanagh heaved a Hail Mary into the end zone, where, after the ball was deflected by a BYU defender, K-State's Andre Anderson scooped the ball in for a touchdown. Following the PAT that gave K-State a 7-5 lead, a penalty on BYU forced the teams to return from the locker room, giving Wildcats a shot for two points. Mike Lawrence made it pay off giving K-State an 8-5 halftime lead.

1997 FIESTA BOWL

Sun Devil Stadium • Tempe, Ariz.
December 31, 1997 • 69,367

(9) Kansas St. 35, (14) Syracuse 18

K-State capped its best season in school history with a 35-18 win over No. 14 Syracuse in the 1997 Fiesta Bowl.

Wildcat quarterback Michael Bishop stole the show by throwing for four touchdowns on 14-of-23 passing for 317 yards.

Darnell McDonald was on the receiving end of seven Bishop passes and turned them into a school-record 206 yards and three scores. His 77-yard reception in the fourth quarter was the longest in Fiesta Bowl history.

After allowing Syracuse to jump out to a 3-0 lead on the first of Nate Trout's three field goals, Bishop led the Wildcats to three consecutive TDs in the second quarter.

The first came following a failed fake field goal attempt by Syracuse, culminating in a 19-yard pass to McDonald. Bishop followed with a 12-yard TD dash on K-State's next possession, and wrapped up the first-half scoring with a 28-yard completion to Justin Swift on a tight end screen.

Syracuse scored 12 points in the final 2:18 to close within 21-15 at the half. Following a scoreless third quarter, Bishop and the Wildcats put away the Orangemen behind 77-yard and 41-yard touchdowns to McDonald.

Bishop was named the Offensive Player of the Game, while Travis Ochs was Named Defensive player of the Game.

Purdue 37, (4) Kansas St. 34

With more than 30,000 purple-clad fans cheering the Wildcats on, unranked Purdue shocked No. 4 Kansas State, 37-34, in the sixth annual Builders Square Alamo Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, the teams exploded for 71 points over the final three periods. Purdue was the first to get things going, taking a 17-7 halftime lead courtesy of a pair of Drew Brees TD passes and a 25-yard Travis Dorsch field goal.

Fumble recoveries in the end zone by both squads and another Dorsch field goal with four seconds to go in the third staked Purdue to a 27-13 lead heading into the final stanza.

But the Wildcats put together a furious rally over the final 15 minutes. David Allen scored from three yards out to get things going before Michael Bishop hit Darnell McDonald for an Alamo Bowl record 88-yard touchdown strike that pulled the Cats within a field goal at 30-27. Then, with just 1:24 left in the game, Bishop connected with Justin Swift for a 2-yard touchdown and a 34-30 K-State lead.

Brees then engineered an 80-yard drive that ended with a 24-yard pass to Isaac Jones to put the Boilermakers ahead for good at 37-34 with 30 seconds remaining.

Kansas State used a stiff defense and three rushing touchdowns by quarterback Jonathan Beasley to defeat Washington, 24-20, in the 1999 Holiday Bowl.

Trailing 20-17 late in the third quarter, the Wildcats embarked on a 20-play, 92-yard drive that took 9 minutes, 54 seconds off the clock to score the eventual game-winning touchdown. The drive was set up after senior Lamar Chapman picked off Marques Tuiasosopo.

K-State took a 17-13 lead on its first possession of the second half, scoring on an 11-yard run by Beasley, the game's Offensive MVP. The Huskies struck back with Maurice Shaw scoring on a 5-yard run to cap a 73-yard drive.

The first half was a back-and-forth affair that saw the Huskies take a 13-10 lead into the locker room.

Washington got on the board first when John Anderson booted his first of two first-half field goals just 3:32 into the contests. K-State quickly responded as Beasley drove the Cats 47 yards on the ensuing possession, calling his own number from one yard out to cap the eight-play drive.

A 41-yard Jamie Rheem field goal pushed K-State's lead to 10-6, but the Huskies would put the half's final points on the board on a Pat Conniff 3-yard TD run.

Jonathan Beasley threw two touchdowns and rushed for another as Kansas State rolled to a 35-21 win over Tennessee in the 65th annual Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Classic.

Beasley, the game's Offensive MVP, had touchdown passes of 56 and 10 yards to Quincy Morgan to key a rally in the second quarter. The touchdown throws, which came three minutes apart, turned a 7-7 tie into a 21-7 Wildcat lead.

Tennessee pulled within seven points before halftime when Jabari Greer scored on a 78-yard interception return.

But Kansas State got two touchdown runs from Josh Scobey in the third quarter to regain its cushion. Scobey finished with 147 yards on a career-high 28 carries, the most yards ever by a Wildcat in a bowl game.

Travis Henry's 81-yard run late in the game was the final Volunteers score. Henry finished with 180 yards on 17 carries.

Beasley totaled 210 yards on a 13-for-27 passing. He also rushed for 98 yards on 17 carries and put the Wildcats on the scoreboard first with a 14-yard run late in the first quarter.

Senior defensive end Chris Johnson was the Defensive MVP after leading the Wildcats with four tackles, including two sacks of Tennessee QB Casey Clausen, who completed just seven passes while tossing three interceptions.

Syracuse running back James Mungro rushed for 112 yards and three touchdowns to lead Syracuse to a 26-3 victory over Kansas State in the 2001 Insight.com Bowl at Phoenix's Bank One Ballpark.

Mungro scored on runs of 65, 1 and 1 yard to pace the Orange offense. SU added touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 52-yard pass from Robin Anderson to Johnnie Morant.

Junior Marc Dunn led the Wildcats with 151 yards passing in relief of starter Ell Roberson. Dunn completed 12-of-25 passes with one interception. Roberson was 2-for-15 for 70 yards for the Wildcats, who were sacked five times.

Mungro opened the scoring on his 65-yard run midway through the first quarter.

Kansas State responded just two minutes later with a 29-yard field goal by freshman Joe Rheem. The drive was sparked by a 47-yard pass from Roberson to Aaron Lockett and a 27-yard carry by Scobey.

Syracuse took advantage of a fumble deep in Wildcat territory early in the second quarter. Mungro scored from the 1-yard line to convert the turnover, but the extra-point was blocked by Josh Buhl.

On the next play from scrimmage, Willie Ford got the first of his two interceptions to set up the Orangemen again. Two plays later, Mungro went over from the 1-yard line again, but Buhl again blocked the extra-point.

Derrick Evans caught a 10-yard touchdown pass from Ell Roberson with 1:15 left in the game to lift Kansas State to its first and only lead as the Wildcats defeated Arizona State, 34-27, in the 2002 Pacific Life Holiday Bowl.

Evans' catch completed a K-State comeback from deficits of 10-0, 20-7 and 27-20. Roberson, voted the Offensive MVP of the game, rushed for 63 yards, including touchdowns of 32, 3 and 1 yards, and totaled 215 yards through the air on 11-for-28 passing.

Roberson's 32-yard sprint came with just 54 seconds left in the second half and pulled the Wildcats within 20-14. Just 31 seconds earlier, Mike Barth converted on a 39-yard field goal to give ASU its largest lead of the game at 20-7.

K-State tied the game at 20-20 early in the fourth quarter when Roberson went in from three yards out. But Sun Devil quarterback Andrew Walter, who threw for 293 yards on 28-for-57 passing, found Mike Williams for a 10-yard score to put ASU back ahead on its next possession.

The Wildcats responded with an 80-yard drive on its next opportunity, setting up Roberson's 1-yard touchdown dive that tied the game again at 27-27 with 6:41 left, then forced a Sun Devil punt that Terence Newman returned 27 yards. From there, K-State needed just seven plays to cover 59 yards for the game-winning touchdown.

No. 8 Kansas State started slowly but finished with a fury in the 33rd Annual Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. But it wasn't enough to overcome a 21-point third-quarter deficit as the Wildcats lost a hard fought 35-28 decision to No. 7 Ohio State in its first ever BCS bowl game at Sun Devil Stadium.

Trailing 35-14 heading into the fourth quarter, Ayo Saba scored from three yards out and closed the game to 14 points. Ell Roberson's second rushing touchdown with just 2:47 to go then pulled K-State within a touchdown.

After recovering the ensuing on-sides kick, the Wildcats were flagged for being offsides, forcing a re-kick. This time the Buckeyes recovered at the K-State 36.

But the Wildcats held and got the ball back at their own 10-yard line with 1:12 to play. A 21-yard completion to Davin Dennis moved the ball to the K-State 26. On the next play Roberson connected with Jermaine Moreira for 26 yards to the OSU 48 to get Kansas State within striking distance.

However, Roberson's desperation pass from midfield was batted down at the 2, allowing Ohio State to escape with its second straight Fiesta Bowl victory.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

GARY SPANI

Linebacker
1974-77

Gary Spani became the first Kansas State player to be inducted to the College Football Hall of Fame, when he joined the 2002 induction class that included Ronnie Lott (USC), Dan Marino (Pittsburgh), Reggie White (Tennessee) and Kellen Winslow (Missouri).

Spani, also a member of the K-State Sports Hall of Fame (2000) and the Kansas Sports Hall of Fame (2004), was honored in a ceremony in December of 2002 in New York City.

Named Kansas State's first-ever consensus All-America in 1977, Spani played in several postseason all-star games including the East-West Shrine Game and the Japan Bowl in 1978. A three-time All-Big-8 Conference selection, he was named Defensive Player of the Week four times.

In three seasons, he was the Wildcats' leader in tackles and was twice named team Most Valuable Player. Spani continues to dominate the Kansas State career record books as the team's all-time leader in career tackles (543), career assists (343) and assists in a season (110). Recording at least 20 tackles in a single game four times, Spani is also ranked first, fifth and sixth on the Wildcats' list for most tackles in a single season.

Following graduation in 1978, Spani was chosen in the third round of the National Football League draft by the Kansas City Chiefs, where he played all nine years of his career and led the team in tackles four straight seasons.

Spani, who still works for the Chiefs organization, was named to Sports Illustrated's 50 Greatest Players of the 20th Century from the state of Kansas.

CHARLES BACHMAN

Head Coach
1920-27

Charles Bachman, who coached the K-State football team from 1920-27, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame Jan. 8, 1978. Bachman began his coaching career at Great Lakes Naval Station in 1918 and led that team to the 1918 Rose Bowl title and the national championship. He moved to Northwestern University in 1919 before joining the Wildcats in 1920.

Following his departure from K-State, Bachman coached the Florida Gators from 1928 to 1932. He moved to Michigan State in 1933, where he coached the Spartans until 1946. He completed his coaching career at Hillsdale College in Michigan in 1953.

Bachman's eight-year won-loss record at K-State was 33-23-9. Coaching a team that played primarily eight-game seasons, Bachman's teams won five games in four different seasons. Bachman's squads went 5-3-0 in 1921 and 1926. In 1925 K-State was 5-2-1, and in 1922 went 5-1-2. Bachman's 1922 K-State team, captained by Ray Hahn, outscored its opponents 154-61.

Bachman was enshrined into the K-State Sports Hall of Fame on Oct. 27, 1995.

LYNN "PAPPY" WALDORF

Head Coach

Lynn O. "Pappy" Waldorf coached K-State to its first football championship in 1934 while posting a 7-2-1 record in the Big Six Conference with wins over Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas. He was elected into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1966.

Waldorf was regarded as one of the giants in college football coaching, earning his greatest accolades during his 10-year coaching career at California. He led the Bears to a 67-32-4 record from 1947-56, including three consecutive Rose Bowl appearances following the 1948, 1949 and 1950 seasons. Between 1947 and 1951, his teams played 38 consecutive regular-season games without a defeat.

A graduate of Syracuse, his coaching career included stops at Oklahoma City University (13-5-3, 1926-27), as assistant at Kansas in 1928, at Oklahoma A&M (34-10-7, 1929-33), Kansas State (7-2-1, 1934), Northwestern (49-45-7, 1935-46) and California (67-32-4, 1947-56). The final 20 seasons of his football career were spent as player personnel director of the San Francisco 49ers. Waldorf passed away Aug. 15, 1981.

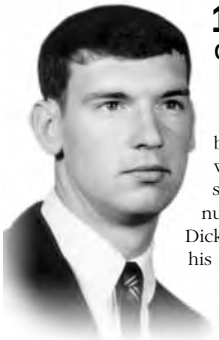
RETIRED NUMBER



11 • LYNN DICKEY

Quarterback
1968-70

Lynn Dickey and Steve Grogan's jersey, No. 11, was retired by Kansas State to honor the pair, who each donned the number while quarterbacking the Wildcats during some of the school's most sucessful football seasons. It is the only time in school history that a number has been retired in any sport.

Dickey, a native of Osawatomie, Kan., Dickey (pictured right) spent most of his NFL career with the Green Bay Packers but also played several seasons with the Houston Oilers. He threw for more than 21,000 yards with the Packers, including 4,458 yards in 1983 which at the time ranked second in NFL history. He still holds numerous K-State passing records and ranks third on the Big Eight's all-time list with 6,208 career passing yards. He is also second on K-State's all-time total offense chart. Dickey was chosen as the first-team quarterback on the all-time Big Eight football team in 1995 and is a charter member of the K-State Sports Hall of Fame (1990) and was inducted into the State of Kansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1997.

11 • STEVE GROGAN

Quarterback
1972-74

Grogan retired from the NFL following the 1990 season after an illustrious career with the New England Patriots. Grogan held nearly every New England career passing record, including yards (26,886) and touchdowns (182). He joined the team as a rookie in 1975 and led the franchise to its first Super Bowl appearance in 1986.

A native of Ottawa, Kan., Grogan still stands ninth on K-State's career list for total offense and 11th in passing yards. Grogan is a member of the K-State Sports Hall of Fame (1995) and was inducted into the State of Kansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1999.

KANSAS STATE FOOTBALL RING OF HONOR

On August, 31, 2002, Kansas State inducted the inaugural class of the Football Ring of Honor into KSU stadium. The class was formally presented at a banquet and ceremonies in Bramlage Coliseum on Friday, August 30, 2002. At halftime of the game on August 31, the group of six were given plaques and watched as the permanent display of their names were unveiled on the facing of the East side of the stadium. The Ring of Honor is designed to recognize those in the football program who have distinguished themselves on and off the field. Among the criteria considered is graduation from Kansas State with a student-athlete having been out of school for at least five years, quality of character, whether the person is an excellent representative of K-State and achievement of consensus All-America status. The inaugural Ring of Honor Class of 2002 included: Veryl Switzer - HB, 1951-53; Lynn Dickey - QB, 1968-70; Steve Grogan - QB, 1972-74; Gary Spani - LB, 1974-77; Sean Snyder - P, 1991-92; Jaime Mendez - S, 1990-93.

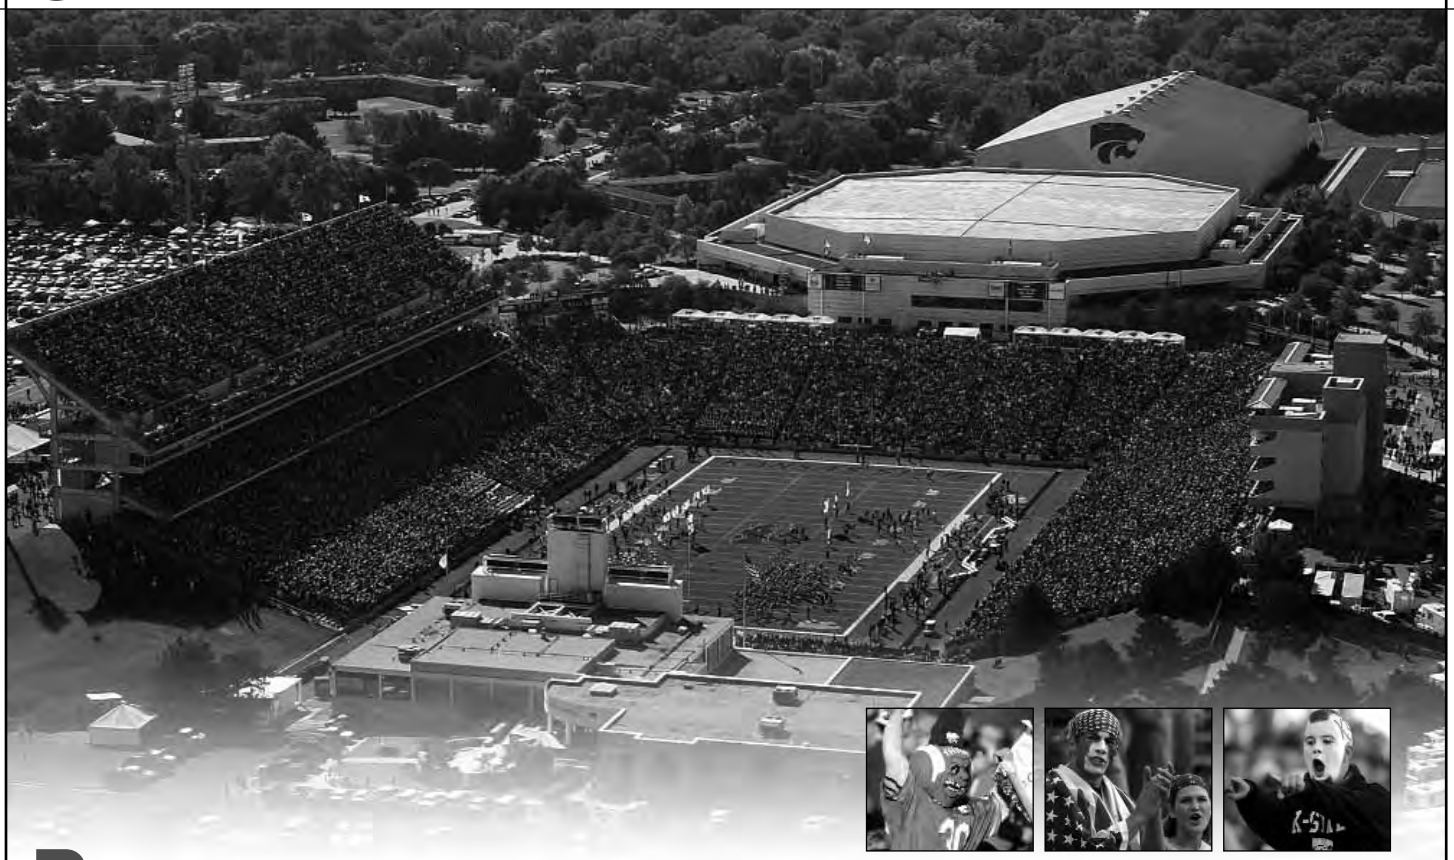
BILL SNYDER FAMILY STADIUM



Renamed in honor of legendary head football coach Bill Snyder by a proclamation of the Kansas Board of Regents on Nov. 16, 2005, Bill Snyder Family Stadium will host its 38th season of Wildcat football this fall. Set on the north end of campus, Bill Snyder Family Stadium and the Vanier Sports Complex have undergone a multi-million dollar renovation that have made them one of the premier football facilities in the Midwest.

Originally named KSU Stadium, the facility was built at a cost of $1.6 million and financed from student fees, athletics gate receipts and contributions. The stadium opened its doors Sept. 21, 1968, with a 21-0 shutout of Colorado State. The original seating capacity was set at 35,000, and an expansion in the summer of 1970 added 4,000 permanent bleachers on the east side and 3,000 temporary bleachers on the west side.

Following the 1998 season, the addition of a deck and sky suites on the east side of the stadium increased capacity to more than 50,000. On Nov. 11, 2000, 53,811 fans witnessed Kansas State's 29-28 win over Nebraska. It remains the largest crowd to ever witness a sporting event in the state of Kansas.

Bill Snyder Family Stadium's most recent change include a new FieldTurf playing surface in 2002, the on-going multi-million dollar upgrades to the Vanier Sports Complex and the installation of new video and message boards, including a 23' X 61' ProStar VideoPlus display in the south end zone.

Below is a rundown of the other facelifts that have been added during the 37-year history of Bill Snyder Family Stadium:

1972: The office/dressing room complex at the north end of the stadium was added. It houses all the K-State football offices and has dressing facilities for the Wildcats and their opponents.

1980: New artificial turf was installed prior to the 1980 season.

20.	49,798	Kansas, Oct. 8, 2005

1983: Permanent stadium lights were added allowing the Wildcats to play night games.

1987: An addition to the office/dressing room complex was made in the summer of 1987, which provided more dressing and training room facilities.

1989-1992: A $2 million renovation project was undertaken to revamp the entire football complex. The result is one of the most spectacular football complexes in the country, complete with plush locker rooms, a 6,500-square foot weight room, state of the art classrooms equipped with the latest video equipment, a training room, a players' lounge and the picturesque Big Eight Room. The structure now carries the title "Vanier Football Complex" in honor of the Vanier family of Brookville, Kan.

1991: New Astroturf was laid down prior to the 1991 season, and the field was named "Wagner Field" in honor of Dave and Carol Wagner of Dodge City, Kan.

1993: K-State put the finishing touches on its facility improvements with a $3.3 million five-level press box, including sky suites, and a $2.2 million full-length indoor facility.

1996: The $1 million Academic Learning Center became a part of the Vanier Complex, hosting study facilities for all K-State student-athletes. A $2.6 million project added a 20x26 foot JumboTron Screen, new scoreboards and marquis messageboard to the complex.

1999: Following the 1998 season, the facility underwent a $12.8 million expansion project. An additional 8,000 permanent seats were added, including a club seating area and 31 additional sky suites. The project raised the total capacity of KSU Stadium to over 50,000 with temporary seating.

2002: A new FieldTurf playing surface is installed. The $850,000 project was completed in late May of 2002 and features an innovative sand and rubber infill mixture and is the newest technology in competitive field products.

2003-06: The Vanier Football Complex is in the midst of a major renovation that includes a new training facility, weight room, equipment room, coaches' offices, meeting rooms, locker room and permanent seating in the north end zone.

2006: New video and message boards are installed at the north and south ends of Bill Snyder Family Stadium at a cost of $1.7 million. Th south end of the stadium receives a fully integrated ProStar VideoPlus display system that measures a whopping 23' X 61' and is one of the biggest in college football.

Note: Prior to the opening of Bill Snyder Family Stadium, the Wildcats played in Memorial Stadium, which opened in 1924 and still stands on the main campus. K-State's first football home was on a site that is now Bluemont Elementary School (a few blocks east of campus). The first grandstand for that facility was hoisted in the early 1900s by 1890 KSU graduate and Manhattan lumberyard owner Emil Pfuetz.

K-STATE TRADITIONS

WILDCAT NICKNAME

Through its first 19 seasons of athletic competition, Kansas State had used "Aggies" as its nickname. But prior to the 1915 season, new coach John "Chief" Bender gave his squad the nickname "Wildcats." The moniker lasted the one season Bender coached at K-State. Under Coach Z.G. Clevenger in 1917, the school team became known as the "Farmers." In 1920 another new coach, Charles Bachman, took over the program, renaming the team "Wildcats." This time, the nickname stuck.

WILLIE WILDCAT

Willie, a student bedecked in a oversized Wildcat head, is Kansas State's No. 1 fan. Willie Wildcats are selected yearly by a panel appointed by the cheerleading coach. The mascot is a central part of athletic contests, but also attends functions around the state as an ambassador. Traditionally, the identity of the student portraying Willie is kept secret.

TOUCHDOWN I-XI

In 1922, Hall-of-Famer Charles Bachman asked alumni to consider donating an actual Wildcat to the school to serve as a mascot. KSAC alumni Herbert R. Groome and John E. McCoy, both veterinarians in Twin Falls, Idaho, donated "Touchdown I" to the school shortly after the animal was nursed back to health under their care. (The bobcat had an encounter with a porcupine, and his face and throat were punctured by numerous quills. Unfortunately, Touchdown I never fully recovered from its fight, dying of pneumonia shortly after arriving in Manhattan.)

Although the bobcats have served as K-State's wildcat mascot since 1922, the animals no longer attend K-State games. Touchdown XI, the 11th in the line, was kept at Manhattan's Sunset Zoo.

K-STATE COLORS

The school color Royal Purple was adopted in the fall of 1896 by a committee of "Miss Minnie L. Copeland, Jr. and Miss Winnifred Houghton and Miss Ina E. Holyrod, of the senior class, and perhaps one or more others." Although K-State's only official color is purple, white has been used as a complimentary color for many years. Silver is also a common second or third color. Former head basketball coach Cotton Fitzsimmons incorprated gold during his two-year stint (1968-70), but gold or yellow has not been used since that time. The term "Purple Pride," which is often used in association with KSU athletics, was given rise during the tenure of head football coach Vince Gibson (1967-74).

POWERCAT LOGO

One of the most recognizable athletic logos in the nation is the K-State Powercat. The logo was introduced by Bill Snyder shortly after his arrival in Manhattan as the attitude of the entire athletics department and university was changing.

Manhattan native Tom Bookwalter, in cooperation with head coach Bill Snyder, created the powerful logo that is a prominent feature on the K-State football helmet, at Wagner Field, on the back of the Dev Nelson Pressbox, clothing, flags, bottled water, vanity plates for cars and just about anywhere in Manhattan.

Previous logos used by the athletics department included a line drawing of a wildcat head and the cartoonish "Willie the Wildcat" that is used only by the Alumni Association.

SCHOOL SONGS

The Alma Mater was selected as a result of a 1903 campus contest. H.W. Jones ('88) was responsible for K-State's prized result. Jones' original work was four stanzas including the chorus. His version has been slightly altered over the years to include just two stanzas and the changing of the words from Kansas State Agricultural College to Kansas State University.

Alma Mater

"I know a spot that I love full well, 'Tis not in forest nor yet in dell, ever it holds me with magic spell, I think of thee Alma Mater.

"KSU, we'll carry the banner high, KSU long, long may thy colors fly. Loyal to thee thy children shall swell the cry.

"Hail, Hail, Hail Alma Mater."

Wildcat Victory

"Fight you K-State Wildcats. For Alma Mater fight-fight-fight.

"Glory into combat for the purple and white. Faithful to our colors, we shall ever be, fighting ever fighting for a Wildcat Victory!"

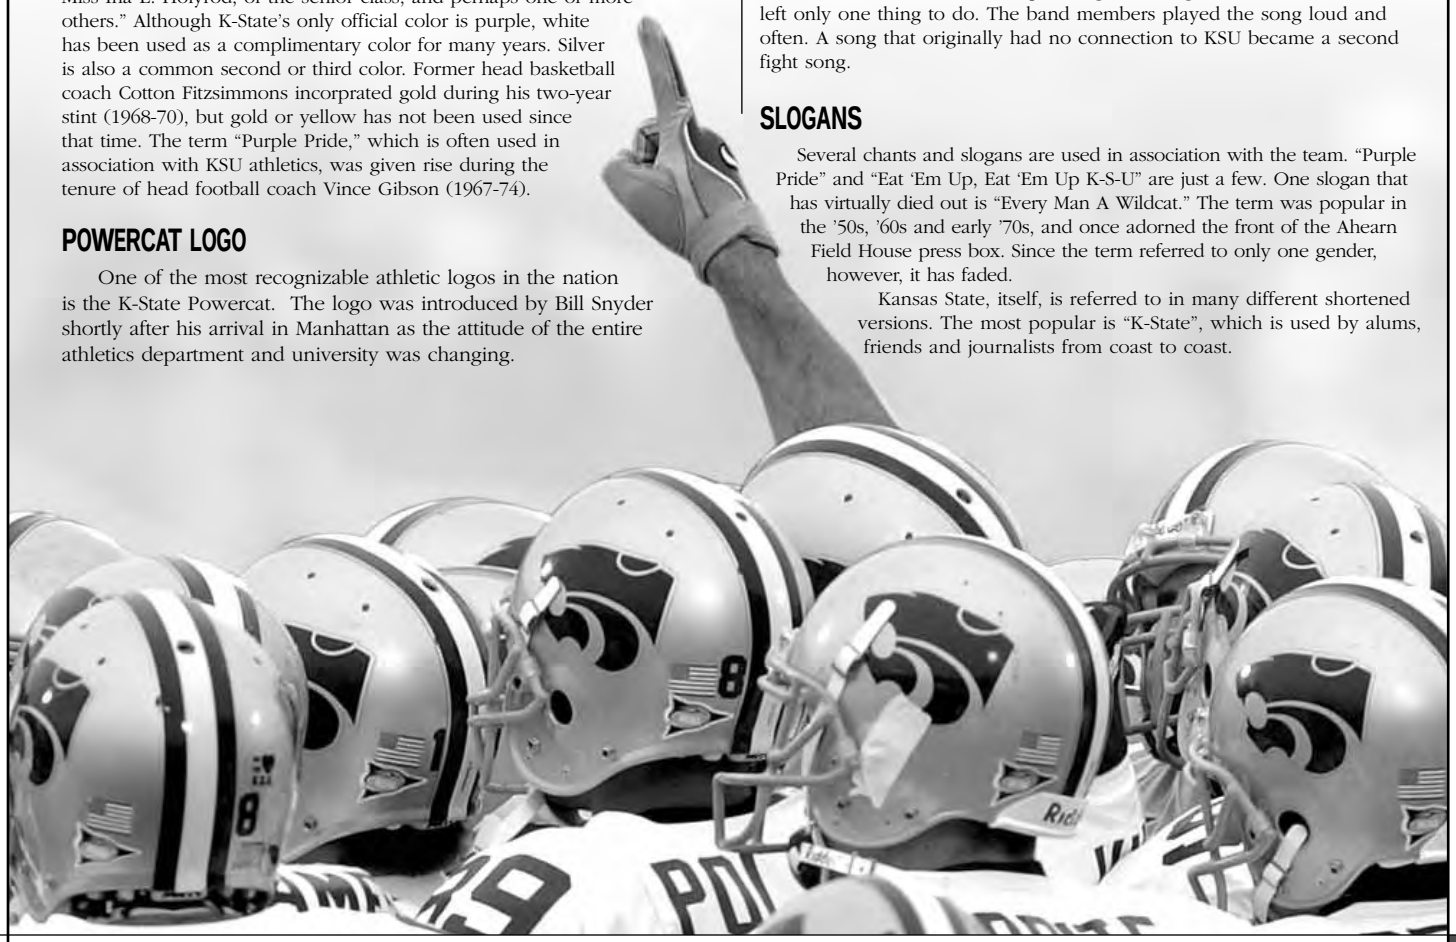
Wabash Cannonball

Everyone knows that familiar tune Wabash Cannonball. In fact, Wabash and K-State are almost synonymous. What many people do not know is how the song became an integral part of Wildcat athletics. In the fall of 1969 the department of music burnt down. Every piece of music in the building was destroyed. The only thing that was salvaged was what was in the band director's brief case. That included a piece of music titled the Wabash Cannonball. With an upcoming football game and no music, that left only one thing to do. The band members played the song loud and often. A song that originally had no connection to KSU became a second fight song.

SLOGANS

Several chants and slogans are used in association with the team. "Purple Pride" and "Eat 'Em Up, Eat 'Em Up K-S-U" are just a few. One slogan that has virtually died out is "Every Man A Wildcat." The term was popular in the '50s, '60s and early '70s, and once adorned the front of the Ahearn Field House press box. Since the term referred to only one gender, however, it has faded.

Kansas State, itself, is referred to in many different shortened versions. The most popular is "K-State", which is used by alums, friends and journalists from coast to coast.



K-STATE TRADITIONS

FIRST GAME

History has forgotten the actual score of the first football game played at the school now called Kansas State University.

On Dec. 2, 1892, a team from Kansas State Agricultural College played its first game. At "quarter back" was a sophomore from Colfax, Ill., named A.D. Benson. Benson had introduced his schoolmates to football when he arrived at KSAC in 1891.

The sport, however, was quickly banned by the college. Five years later, the school's newspaper, the K-State Industrialist, remarked, "It is hoped that our students have the good sense to play even football without violence, but the game as sometimes played is next to barbarism."

In 1896, KSAC played the first game now recorded in K-State's list of all-time scores. A team coached by Ira Pratt traveled to Fort Riley on Thanksgiving Day and lost to a squad comprised of soldiers, 14-0. Later that fall, KSAC played Fort Riley again, and this time the game ended in a 6-6 tie. It was during the 1896 season that KSAC adopted the mascot "Aggies," and selected Royal Purple as the school's official color.

FIRST NIGHT GAME

On Oct. 7, 1932, the Kansas State Wildcats played the first night football game in school history. The team traveled to Salina, Kan., to play Kansas Wesleyan that Friday evening and won the contest, 52-6, before a crowd of about 4,000. All-time great Ralph Graham, known as The Rammer, set a K-State single-game record that still stands by scoring 27 points on four touchdowns and three extra points.

Fifteen years later, on Sept. 20, 1947, K-State played its first night game in Manhattan, losing 12-0 to Oklahoma State at Memorial Stadium.

ROBINSON BREAKS COLOR BARRIER

In 1948, Harold Robinson graduated from Manhattan High School and prepared to become Kansas State's first black student-athlete. After sitting out the 1948 season as all freshmen were required, K-State head coach Ralph Graham in 1949 made Robinson the first African-American to receive an athletic scholarship in the Big Seven Conference.

Robinson, who passed away in May of 2006, was named an All-Conference center in 1950, his junior season, despite playing for a 1-9-1 K-State team. Robinson gained the considerable respect of opponents and fans despite the smoldering racism that was so pervasive during his playing days. He wasn't allowed to stay at the same hotel as his teammates on many road trips, instead staying in private residences. Hoyt Givens did not play in 1949, but joined Robinson on the varsity in 1950 as a non-scholarship player.

Following Robinson as a barrier breaker in Big Seven baseball in 1952 was Earl Woods, the father of golf superstar Tiger Woods. Other K-Stater's instrumental in breaking down the color barrier were Gene Wilson in basketball in 1952, Veryl Switzer, Norman Mills, Clifford Bizek and Herman Wilson in track in 1953 and Don Harris in tennis in 1952. Switzer earned All-America honors in football and went on to be the fourth player selected in the NFL draft by the Green Bay Packers in 1954.

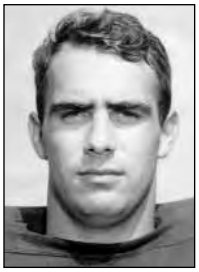
GOVERNOR'S TROPHY

The Governor's Trophy Game between Kansas State University and the University of Kansas was initiated in 1969 by Gov. Robert Docking. The original traveling trophy was retired following the 1996 K-State victory. A new trophy was introduced following the 48-16 win at Manhattan in 1997. The trophy is presented to the winning team and coaches in the winner's dressing room immediately following each year's game.

RING OF HONOR

Kansas State started a new tradition in 2002, as the football program announced the inaugural Ring of Honor Class. The distinction is designed to recognize those in the football program who have distinguished themseleves on and off the field. Among the criteria considered is graduation from Kansas State with a student-athlete having been out of school for at least five years, quality of character, whether the person is an excellent representative of K-State and whether a person has achieved performance that warrents consensus All-America level status at Kansas State.

KEN OCHS COURAGE AWARD



KEN OCHS

Ken Ochs was a 6-foot, 208-pound long shot to make the K-State football team in 1966. The La Crosse, Kan., native made the K-State team but suffered a leg injury during that spring's drills. After his leg didn't respond to treatment, it was discovered that Ochs had a malignant bone tumor. His leg was amputated six inches above the knee.

Ochs returned to K-State and earned his degree in the spring of 1969. By then, he was a manager for the football team, and the program had named an honor for personal courage in his name. Ken Ochs died of cancer Oct. 3, 1969.

GOLDEN CATS

One of the truly unique aspects of Kansas State football under Bill Snyder is the Golden Cat Program - a group of former K-State football players, managers, trainers, coaches and support staff who make contributions directly to the football program. The primary purpose is to bring together all of the past members of the football program, to provide opportunities for them to reunite and spend time with teammates of the past, support the student-athletes who presently represent their program and help unite Kansas State University in a way never accomplished before. The organization brings additional funds into the football program and enables former athletes to enjoy the rewards, success and activities of supporting their school.

The Golden Cat program was developed in 1990 with each Golden Cat making a financial contribution to help assist with capital improvements related to football. The Golden Cat Club is the strongest team-sport support group at Kansas State. The club has provided strong financial assistance through the purchase of such things as weight equipment, rehab equipment and computers for the Academic Learning Center.

For the Golden Cats, it's a great opportunity to give back to the program, plus they can witness first-hand how their contributions have enhanced the opportunities of current and future football student-athletes.

In turn, the Golden Cats truly remain a part of the program, while receiving various privileges such as the brass name plates, pregame tailgate parties, Golden Cat clothing, video tapes, game program recognition and other memorabilia.

GOOD FOR A WILDCAT FIRST DOWN!

It was 1993 and the first year of the new $3.3 million press box. K-State's public address announcer began what would become a K-State tradition. After a Wildcat first down, he would say, "Good for a Wildcat first down." Throughout the 1993 season, the P.A. announcer did this ritual alone. However, he said at the beginning of the 1994 season the crowd started to join in on the catchy phrase. They began to shout it with him. Now, with the addition of the first down and touchdown arm motions, K-State's P.A. announcer now no longer even needs to finish the phrase as the Wildcat fans finish it for him.

HARLEY DAY

CAMPUS LEADERSHIP

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

DR. JON WEFALD

Kansas State University President
Pacific Lutheran '59

Few college presidents have been as well recognized nationally for improving the athletic and academic programs on a campus as has Kansas State's Jon Wefald. Lauded by publications from the Christian Science Monitor to Sports Illustrated to USA Today, and by broadcasters like Paul Harvey, the accomplishments during Wefald's tenure have been well noted in the national media, with USA Today called the achievements the "miracle in Manhattan".

Under Wefald's leadership, K-State has added over 2.0 million square feet of new university buildings, including a new library, a new art museum, and a nationally acclaimed plant science building. In addition, during the Wefald years enrollments increased from about 16,000 to more than 23,000; K-State has built a healthy endowment program and established a national presence in athletics. With Wefald at the helm, K-State's total research funding increased to record numbers. The university returns nearly $17 for every $1 of state funding it receives.

Since his arrival in 1986, K-State leads the nation's public universities in the total number of Rhodes, Marshall, Truman, Goldwater and Udall scholarship winners. K-State students have won more Truman scholarships, more Goldwater scholarships and more Phi Kappa Phi Fellowships than any other public university in the nation. By recognizing and encouraging excellence, Wefald has helped K-State achieve the pinnacle of success.

Before coming to K-State, Wefald served as Chancellor of the State University System in Minnesota from 1982-86, a system comprised of seven universities. He was president of Southwest State in Marshall, Minn., from 1977-82; Minnesota's Commissioner of Agriculture from 1971-77; and a member of the faculty at Gustavus Adolphus from 1965-70.

He earned a B.A. from Pacific Lutheran in 1959, a M.A. in history and political science from Washington State University in 1961, and a doctorate in history from the University of Michigan in 1965.

Born Nov. 24, 1937, Wefald is married to the former Ruth Ann Joynt. They have two adult sons, Skipp and Andy, both have earned degrees from K-State and both married K-State graduates.

BOB KRAUSE

Vice President for Institutional Advancement
Western Illinois '67

Bob Krause has played a key role in the development of both the university and the athletic department since his appointment as K-State's vice president for institutional advancement in September 1986.

Krause is the chief student affairs officer for Kansas State University and also oversees many of the day-to-day operations of the athletic department. He coordinates the university's on-going activities with the KSU Foundation, the K-State Alumni Association and works with various external groups such as the Board of Regents and other governmental agencies.

Since his arrival at K-State, Krause has focused attention on ways to improve the attraction and retention of students; means by which the university can better assist Manhattan and the state of Kansas in the area of economic development through cooperative endeavors with local and state agencies; and ways to expand public awareness regarding the value society receives from the teaching, research and service provided by K-State faculty.

Krause came to K-State from the Minnesota State University System, where he served as director of student affairs from 1983 to 1986. In that role, he coordinated system-wide policy and program development for seven state universities enrolling some 51,000 students. From 1975 to 1983, he served as vice president for student affairs at Southwest State University in Minnesota.

Krause received his bachelor's degree in art education and art from Western Illinois University in 1967 and his master's in college student personnel work from Michigan State University in 1968.

Born Sept. 12, 1945, Krause is married to Dr. Marty Vanier. He has three daughters - Katie and Kirsten, both graduates of K-State, and Kathy, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

DR. MICHAEL HOLEN

Faculty Athletics Representative
Dean, College of Education
Stanford '67

Asking 18 and 19-year-old college students what career they're preparing for isn't a question Michael Holen, dean of College of Education, tends to ask. Instead, Holen encourages students to pursue academic programs to provide them a range of intellectual experiences well beyond what they would need in any specific job.

Holen, who has served as Faculty Athletics Representative since May of 1999, came to K-State in 1971. He has served as a professor, department head and associate dean before being named dean of education in 1991. In 2004, he was appointed the Skeen Professor of Education as part of the university's Faculty of Distinction program.

In 1988, Holen received the Presidential Award for Distinguished Service to Minority Education after helping many predominantly black universities develop academic programs and administrative systems. In 2002, the faculty of the Leadership Studies Program named their annual outstanding leadership award in his honor. He has twice chaired the Regents' Council of Education Deans and serves as K-State's Faculty Athletics Representative to the Big 12 Conference.

Holen earned his bachelor's degree in history and literature from Stanford University and his master's and doctorate degrees in educational psychology, both from the University of Oregon. He was designated Oregon's 2004 Distinguished Alumnus of the College of Education.

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

TIM WEISER

Athletics Director
Emporia State '81, '82

In just five years as Athletics Director at Kansas State, Tim Weiser has guided Wildcat athletics to an unprecedented level of success that has seen it emerge as one of the Big 12 Conference's premier programs.

And while he is quick to deflect praise for Kansas State's accomplishments toward student-athletes, coaches, staff, university administrators and the program's loyal fans, few can argue that Weiser's visionary leadership has spearheaded a complete transformation of the athletics department that has K-State poised to meet the challenges of the 21st Century.

Guided by a philosophy of providing the best possible experience for Kansas State's student-athletes, Weiser, who recently agreed to a 10-year rollover contract extension, has been able to focus the efforts of an entire department and as a result usher in the most successful era in athletics ever at K-State.

Since his arrival in July of 2001, Weiser, 48, has employed a combination of strong management principles and his sound financial planning to yield consistent growth in the areas of revenues, donor and corporate support and facility enhancement.

This focus on fund-raising and fiscal responsibility has enabled Kansas State to undertake an aggressive yet fiscally responsible approach to facility improvements that have yielded across-the-board upgrades for nearly all of K-State's 16 intercollegiate athletics programs.

In the last two years alone, K-State has completed a nearly $6 million upgrade to the Vanier Sports Complex and Bill Snyder Family Stadium, constructed new team facilities for the track & field and rowing programs, and installed new playing surfaces in just about all of its competitive and practice venues, including new FieldTurf in the Indoor Football Complex, Brandeberry Indoor Complex and Tointon Family Stadium.

During his first year at Kansas State, construction was completed on Frank Myers Field at Tointon Family Stadium, bringing the Wildcats' baseball facility to a stature as one of the best in the Big 12 Conference.

Kansas State's annual athletics operating budget has also taken quantum leaps forward under Weiser's direction, growing from $27 million in fiscal year 2001 to one projected at over $37 million for the upcoming academic year. Additionally, Weiser's forward-thinking philosophies have established the department's first-ever reserve fund as K-State has finished in the black in each year of his tenure.

On the field, the Wildcats continue to enjoy unprecedented success. K-State has sent no fewer than 10 of its 16 teams on to postseason play in each of the last three years, while producing 38 All-Americans.

In 2003-04, Weiser's third year at the helm, Kansas State became the first Big 12 institution to win conference championships in three top-tier sports (football, volleyball, women's basketball) in the same year. And, if you consider that K-State also had at least one first-team academic All-American on each of those championship teams, one begins to get a clear picture of what K-State athletics have become during Weiser's tenure.

Kansas State has also become one of the conference leaders in classroom achievement. Over the past three years nearly half of K-State's student-athletes have achieved a grade-point average of 3.0 or better, earning Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll distinction.

The popularity of Wildcat athletics has also skyrocketed to an all-time high under Weiser's direction. The football and men's basketball programs are expected to both produce impressive increased season-ticket sales numbers in 2006-07, while the women's volleyball and basketball programs both continue to rank among the national leaders in attendance. On the diamond, K-State baseball enjoyed its highest average season attendance ever at Tointon Family Stadium during 2006.

This increase in popularity, combined with the public's confidence in Weiser's leadership, has helped generate record revenues in the areas of fund-raising, corporate sponsorship and media rights. The number of contributors to the Mike Ahearn Scholarship fund is now approaching 8,000, representing a 25 percent increase over 2002-03 and a nearly 50 percent increase from Weiser's first year at K-State. Corporate support of K-State athletics is also at an all-time high, buoyed by a record-setting five-year sponsorship pact with ALLTEL.

Weiser has also negotiated new deals for K-State's radio and third-tier television rights, including a 10-year multimedia and marketing rights contract with Learfield Communications, Inc., that is the largest revenue contract in the history of Wildcat athletics.

In an effort to continue this era of success, Weiser implemented a first-ever Strategic Plan to serve as a blueprint for the department during the next three years. The plan encompasses every aspect of the department and includes K-State's ongoing effort to provide its student-athletes with top-notch facilities.

Weiser's accomplishments in bringing significant and positive changes to the K-State athletics landscape have not gone unnoticed as he has developed a strong profile on the national level. A recently-named member of the NCAA Championships Cabinet as well as the NCAA Baseball Committee, Weiser was selected as the 2004-05 NACDA Central Region Athletics Director of the Year in June. He has also received the General Robert Neyland Outstanding Athletics Director Award from the All-America Football Foundation and is a member of the Executive Committee of NACDA.

As an active member of the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Director's Association Board of Directors, Weiser has additionally been involved with a number of university visits as part of the NCAA Division I Peer Review program.

Named Kansas State's 13th Director of Athletics on July 1, 2001, Weiser's arrival at K-State was a homecoming for the native Kansan, who was raised in Great Bend and received his bachelor's degree in psychology and a master's in counseling from Emporia State while competing on a baseball scholarship.

He came to Kansas State after a successful three-year run as Director of Athletics at Colorado State, where Ram athletics experienced a similar renaissance that included record increases in fund-raising and revenue generation and the completion of the $8 million Fum McGraw athletic center.

Weiser also played a central role in the development of the Mountain West Conference during his CSU tenure. He was involved in hiring the commissioner, negotiating television packages and developing the conference's constitution and by-laws.

Prior to his tenure at Colorado State, Weiser served as athletics director at Eastern Michigan for four years and held the same position at Austin Peay State University from July 1988 to September 1993.

At Eastern Michigan, he directed an athletics department which included 22 sports. In his four seasons, he turned a deficit of more than a half-million dollars into a six-figure surplus while simultaneously adding two new women's sports. In all, EMU won 14 conference championships during his tenure and in 1996 captured the Reese Trophy, awarded annually by the Mid-American Conference for overall excellence in men's sports. He also directed and supervised the design and construction of a $30 million convocation center which opened in October 1998.

In his first stint as an athletics director at Austin Peay, Weiser's five-year tenure witnessed the development of a number of academic programs to enhance the support of student-athletes at the school while spearheading various fund-raising endeavors which generated more than $1 million in facility improvements.

Weiser worked for five years at Wichita State, serving in various roles from February 1983 through July 1988. He directed the compliance office and supervised the academic support unit before moving into a role in the development office, where he was responsible for the bulk of fund-raising for improvements to Wichita State's baseball facility. Weiser spent his last year at Wichita State as the associate athletics director and was responsible for day-to-day operations of the Shockers' programs.

Weiser and his wife, Susan, are the parents of two children. Melanie is a gymnast at the University of Arizona, while Rudy is currently a standout catcher on the Manhattan High School baseball team.

JIM EPPS

Senior Associate Athletics Director
Washburn '68

Jim Epps is in his 28th year at Kansas State, where he supervises internal operations for the athletics department. Prior to being named senior associate athletics director during the summer of 1990, Epps was an associate athletics director for the department.

In 1987, he was elevated from administrative assistant to special assistant to the head football coach. Prior to that, he spent five years as KSU's academic counselor for Wildcat football. He became assistant academic counselor in 1979, and worked in that position until joining the staff in 1982.

He received his master's degree in psychology from Pittsburg State in 1972, and his bachelor's degree in psychology from Washburn in 1968. The Grandview, Mo., native is married to the former Phyllis Luginbill, and they are the parents of one daughter, Sarah, and one son, Ned.

ERNIE BARRETT

Director of Development
Kansas State '51

First as an All-America basketball player, later as the athletics director and now as a fund-raiser, Ernie Barrett has more than earned the title of "Mr. K-State" during his six decades of involvement with the athletics department.

Barrett serves as the athletics department's director of development and spearheaded the $5.5 million drive for the five-story Dev Nelson Press Box and indoor football facility. He also has been the driving force behind the Academic Learning Center located at the Vanier Sports Complex, the renovation of Ahearn Field House for women's volleyball and the construction of the women's basketball offices at the Foundation building.

Barrett accepted that position in January of 1991 after working as a consultant in the department's portion of the Essential Edge Campaign, a university-wide project with a goal of raising $100 million, including $15 million for the athletics department.

Barrett's fund-raising efforts for the department actually began in 1961, when he made the transition from assistant basketball coach to assistant athletics director. He later served as KSU's athletics director from 1969-1976 and spearheaded fund-raising campaigns for KSU Stadium, the athletics dormitory, artificial turf, the R.V. Christian Track and Field Complex, Dev Nelson Press Box, the indoor football facility, the Academic Learning Center, Colbert Hills Golf Course and Tointon Family Stadium.

Barrett began his K-State basketball career in 1947 and capped it by earning All-America honors and captained the Cats to the NCAA Championship game in 1951. Following the championship game, he played in the East-West All-Star game in Madison Square Gardens, where he was voted Most Valuable Player. Barrett was a first round draft choice and played professionally for the legendary Boston Celtics. He and his wife, Bonnie, have two sons, Brad and Duane (deceased).

BOB CAVELLO

Assoc. Athletics Director/ Business Operations
Air Force Academy '87

Bob Cavello enters his 11th year at Kansas State, where he oversees all financial, contractual and business operations for the athletics department and the Intercollegiate Athletics Corporation and oversees the men's and women's golf programs.

Cavello is a past president of the College Athletic Business Management Association. He also serves on NCAA Institutional Certification Teams in the areas of fiscal integrity, sportsmanship and student-athlete welfare.

Prior to K-State, Cavello was an officer in the United States Air Force and served as the Athletics Business Manager at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he managed the financial operations of the Academy's 27 intercollegiate teams from 1993-96. Cavello was also involved in the operations of hosting the 1995 U.S. Olympic Sports Festival, the McDonald's High School All-Star Game and the Denver Nuggets preseason basketball camps. Earlier in his Air Force career, Cavello was fortunate enough to fly in an F-15 Eagle, break the sound barrier in a T-38 Talon and spend a month in New Zealand and Australia working as a volunteer for the Pro Beach Volleyball Australia Tour.

Cavello earned his bachelor's degree from the Air Force Academy in 1987 and a master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in sports administration from the University of Northern Colorado in 1998. Bob and his wife Bianca, a native of Manhattan Beach, Calif., have two children - son Joey, 12, and daughter Jordan, 10.

PHIL HUGHES

Assoc. Athletics Director/ Student Services
UC San Diego '80

Phil Hughes begins his ninth year at Kansas State as the associate athletics director for student services. He directs all aspects of the academic support programs and student services for athletics.

One of the nation's top academic advisors, Hughes was honored by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics with the 2005 Lan Hewlett Award for his service to student-athletes and excellence in academic advising.

Prior to coming to K-State, Hughes spent seven years at the University of Michigan. At Michigan, he was responsible for the athletics department's student-athlete support program including academic advising, academic compliance, tutorial services, admissions tracking, faculty relations and academic advocacy.

For three years prior to working at Michigan, Hughes served as the assistant athletics director for student life at Tulane University in New Orleans, La.

A 1980 graduate of University of California, San Diego, Hughes earned a master's degree in counseling psychology from the University of Kentucky.

KURT McGUFFIN

Assoc. Athletics Director/ Development
Kansas State '96

Kurt McGuffin is in his seventh year in the Kansas State development office. Promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Development in June of 2005, McGuffin heads up K-State's annual giving efforts, while overseeing strategic planning for the development and ticket offices.

Prior to joining the K-State staff in 2000, McGuffin spent one year as assistant athletics director for development at the University of Idaho where he was responsible for all fund-raising in Southern Idaho and assisted with a $10 million capital campaign for facility expansion. He graduated with a master's degree in sports administration from Wichita State in the spring of 2000 after working as a graduate assistant for the Shocker Athletic Scholarship Organization. He was Director of Men's Basketball Operations at Eastern Washington during the 1997-98 season.

A native of Iola, Kan., McGuffin earned a bachelor's from Kansas State in 1996 and a master's from Wichita State in 1999. While at K-State, he served as a student manager for the Wildcat men's basketball program from 1992-97.

He is married to the former Jessica Whisler, a 1997 K-State graduate. The couple as a son, Bryce.

CASEY SCOTT

Assoc. Athletics Director/ Operations
Kansas State '77

Now is his 22nd season in athletics administration, Casey Scott joined the K-State athletics staff in January 2002.

A graduate of Kansas State University from Wichita, Kan., Scott directs the department's internal operations, supervising the Athletics Operations unit comprised of event management, facilities maintenance and construction, sports information and matters involving K-State Sports Properties, the multimedia rights holder for K-State Athletics. In addition, Scott serves as administrator for the sports of men's basketball and baseball.

Since joining the staff at K-State, Scott has participated in the merging of the Bramlage Coliseum operation under the direction of the athletics department and numerous facility enhancements. In the past year upgrades include the final phases of the three-year, $6 million renovation of the Vanier Athletic Complex and north end zone seating area; the $1.7 million installation of new video and message boards in Bill Snyder Family Stadium, the installation of FieldTurf in the indoor football practice facility, Brandeberry Indoor Complex and on the infield and warning track areas of Tointon Family Stadium; the construction of the John Allen Strength Center at Tointon Family Stadium, and the remodeling of the volleyball team locker room and lounge and basketball strength training area. Other major projects completed during Scott's tenure have included the construction of the new Christian Track and team facility; construction of the new Briedenthal Boathouse; the restoration of the Brandeberry Indoor Complex; the addition of stadium lighting, scoreboard and batting cages at Tointon Stadium and construction of new offices, editing bays and studio for the Communications department.

On the event side, K-State has successfully hosted two NCAA women's basketball tournaments, three NCAA volleyball tournaments, the pre- and post-season WNIT, the Big 12 Conference outdoor track and field championships, cross country championships and men's golf championship.

Prior to his appointment at K-State, Scott served as Associate Athletics Director for External Operations at Colorado State, where he oversaw the Rams' marketing, fund-raising, ticketing and special-event operations.

After serving for eight years as a staff writer in news and sports at The Wichita Eagle-Beacon, Scott began his athletics administration career in 1985 as Sports Information Director at Wichita State University. During his more than 12 years on the Shocker staff, he served in roles as Assistant Athletics Director for External Operations, Facilities and Events, and Associate Athletics Director until leaving for Colorado State in 1998.

Scott earned a B.S. in journalism and mass communication from Kansas State in 1977. He and his wife, Christy, have a son, Brett, and a daughter, Shannon.

LAURA TIETJEN

Assoc. Athletics Director/
Senior Woman Administrator
Nebraska '81

Laura Tietjen begins her seventh year at K-State as Senior Woman Administrator and Associate Athletics Director. She plays a significant role in the overall progress and development of the athletics programs, and specifically the women's programs. She also oversees the areas of marketing and promotions for all sports, while serving as administrator for women's basketball, volleyball, equestrian, rowing and tennis.

Tietjen came to K-State after spending five years in the athletics department at the University of Evansville, including the last two and a half years as the director of athletics. In her first year as athletics director, a school-record three Purple Aces' teams - women's soccer, men's basketball and women's basketball - won Missouri Valley Conference Championships and reached the NCAA Division I Tournament. In her second year, women's soccer and baseball reached the NCAAs, while women's basketball played in the National Invitational Tournament. Tietjen also worked closely with university officials to a form a comprehensive plan for on-campus facilities that included the opening of a new soccer stadium in 2000 and new baseball and softball stadiums in 2002. Prior to her stint at Evansville, she spent nine years at the University of Nebraska-Kearney, including three as assistant women's basketball coach and head women's tennis coach, and eight years as senior woman administrator and compliance coordinator.

Tietjen earned her bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1981 where she played basketball and earned the 1980 Harmon Award as the Cornhuskers' most outstanding female athlete. She also has a master's degree from Nebraska-Kearney and has done doctoral work at the University of New Mexico in athletic and educational administration.

DAVID FLORES

Asst. Athletics Director/
Compliance
UTEP '96

David Flores is in his third year at Kansas State and serves as Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance. Flores' duties include monitoring all NCAA and Big 12 Conference compliance issues as well as working with initial and continuing eligibility, coordinating K-State coach's camps and clinics, recruiting issues, plus issues involving student-athlete welfare.

A native of Alamogordo, N.M., Flores came to Kansas State from the University of New Mexico after a four-year stint with the Lobos' athletics department, including the final two as compliance coordinator. He also worked as the academic advisor for men's basketball, women's soccer and men's and women's golf at UNM.

Prior to his arrival at New Mexico in May of 2000, Flores worked in the academic advisement office at Texas Tech for two years (1998-2000), concentrating his efforts on the Red Raiders' football and men's basketball teams.

In 1997, Flores went to work at his alma mater, the University of Texas, El Paso and was instrumental in developing an advising program for student-athletes while serving as the interim program coordinator for UTEP athletics.

A former quarterback at the University of Texas-El Paso, Flores earned Western Athletic Conference All-Academic honors in 1987 and played for a coaching staff that featured current K-State assistant coach Mo Latimore. He received a bachelor's degree in criminal justice from UTEP in 1996.

LON FLOYD

Asst. Athletics Director/
Catbacker Clubs
Kansas State '67

Lon Floyd is in his 12th year at Kansas State and his first as Assistant Athletics Director for Catbacker Clubs. His duties include organizing and administrating Catbacker Club events, coordinating CatTown activities, the Cabela's Ahearn Scholarship Fishing Tournament and the Steer-A-Year Drive. Floyd also coordinates the Wheels of Support Car program.

Floyd, 61, earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1967 and a master's in physical eduction in 1971 at Kansas State. He served as an assistant track coach from 1969-73 under former head coach and current Texas athletics director DeLoss Dodds. Floyd helped the team to four top-25 finishes at the NCAA Indoor Championships and two top-20 finishes at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. He then worked in administration at the Kingman (Kan.) school district from 1973-81. Prior to re-joining the K-State staff in 1996, Floyd was a State Farm Insurance agent from 1981-96.

An accomplished auctioneer, Floyd served as the meet director for the 2005 Big 12 Outdoor Track and Field Championships held at Kansas State. He served as meet manager and referee at the Big 12 Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships for 24 years.

A native of Kinsley, Kan., Floyd has two children, Michael, a 1995 K-State graduate, and Stacey, a 1998 graduate.

CHARLIE THOMAS

Asst. Athletics Director/
Facility Operations
South Florida '81

Charlie Thomas joined the K-State staff in 1987 as Director of Bramlage Coliseum. He has since been elevated to Assistant Athletics Director for Facility Operations.

In his position, Thomas manages all administrative and facility operations of Bramlage Coliseum.

Before coming to Kansas State, Thomas spent five years as the Associate Director of the SunDome for the University of South Florida in Tampa, Fla.

A native of Tallahassee, Fla., he received his bachelor's degree in journalism and mass communications from South Florida in 1981.

Thomas holds professional memberships in the Association of Arena Managers and the Rotary Club. He is married to Sue Peterson, Kansas State's Assistant to the President for Governmental Relations.

KANSAS STATE DEPARTMENT OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Mission Statement

The mission of the Kansas State University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is to provide, within the context of available resources, an environment that supports the educational objectives, academic progress and general welfare of student-athletes and allows them to compete at the highest levels of athletics. Our mission is also to embrace the guidelines and principles established by the Big XII Conference and NCAA, which promote the principles of sportsmanship and ethical conduct. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to providing fair and equitable treatment for all student-athletes and athletic department personnel, including women and minorities.

Philosophy Statement

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics shall assure that all intercollegiate sports programs and department operations are consistent with the mission of Kansas State University. Student-athletes and department employees should be treated fairly and equitably regardless of gender or race. All department activities will be conducted within the rules, regulations and policies of Kansas State University, the Big XII Conference and the NCAA.

The Department's decision-making process shall be based upon consideration of the academic, emotional and physical welfare of every current and future student-athlete. The learning experience to be provided to student-athletes should promote social, moral, emotional, cultural, and vocational growth and development and should emphasize the value of sportsmanship, loyalty, teamwork, & individual accountability. An environment promoting excellence will allow the physically talented and gifted student-athlete to achieve maximum potential.

WHAT EVERY ALUMNUS AND BOOSTER OF KANSAS STATE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NCAA

As a supporter of K-State, you have a lot of pride in your school. You are proud of KSU's high academic standards, our adherence to values and the overall quality of the K-State experience.

Kansas State has a long tradition of integrity but to help assure compliance with NCAA and conference rules, please take a few minutes to read this information. The eligibility of Kansas State's student-athletes and reputation of the department and university depend greatly upon your cooperation.

Key Points

A 'representative' of Kansas State's athletic interests is: an individual who is known (or who should have been known) by a member of K-State's executive or athletics administration to:

A) have participated in or to be a member of an agency or organization promoting KSU athletics.

B) have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of K-State.

C) have been involved otherwise in promoting the institution's athletic program.

D) bought or received tickets to a K-State athletics event.

Once an individual is identified as an 'athletic representative,' the person retains that identity forever.

Key Rule: NCAA BYLAW 13.01.5

In Division I, representatives of athletics interest are prohibited from making in-person, on-or-off campus recruiting contacts, written, telephonic communications or e-mail transactions with a prospect or the prospect's relatives or legal guardians.

Interpretations

1. A representative of a Division I institution is prohibited from making in-person recruiting contact with a prospect and his or her parents/guardian on or off campus.

Limited Exception: You may have contact with a prospect regarding permissible pre-enrollment activities such as summer employment, provided the prospect has already signed a National Letter of Intent and K-State is aware that you are making these contacts in regard to employment.

2. A Division I representative is prohibited from writing or telephoning a prospect and his or her parents or legal guardians.

Limited Exception: You may have a phone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by a K-State staff member and you are not permitted to have a recruiting conversation, but may exhibit normal civility. You must refer any questions about the University's athletic program to the athletic department.

3. A representative is prohibited from contacting a prospect's coach, principal, or counselor in an attempt to evaluate the prospect.

Limited Exception: NCAA rules do not preclude you from viewing a prospect's contest on your own initiative, but you may not contact the prospect, pick up game films or transcripts.

What can I do?

If you know of a high school or junior college student-athlete who might want to attend Kansas State, the only permissible activity for a representative is to call the appropriate K-State coach.

What is an 'Extra Benefit?'

An extra benefit would include provision of any transportation, meals, clothes, entertainment, preferential loan terms, wages not commensurate with duties, or other benefits offered to a prospect or current student-athlete which is unavailable to the general student population.

What can you do with prospects?

DO feel free to attend high school and junior college athletic events. You simply cannot have any contact with the prospective student-athletes or relatives. Should you find yourself seated next to parents of a prospect, DO NOT initiate conversation with the relatives. If conversation is initiated with you, respond in a civil manner, but DO NOT discuss K-State's athletic program with them. If they raise questions about athletics, remind them that the NCAA prohibits you from discussing athletics with them. Direct their questions to the athletic department. You MAY discuss the University in general, and its academic programs.

DO continue established family relationships with friends and neighbors. Contacts with sons and daughters of those families are permitted as long as they are not made for recruiting purposes and are not prompted by Wildcat coaching staff members. You ARE permitted to play 'pick up' games, continue neighborhood picnics or backyard barbecues and engage in your normal activities with prospects and their parents who are family friends.

DO feel free to attend a public event (i.e. awards dinner) at which prospects are in attendance. NO attempt should be made to contact or recruit the prospect at these events.

What can I do for current K-State athletes?

DO feel free to invite a student-athlete to your home for an occasional meal, but you must first contact the coach in the sport in which the student-athlete is a participant. Remember, the student-athlete must provide his or her own transportation. You may do this a maximum of one time per school term per athlete.

DO feel free to invite a team for dinner or to meet with a group of alumni in a city where they are competing. The NCAA permits student-athletes AS A TEAM to receive special benefits not permitted as individuals. Arrangements for such events must be made in advance with the head coach or appropriate athletic staff member.

How can I assist with summer employment?

DO pay student-athletes employed by you for work actually performed and at a rate commensurate with the going rate for similar services in the community and your business.

DO notify the head coaches or the athletic department of job possibilities for student-athletes.

Other questions and answers:

Q. May I accompany the coach during a 'home' visit with the prospect?

A. No

Q. May I drive a prospect to a secondary school's reception in my local area?

A. No, unless such arrangements are made for all students in attendance.

Q. May a booster group finance a season-ending banquet? May it purchase any awards for the team?

A. Yes, provided all funds are expended through the athletic department. Since the NCAA has established a value limit on awards received by student-athletes, it is important to have all awards approved by the athletic department.

Additional reminders

1. Please contact the athletic department for NCAA rules interpretations.
2. Remember that in most cases CONTACT is prohibited.
3. Questions: 785. 532.6910. Ask for David Flores.

MEDIA INFORMATION

Thank you for your interest in Kansas State football. The K-State Sports Information Office has produced the 2006 media guide to assist in your coverage of the Wildcats. Please feel free to contact any member of our staff with questions, requests or concerns. We look forward to working with you throughout the 2006 season.

COVERING KANSAS STATE

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Head football coach Ron Prince hosts a weekly media conference each Tuesday at the Vanier Sports Complex beginning at Noon. Lunch will be served at 11:30 a.m., with requested players available from 12:30 to 1 p.m. To request players for the weekly conference, media should contact sports information director Garry Bowman by noon each proceeding Monday at 785.532.6735 or via e-mail at gbowman@ksu.edu. If a player has a class conflict, an alternate time can may be arranged.

MEDIA CONFERENCE UPLINKS

The first 15 minutes of Ron Prince's weekly press conference is available via satellite each Tuesday. Contact the K-State Sports Information Office for coordinate information. Quotes from the news conference are available on Tuesday afternoon on www.k-statesports.com.

OTHER AVAILABILITY

Ron Prince: In addition to Kansas State's Tuesday media gathering, head coach Ron Prince is available to the media each Monday on the Big 12 Conference's weekly teleconference. Coach Prince is also available on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons between Noon and 1 p.m. (this option is primarily for out-of-town media), and after practice on Wednesdays.

Players: All player interviews MUST be arranged through the K-State Sports Information Office. During the season, Wildcat players are available to the media at Tuesday's media conference and following practice on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. No player interviews will be arranged after Wednesday on the week of a game.

PRACTICE

Selected preseason practices will be open to the media and fans. Please contact the Kansas State Sports Information Office or consult the official K-State website, www.k-statesports.com, for the schedule of open practices. Once the season begins, all practices are closed to the public and media.

GAMEDAY INFORMATION

WORKING CREDENTIALS

Media outlets interested in covering Kansas State football on either a season or individual-game basis are requested to submit all applications for credentials through the K-State Sports Information football credential application website. To access the site, please visit www.k-statesports.com/media. The K-State Sports Information office will no longer process written request for football credentials.

Because of inconsistent mail delivery service on tight deadlines, media passes may not be mailed in some instances. If this is the case, passes may be picked up at the Will Call window located on the West Side of Bill Snyder Family Stadium beginning two hours prior to kickoff. Individuals picking up credentials will be required to furnish positive identification. All credentials are non-transferable and are issued based on Kansas State's credential policy.

Admission to the press box is for working media only. Only those media with official K-State credentials will be admitted. Friends, spouses, children and non-workers are not welcome in the press area.

PRESS PARKING

Press parking is limited and will be provided upon request on a first-come, first-served basis as available. Contact the Kansas State Sports Information Office regarding details and directions to press parking areas.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Only accredited photographers on assignment from recognized media outlets will be issued sideline credentials. In accordance with NCAA rules, no freelance photographers will be admitted to the sidelines or press box photo deck. All photographers must have an armband (obtained in the press box on gameday) and a media pass to shoot inside Bill Snyder Family Stadium. NCAA rules limit shooting to outside the restraining line enclosing the playing field and outside the 25-yard lines (the team areas). Children under 16-years-old are not permitted on the sideline.

VISITING RADIO STATIONS

To inquire about access to existing radio courtesy lines, visiting radio stations should contact David Hubbard, K-State Sports Network General Manager, at 785.532.2005. Only those stations recognized as the official originator for the visiting team will be afforded broadcast facilities. For national networks, a rights fee will be charged and broadcast facilities on the photo deck will be made available.

WEB SITES

Kansas State reserves the right to deny media credentials to any individual whose web site is not affiliated with an official news-gathering organization or publication. Credentials will be issued to official online services of national, over-the-air or cable networks or established publications which are staffed by full-time employees (i.e. ESPN.com, SI.com, CBSsportsline.com, etc.) and then with a maximum of one credential.

Credentials will not be granted to any online agency operating sites that are in any way affiliated with gambling, or to "freelance" or "fan-based" sites that are not affiliated with a legitimate news gathering organization or publication.

Membership in a writer's association (i.e. FWAA) does not automatically qualify an agency for credentials.

Additionally, online service are prohibited from "real time" (also know as "cybercast") transmission of all Kansas State athletics events. Those rights are co-owned by Kansas State University, Learfield Communications and the Big 12 Conference. The official website of the opponent will be issued credentials, with a maximum of two.

ROAD CREDENTIALS

Obtaining media credential requests for K-State road games is the sole responsibility of each media outlet and are grated at the discretion of the host institution. Please be specific when requesting the type of credential needed. Opponent SID telephone numbers are listed in the Opponents section of this media guide.

RON PRINCE ON THE AIR

RON PRINCE RADIO SHOW

Affiliates on the K-State Sports Network carry the Ron Prince Show each Monday night during the season. The show originates from the Manhattan Town Center shopping mall from 6-7 p.m. during the season and is open to the public.

RON PRINCE TELEVISION SHOW

The weekly Ron Prince Television Show can be seen throughout the Midwest each Sunday at 11:30 a.m. during the season on Fox Sports Midwest. The half-hour program, produced by Kansas State television specialist Norm Burge and hosted by Wyatt Thompson, features head coach Ron Prince, player and coach spotlights, highlights of past games and previews of upcoming contests.

CREDENTIAL POLICY

Credentials and working space for media members are issued at the sole and exclusive discretion of the Kansas State Sports Information Office, based on the following priorities and guidelines:

1. Originating radio and television personnel involved in a live broadcast.
2. Daily newspapers regularly covering Kansas State University, the current-game opponent or another Big 12 school. Wire services, regional and national publications are also afforded this priority.
3. Non-originating radio and television personnel producing reports on the game. Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a regular sports show receive consideration for credentials.
4. Officially recognized Kansas State University student publications or student electronic media outlets.
5. Non-daily newspapers or publications reporting on the game.

OTHER CREDENTIAL GUIDELINES

- With the exception of beat writers covering Kansas State daily, all passes are issued on a game-by-game basis with consideration of available working space.
- Passes are non-transferable and are subject to immediate revocation if transferred to non-working members of a media outlet.
- Kansas State University and the NCAA prohibit the issuance of credentials to representatives of an organization that regularly publishes gambling information, such as "tout sheets" or "tip sheets".
- Credentials are issued to web sites that are affiliated with web sites for national or regional television and news media organizations, e.g. USA Today Online, ESPN.com, SI.com, CBsSportsLine.com, etc., for institutions that are conference members and non-conference opponents, and for the Big 12 Conference.
- Web sites that sponsor "message boards" or "chat rooms" where people are allowed to post anonymous information or rumors are ineligible for credentials or access to media functions.
- If a news-gathering medium has an on-line site that sponsors these anonymous forums, they may continue to request credentials under its traditional medium (newspaper, magazine, radio or television), but will not be granted additional passes or access for on-line staff.
- Kansas State University reserves the right to deny media credentials to any individual whose web site is not affiliated with a recognized news-gathering organization.
- All persons picking up credentials will be required to furnish positive identification. All credentials are non-transferable.

NOTE: Spouses, dates, non-workers and anyone under 16 years of age are not permitted in the working press area.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA SERVICES

WEEKLY RELEASE

The Kansas State Sports Information Office will provide its weekly football release via e-mail throughout the 2006 season. Updated notes will be faxed only when specifically requested. Game notes will also be posted on www.k-statesports.com Sunday evenings in both text and PDF (Adobe Acrobat) formats. To receive the weekly notes via e-mail on Sundays, please send an e-mail to Sports Information Director Garry Bowman at gbowman@ksu.edu.

WORKING SPACE

Kansas State provides work space for media outlets in the Sports Information Office following each Tuesday media conference. The office is located on the north side of Bramlage Coliseum facing Bill Snyder Family Stadium and is fully equipped with wireless internet access. Telephone lines, copying, printers and archived materials are also available to working members of the media.

OFFICIAL WEBSITES

inside.k-statesports.com

The Kansas State Athletics Department operates two web sites, www.k-statesports.com and inside.k-statesports.com. Both sites are available to the media and the general public and provide a wealth of information on each of K-State's 16 varsity sports. Media and fans are welcome to access everything from the most current media guide to game notes, recaps, schedules, rosters, statistics and biographies on k-statesports.com. Launched in Feburary, inside.k-statesports.com is a video driven site that includes special up-close features, all-access clips and highlights.

GAMEDAY MEDIA SERVICES

DEV NELSON PRESS BOX

There are four levels to the Dev Nelson Press Box: 2-3) Private Suites; 4) Working Press Deck (print media, home and visiting radio networks, home and visiting coaches' booths, opposing athletics director booth); and 5) Photo Deck (includes TV booth, additional radio spots, coaches' video, media overflow).

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Packets including statistics, pregame notes, flipcards and programs will be available for media in the press box prior to the game. Quarter, halftime and final statistics, a running play-by-play and postgame quotes from coaches and players of both teams also will be provided. Live running statistics are also available via monitors throughout the press box and on the Internet at www.k-statesports.com during the game. Final statistics, notes and quotes will be made available to the media following the game and are posted on the K-State Athletics web site shortly after the conclusion of each contest.

POSTGAME POLICY

Kansas State's locker room is closed. Media in the press box will be asked to submit a list of player requests to Sports Information Director Garry Bowman at the start of the fourth quarter. Head coach Ron Prince and requested players will be available in a designated interview area on the second floor of the Vanier Sports Complex following a brief cooling off period.

Those interested in recording Coach Prince's postgame comments should connect their recorders to the distribution amplifier (mult box) provided. Output from the device is microphone level, terminated in 1/8Ó two-conductor plugs and jacks, or three-pin standard microphone male connectors.

The visiting SID will lead media to the visitor's interview area, located outside the visitor's locker room.

POSTGAME SATELLITE FEED

For the 15th year, the Kansas State Sports Information Office will offer postgame satellite feeds following all non-televised home games. The feed will be uplinked shortly after the conclusion of the game and will include several minutes of highlights (with radio voice-over) and postgame interviews if time permits.

INTERNET ACCESS

The Dev Nelson Press Box at Bill Snyder Family Stadium is equipped with high-speed wireless Internet. Media wishing to file stories electronically as well as photographers may access the network with a wireless internet card. A limited number of Ethernet lines are also available for those in need of high-speed access to the Internet. Please contact a member of the K-State Sports Information Office for instructions relating to use of the network.

TELEPHONES

A limited number of charge-per-call telephones are located on press row, and four phones near the Sports Information workroom will be available for filing after the game on a first-come, first-served basis.

All media wishing to have phone lines installed in the press box will be responsible for making their own arrangements.

Phones may be ordered through KSU Telecommunications at 785.532.7001. Please provide the following address to telephone service personnel when requesting phone line installation: Bill Snyder Family Stadium Press Box, 1700 Kimball Avenue, Manhattan, KS 66502. The Bill Snyder Family Stadium press box phone number is 785.539.3423.

MEDIA MEALS

A pregame meal is served on the Press Level (4th Floor) of the Dev Nelson Press Box 90 minutes prior to each game.

Media meal sponsors for the 2006 season include: John Dough Sandwiches (Illinois State); Pizza Hut (Florida Atlantic); the Kansas Poultry Association (Marshall); Carlos O'Kelly's (Louisville); the Kansas Sheep Council (Oklahoma State); Flint Hills Foods (Nebraska); the Kansas Pork Association (Iowa State); and the Kansas Beef Council (Texas).

Milk and dairy products for all games are provided by Hiland/Steffan Dairy of Manhattan. Derby Dining Service provides meal service.

BIG 12 MEDIA SERVICES

WEEKLY SATELLITE FEED

Kansas State football highlights are available on the weekly Big 12 satellite feed. The package, produced by Jeff Watts Productions, includes game-action footage, player and coach interviews and features provided by league institutions. To access the weekly satellite series, contact the Big 12 Sports Information Office at 214.742.1212 or K-State SID Garry Bowman at 785.532.6735.

BIG 12 TELECONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference hosts individual media teleconferences with each Big 12 head coach. The briefings are conducted each Monday from the league headquarters in Dallas, Texas, and are available to local and national media. Contact the Big 12 Sports Information Office at 214.742.1212 for details on participating in the teleconference.

K-STATE SPORTS NETWORK

WYATT THOMPSON
Voice of the Wildcats

Play-by-play announcer Wyatt Thompson, a native Kansan, serves as the anchor of the Kansas State Sports Network and returns for his fifth season behind the mike as "Voice of the Wildcats".

K-State's Director of Sportscasting and Public Relations, Thompson also serves as host of the Ron Prince and Bob Huggins Shows on television and joins Prince and Huggins on weekly call-in shows on the radio K-State Sports Network. In addition, he is involved in various Catbacker Club, alumni and athletic department functions, frequently serving as a keynote speaker.

Thompson came to Kansas State from Colorado State, where he was the play-by-play voice for CSU's football and men's basketball teams for five years.

An accomplished professional, Thompson won the Colorado Broadcasting Association award for best play-by-play in 2000. In addition to his duties at CSU, Thompson was also a sports reporter for Clear Channel Denver, the Countdown to Kickoff host for the Denver Broncos on KOA Radio and hosted the Zone Sports Insiders show on 760 The Zone in Denver.

Thompson started his broadcasting career in 1976 as a sportscaster for various high schools, colleges and universities in Kansas, spending time at stations in Great Bend and Abilene. He worked for KAYS radio and television in Hays, Kan., from 1985 until 1989, where he was the play-by-play voice at Fort Hays State. While in Kansas, he was recognized with the Kansas Association of Broadcasters Play-by-Play Award in 1982 and the Oscar Stauffer Sportscaster of the Year Award in 1989.

STAN WEBER
Analyst

Providing the color analysis is former Kansas State quarterback Stan Weber. Now in his 20th year in the booth, Weber holds the second longest tenure for a Kansas State radio broadcaster behind only Dev Nelson, who called K-State games for 25 years.

In addition to his duties with the Wildcat football broadcasts, Weber also provides color commentary for K-State men's and women's basketball games for both radio and television.

Weber originally hails from Goddard, Kan., and was named Male Athlete of the Year and MVP of the 1980 Kansas Shrine Bowl All-Star Game by the Wichita Eagle as a prep.

At Kansas State, Weber served as captain of the 1984 team and led the Wildcats in rushing while earning academic All-America honors from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

Weber also held many of the K-State quarterback rushing records until the Michael Bishop and Ell Roberson eras and was once named Big Eight Player of the Week after rushing for 113 yards vs. No. 1 Nebraska.

Weber, who graduated magna cum laude, received his bachelor's and master's degrees in accountancy from Kansas State and currently serves as Vice President - CFO of Tower Properties in Kansas City, in addition to his broadcast duties.

Weber and his wife, Nancy (Freshnock), a former K-State cheerleader, have four children (Brittani, Stanton, McKenzi and Landry) and reside in Overland Park, Kan.

MATT WALTERS
Sideline Reporter and Postgame Host

An 11-year veteran of K-State baseball broadcasts and host of the popular 'Powercat Gameday' football pre-game show on KMAN since 1998, Walters also serves as the voice of K-State women's basketball at Bramlage Coliseum as the program's public address anouncer.

A 1992 graduate of Kansas State and native of Russell, Kan., Walters is in his fourth year as Program Director of KMAN, and in his ninth year at the station overall.

Along with overseeing everything that goes on with the station, Walters also host 'The Game,' a drive-time sports talk show that airs on KMAN, and serves is the play-by-play voice of Manhattan High School football and boys basketball teams.

KANSAS STATE FOOTBALL ON RADIO

Wildcat football is on the air! The 2006 football season marks year of the K-State Sports Network, a joint venture of Kansas State Athletics and Learfield Communications. Learfield Communications is a national leader in collegiate sports broadcasting and marketing, owning the rights to 19 of the nation's top collegiate programs. The 2005-06 season will be the first year of a 10-year partnership between Learfield and K-State Athletics that grants K-State Sports Properties the exclusive marketing and broadcast rights for all Wildcat athletic teams.

The network distributes its digital-quality audio stream via satellite to affiliates across the state of Kansas.

But football is just the beginning. The network also provides play-by-play coverage of K-State men's and women's basketball, volleyball and baseball. Weekly coaches shows for football, men's basketball and women's basketball suppliment the live event coverage.
